REDS PINNED DOWN BY AIR BLOWS

Jan Smuts, 80, South African Leader, Dead

Statesman Ill Since Last May

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Sept. 11 (AP)—Jan Christiaan Smuts, a statesman of world stature and the Union of South Africa's most famous soldier, died tonight at the age of 80.

The bearded field marshal who twice was prime minister of South Africa and a British empire leader in two world wars, had been ill since May 28, four days after nationwide celebrations of his 80th birthday.

A back ailment first put him to bed, and he later developed pneumonia. He was barely recovered from the attack when he was stricken by influenza. His doctors said a few days ago he was showing the effects of heart strain and post-influenza depression.

Wrote U.N. Charter Preamble

He finally gave up his leadership of the United Party less than three months ago after a lifetime of arduous political, military, scientific and literary activity.

In his career he had authored the concept of the British Commonwealth of Nations and the preamble of the United Nations Charter, and shared in launching the old League of Nations.

A guerrilla leader of Boer rebels in the South African war with the British in 1899-1902, Smuts became a lieutenant general in the British army in the First World War and led British and South African forces in the successful campaign against the Kaiser's forces in East Africa.

Lost Election In 1948

In the Second World War, he again led his country to the side of the Allies. He became a field marshal in the British army in 1941.

In 1948, he lost in a general election to the nationalists of Daniel F. Malan and resigned as prime minister.

His last political defeat was Aug. 30 when the nationalists won all six seats at stake in the South African parliament and 16 out of 18 local legislative seats in the Territory of Southwest Africa. It was the first election for representatives of the union parliament in which Southwest Africa had participated. The territory previously had been administered as a mandate from the League of Nations.

North Korean Nurse Trained In Manchuria

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA, Sept. 11 (AP) — An attractive North Korean nurse, captured Aug. 25 north of Taegu said today she was one of about 200 women doctors and nurses who were trained in Communist Manchuria and sent to North Korea before the invasion of the south began.

Miss Chae Kum Byung, 19, interviewed in a prison stockade, said she was trained at the 23rd Field Hospital of the Chinese red army in Manchuria.

Big 3 Diplomats Slated To Meet This Afternoon

U. S. Troop Promise Pleases Schuman

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP) — Robert Schuman, French foreign minister, today called President Truman's proposal to send more American troops to Europe an important contribution to the common defense of that continent. He indicated France is prepared to make a comparable contribution.

Schuman and other top diplomats arriving for conferences of the foreign ministers of France, United States and Britain this week showed evident pleasure at the President's decision.

Defense Tops Agenda

The question of a strong build-up of Western Europe's defense forces by next July 1 will have top priority at the Big Three talks in the closely-guarded towers of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Foreign ministers of other North Atlantic pact countries will join the talks Friday and Saturday and the high officials will attend the opening of the fifth U. N. General Assembly Sept. 19.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson held a lively exchange of views in Washington with members of the Congressional Foreign Relations Committee before leaving for New York. Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Senate committee, said members present at the closed-door meeting agreed unanimously to pledge support to the "general line which the Secretary will follow" in the Big Three conference.

German Arming Is Issue

Ernest Bevin, British foreign secretary, is scheduled to arrive on the liner Queen Mary during the night and disembark tomorrow morning. The first meeting of Acheson, Schuman and Bevin and a host of advisors is expected around 2 p. m. (E.S.T.) tomorrow.

One of the issues presumably to be discussed is whether Western Germany should be rearmed. The United States feels the defense of Western Europe cannot be accomplished without use of German manpower.

Kefauver Urges Demo Official To Resign

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP) — Chairman Kefauver (D-Tenn) of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee called tonight for the resignation of Morris A. Shenker, St. Louis attorney, as a member of the Democratic Finance Committee.

Kefauver said in a statement that Shenker's connection as attorney with some persons under investigation by the group might be "embarrassing" to the Democratic Party.

At the same time, the committee chairman said there is no reason for the group to investigate Shenker, as demanded earlier in the day by Sen. Wiley (R-Wis), a member of the group.

Gypsy Rose Lee Denies She Is 'Associate Of Traitors'

CHICAGO, Sept. 11 (AP) — Edward Clamage, chairman of the Illinois American Legion's anti-subversive committee, said today Gypsy Rose Lee is "an entertainer who was reported to be a dear and close associate of the traitors of our country." The strip teaser denied the charge.

Clamage, a Chicago florist, made the statement on the floor of the Illinois Legion convention.

In New York, Miss Lee said:

"I am not now and never have been a member of the communist party, a fellow-traveler, sympathizer, or anyone of the associated brand. x x x

"I abhor totalitarianism whether red, brown or black and their treacherous methods of guilt by smear and without trial.

"This may be all right for Russia but, I hope, not for us."

Miss Lee is scheduled to be mistress of ceremonies of an audience participation show over the ABC network next Saturday night.

Clamage said, "I want to make an appeal to the sponsors of the program to determine whether or not she is appearing as a true and loyal American or if she's going to be serving her communist friends."

He said he had telegraphed the president of ABC asking what he intended to do about the program.

Train Crash Death Toll Rises To 33

PRR's 'Spirit' Rams Stalled Troop Train

Workers Continue Probing Wreckage

COSHOCTON, O., Sept. 11 (AP)—Three more bodies were found under an overturned Diesel locomotive tonight, raising still higher the death toll in the collision of a passenger train and troop train.

The figure now is 33 dead, and it may run higher.

Fourteen hours after the Pennsylvania Railroad's "Spirit of St. Louis" ploughed into the rear of a stalled train carrying 700 soldiers, giant cranes and workers with steel-cutting torches still probed the wreckage.

Brig. Gen. Francis G. Brink, commanding officer of the Ohio Military District, said that three—possibly four bodies—were discovered when a crane lifted "The Spirit's" locomotive off the debris of a troop-train car.

Bodies Badly Mangled

The bodies, he explained, were so badly mangled it was difficult to ascertain how many actually had lain under the locomotive since the wreck occurred in the fog at 5:15 a. m. (EST).

Still 11 other bodies, laid out in the Coshocton Armory, remained unidentified for the same reason.

Most of the dead were members of the Pennsylvania National Guard, who were en route to Camp Atterbury, Ind., to enter the Army.

Before the wrecking crane lifted the locomotive, Gen. Brink had announced that 30 men were known dead and three or four remained unaccounted for.

Although about 40 soldiers received hospital treatment, only 27 remained hospitalized tonight.

Contrary to earlier reports, the Army said only three were in critical condition.

Some Jumped Before Crash

The dead will be removed to the Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Armory probably tomorrow. Most of the victims were guardsmen from the Wilkes-Barre and Carbondale, Pa., vicinities.

"We saw the Spirit of St. Louis about a mile away," related Lt. Col. Frank Townend, Dallas, Pa., commander of the troop train. "We thought it would surely see the flares and lantern and stop.

"Although it did no good, we shouted and waved our arms until we could see there was going to be a crash."

Col. Townsend and a group of crewmen jumped down an embankment as the Spirit's Diesel locomotive hit the rear coach of the 20-car troop train.

The soldiers aboard were not so fortunate. Most of them were sleeping, a few had been awakened for breakfast.

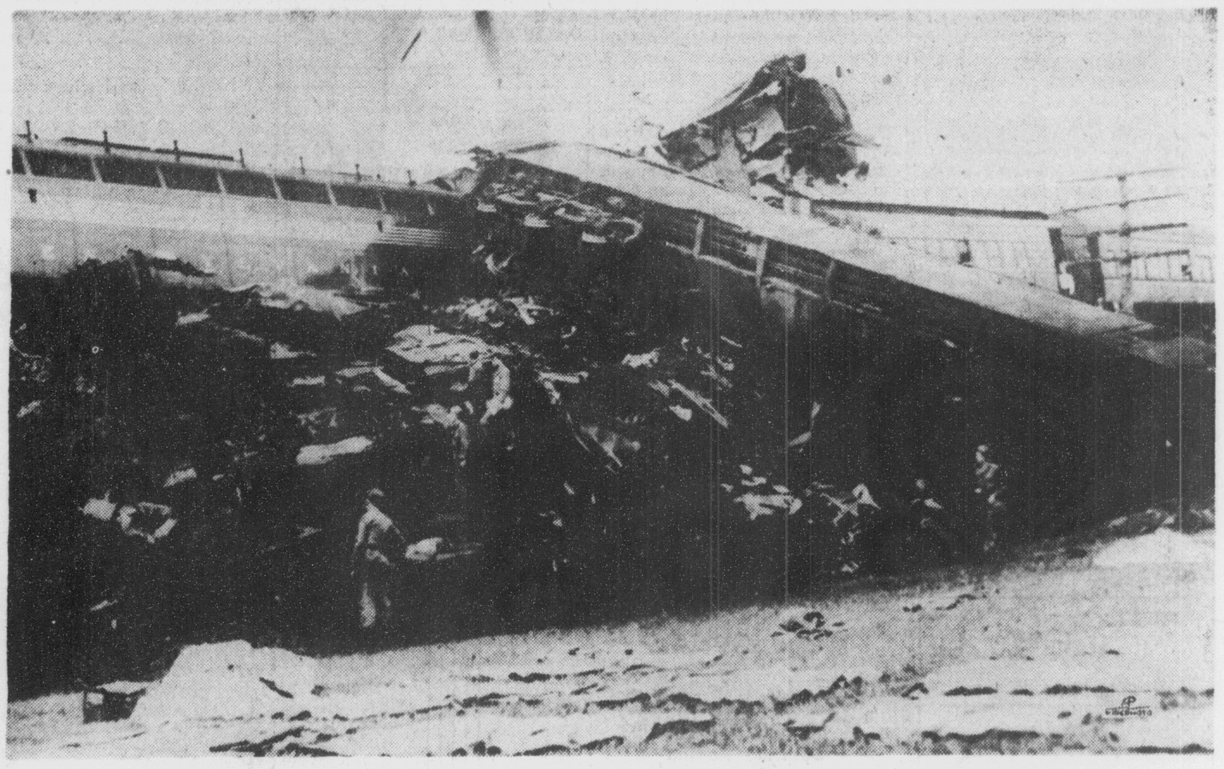
The huge Diesel, pulling 17 cars, knocked the rear coach into the air, smashing the second car aside and ploughed into the third.

Symington Warns U. S. Is In Grave Danger

BALTIMORE, Sept. 11 (AP) — Mobilization Coordinator W. Stuart Symington warned today the United States is in "as great a danger as it has ever been in history."

This means higher taxes are imminent, he added, but there is not yet any "reason to strait-jacket the American workman and housewife."

In his first public remarks since President Truman last Saturday named him head of the nation's economic mobilization program, Symington spoke to 800 persons at a Baltimore Association of Commerce luncheon.



Where At Least 33 Died In Train Collision

At least 33 persons were killed yesterday when the Pennsylvania Railroad's "Spirit of St Louis" ploughed into the rear of a stalled train carrying 700 soldiers near Coshocton, O. Above is a general ground view of the wreck scene. Most of the dead were members of the Pennsylvania National Guard en route to Camp Atterbury, Ind., to enter the Army.

Soviet Demand That U.N. Hear Communist China Is Rejected

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 11 (AP) — By a margin of one vote, the United Nations Security Council tonight turned down a Russian demand that Red China be invited here to back up its charges of aggression against the United States.

The Peiping regime has filed two such charges: One alleging U. S. air forces have invaded Manchuria and dropped bombs, the other that the United States invaded Chinese territory when it sent the 7th Fleet to patrol the Strait of Formosa.

Chief U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin labelled these charges "a trick" inspired by Russia to divert attention from the real aggressor in Korea. The move to invite Red China to send a representative here, Austin said, was another Soviet attempt "to smuggle such a representative into the Security Council under any guise."

The vote on the Soviet proposal was 6 to 3, with two abstentions. Lining up with Russia were Britain, France, Norway, Yugoslavia and India. The United States, Nationalist China and Cuba voted against the proposal. Ecuador and Egypt abstained. Seven affirmative votes are required for council action.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jacob A. Malik already had been defeated several times since last January in his battle to oust Nationalist China and seat Red China in the U. N. This time, however, he had insisted the invitation would be only for participation in the council's debate on Red China's complaints.

Both Austin and Nationalist China's T. F. Tsiang vigorously challenged this. They argued that in reality Malik was trying to get the Chinese communists here to stay.

Steel Industry Prodded To Step Up Expansion

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (AP) — Government mobilizers of industry, seeking to supply a $30,000,000,000 a-year fighting machine without heavy slashes in civilian output, prodded the giant steel industry today to speed expansion of its capacity.

The nudge, applied by Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, marked the first step in the industrial phases of the new war mobilization program—and put initial emphasis at least on greater total output rather than a cutback in civilian goods production.

It also indicated President Truman may quickly use authority given him by Congress in the home front controls bill to lend private industry the cash—up to $2,000,000,000—to enlarge facilities for defense production.

The day's mobilization program developments included:

1. The Budget Bureau notified government agencies how much each must share in a $550,000,000 saving Congress ordered made out of a single $36,000,000,000 appropriation for government operations this fiscal year.

2. Federal Reserve Board and government housing officials began conferring on prospective restrictions to be applied to mortgage credit as a followup to controls on consumer installment buying already ordered effective Sept. 18.

3. James K. Knudson, 44, Utah Republican and youngest member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, was designated by the ICC to become boss of transportation under the Defense Production Act. He will have jurisdiction over Railroad, motor carrier and inland waterway transportation.

4. The National Production Authority newly set up in the Commerce Department formally got a boss from industry, William Henry Harrison, 58 - yea r- old telephone company executive, who took his oath from Secretary Sawyer.

'No Compelling Reason' For War, Einstein Says

DENVER, Sept. 11 (AP) — Albert Einstein told the 46th annual convention of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (ind) today "there is no compelling reason" for war between this country and Russia.

The famous scientist, in a telegram to Secretary-Treasurer M. E. Travis, said.

"I share with you the conviction that everybody and every group should do their utmost to help avoid the catastrophe our human world is facing."

Siren Ban Irks New York Firemen

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—New York City's firemen went without their sirens today and didn't like it a bit.

The ban on fire, police and ambulance sirens was ordered by civil defense officials who ordered them sounded only in case of an air raid alert.

It became effective today.

"You almost have to stop for lights now," said Lt. Hugh Lewis after his hook and ladder company rolled to a fire. "Drivers hear our bells for maybe half a block ahead. A siren is heard from two to three blocks.

"A siren commands respect. Bells don't mean anything to the public."

Tydings Voices Soviet Strategy

BALTIMORE, Spt. 11 (AP)—Sen. Tydings (D-Md) said tonight Russia "quite obviously" seeks to have United Nations forces concentrated in Korea so that the Soviets "would be free to commence the conquest of Europe."

"It is plain," he said, "that the Russians have been urging Red China to join with the North Koreans in attacking the troops of the United States and other United Nations forces resisting aggression."

Tydings, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, made those statements in a campaign speech prepared for delivery over a network of Maryland and Washington radio and television stations. He is candidate for renomination for a fifth term in the September 18 Maryland primary election.

He said that "if, as the Russians hope, the Chinese communists join the North Koreans we shall be compelled to make decisions of the gravest nature.

"We would then be confronted with red troops numbered by the millions. No one can measure the limits of the war if Red China enters the Korean struggle."

Senate Debates Red Curb Bills

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Senate headed into a long night session tonight in the final round of debate on two wide-apart measures for communist control in time of national emergency.

The last echoes of argument were expected to die at midnight, with the chamber scheduled to begin voting at noon EST tomorrow.

The bills are:

1. A big catch-all measure by Sen. McCarran (D-Nev). It would require the registration of communists and foreign-trained agents, and would set up far broader curbs than President Truman requested.

2. A substitute by Sen. Kilgore (D-WVa), authorizing the government to round up communists and throw them into interment camps in time of war or other emergency.

Passage of the McCarran bill was generally regarded as almost certain, perhaps by a 4-to-1 margin.

Some lawmakers said privately they expect Mr. Truman to fire a quick veto message to Congress if the McCarran measure is approved.

Ex-Spanish Premier Dies

MADRID, Spain, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Count of Romanones, Spanish political leader who was three times premier under the monarchy, died at his Madrid home tonight.

Hope For Miners Ebbs

NEW CUMNOCK, Scotland, Sept. 11(AP)—Officials gave up all hope tonight that 13 men entombed in the Knockshinnoch mine since Thursday's cave-in still might be alive.

A total of 116 other miners trapped on the 720-foot level were rescued Saturday and Sunday.

Republicans Run Up Commanding Leads In Maine

[By The Associated Press]

Three congressmen and a governor, all Republicans, ran up commanding leads for reelection in yesterday's Maine election — the nation's first.

Asiatic policies of the Truman administration provided the top issue in the balloting.

More than a fourth of the state's precincts were reported. Most of the unofficially tabulated vote was from rural areas, but there were a few city votes included.

In 240 of the state's 623 precincts Gov. Frederick G. Payne had 27,172 votes and Earl S. Grant (D) 11,570.

Rep. Robert Hale polled 5,733 to 3,587 for Miss Lucia M. Cormier (D) in 38 of the First District's 154 precincts.

In the Second District it was 11,734 for Rep. Charles P. Nelson and 4,029 for John J. Maloney (D) in 81 of 209 precincts.

Rep. Frank Fellows got 9,066 and John V. Keenan (D) 4,104 in 121 of the 260 Third District precincts.

Leland B. Currier, States Rights Democratic candidate, early became a negligible factor in the gubernatoral race. He had only 60 votes in the first 158 precincts reported.

All the state's 16 counties were included in the reported vote.

While Maine served up a preview of the November general elections, seven other states vote today in primaries determining major party candidates for five Senate and 41 House seats, and six governorships.

They are New Hampshire, Arizona, Vermont, Colorado, Washington, Michigan and Minnesota.

Maryland's primary election, originally scheduled for yesterday, was put over until next Monday to avoid conflict with the Jewish holidays.

Battle Starvation

NEW DELHI, India, Sept. 11 (AP) —Press dispatches from Madras said today a half million people were struggling against starvation in Travancore and Cochin Provinces in Madras states because they had been without government-supplied rations for the past two weeks. Children were reported fainting in the streets at Trivandrum, the capital.

GBS Undergoes Operation After Breaking Leg In Fall

The Irish-born sage and playwright had a tumble in his secluded hedge-hidden garden at nearby Ayot St. Lawrence yesterday. He apparently lay helpless for a short time until his servants found him.

The extent of his injuries was not at first known. But X-rays today disclosed a fracture of the left femur, or thigh bone. He was brought to the hospital here in an ambulance.

After the operation a nurse said his condition was "good." He was attended by three physicians.

The kind of hospital patient Shaw might be was indicated in 1948 when he was asked to send a message to the opening of a nurses' training school. He replied:

"Do people really need to be told that nurse training is important? What they really need to be told is that nurses are at present trained to kill their patients by untimely washings and unwholesome diets."

North Koreans Open Barrage In Taegu Area

Lull Descends On Entire War Front

TOKYO, Tuesday, Sept. 12 (AP)—Intense artillery and aerial poundings kept reinforced Korean reds pinned down today in positions north of Taegu.

The Reds sent in more troops and opened an artillery barrage, suggesting a new offensive in all this sector where the communists have massed more than 40,000 troops.

But a U. S. First Cavalry Division spokesman said "we really kept his (the enemy's) head down all (last) night."

The spokesman added that the communists have not moved from their positions, some only seven miles north of Taegu.

Elements of the U. S. First Cavalry Division counterattacked Red Korean troops holding a hill seven miles north of Taegu.

An hour after the assault began a spokesman said the troopers were moving ahead "satisfactorily."

Earlier an Army spokesman said the entire United Nations front in Korea last night was the quietest it had been "in a long time."

Far East Air Force said fighter planes were off in good weather early today, keeping up around-the-clock aerial assaults that hit a record 670 sorties Monday.

Strive To Trap 3,000 Reds

This massive effort was by U. S. Air Force planes of all types, Royal Australian Air Force fighters and U. S. Marine fighters under operational control of the Fifth Air Force. The previous high, FEAF said, was 625 sorties in a single day.

Fifth Air Force planes flew more than 400 sorties Monday in close support of United Nations ground forces along the battle line and on Red supply routes just behind the front. They concentrated on the Taegu area.

At the east coast end of the northern front, United Nations forces were striving to seal a trap around an estimated 3,000 Reds who had tried to surround an air base six miles southeast of red-held Pohang.

Associated Press Correspondent Bem Price reported that a hitherto secret U. N. task force was making strenuous efforts to seal off the southern end against these reds between Angang and Pohang.

South Korean forces already are reported to have slammed shut the trap at the north end.

Yanks Recapture Ridge

U. N. forces hold positions within one mile south of the port city of Pohang. Angang, also held by the reds, is nine miles west and slightly south of Pohang.

The only positional change of consequence reported this morning along the battle perimeter was at the south end where the U. S. 25th Division is defending positions 35 miles west of Pusan.

Associated Press Correspondent Stan Swinton reported that the Americans early today recaptured a ridge from numerically superior communists four miles south of the confluence of the Nam and Naktong Rivers.

The ridge, which commands one of the best crossing points along the Nam, was taken by the reds last night after they had stormed it three times.

Gale Winds Lash Northeast Coast

BOSTON, Sept. 11 (AP) — Gale-force winds up to 65 miles an hour tonight slapped the southern New England coast as residents girded for an Atlantic hurricane they hoped would stay out at sea.

The last word from the Weather Bureau was that the hurricane would pass "just a short distance east of Nantucket around midnight (EST)."

Even as local and state officials set up hurricane protective measures in costal areas of the northeast states, rain-laden winds caused extensive damage in some communities.

An Edison Light Company official said that most of Brockton, Mass., was in darkness for several hours as falling trees tore down miles of utility wires.

Sections of New Bedford, Mass., were also in darkness for some time because of the storm. Light company officials said the strong wind drove rainwater into switches and connections.

More than 25 additional Massachusetts state troopers were assigned to Cape Cod from other parts of the state by Public Safety Commissioner Daniel I. Murphy

The dead will be removed to the Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Armory probably tomorrow. Most of the victims were guardsmen from the Wilkes-Barre and Carbondale, Pa., vicinities.

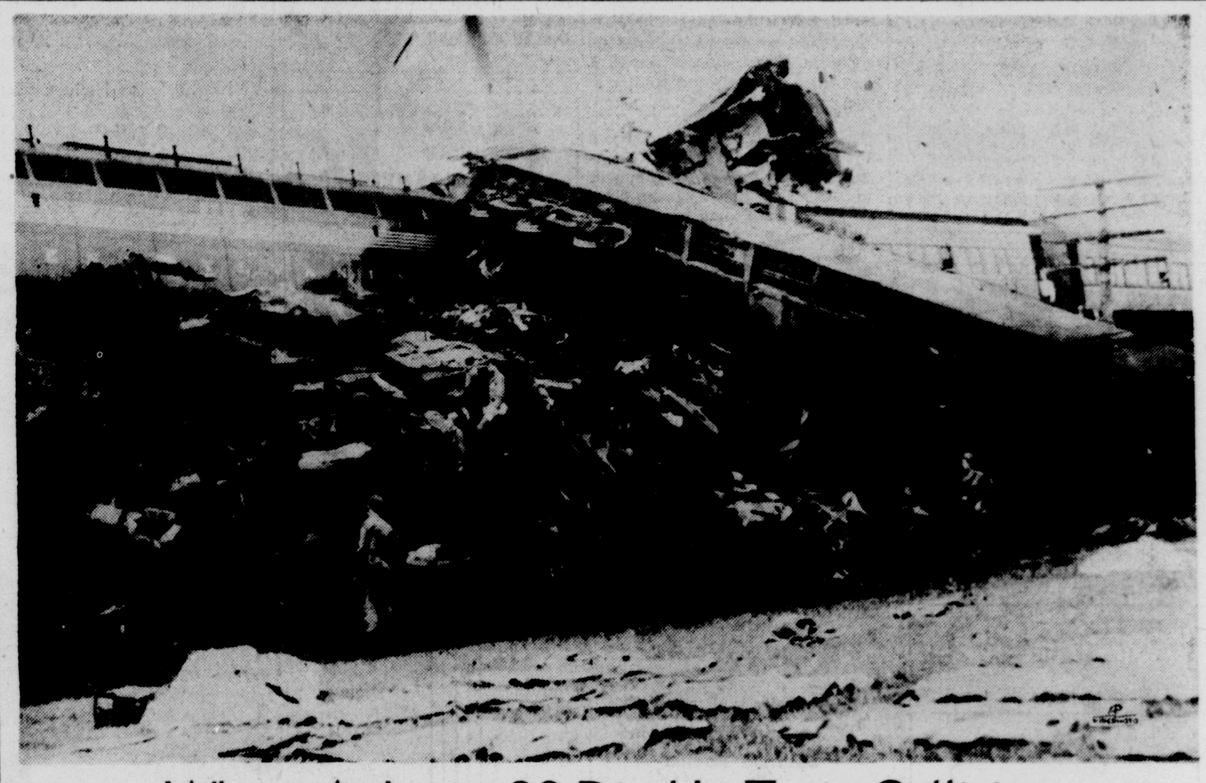
"We saw the Spirit of St. Louis about a mile away," related Lt. Col. Frank Townend, Dallas, Pa., commander of the troop train. "We thought it would surely see the flares and lantern and stop.

"Although it did no good, we shouted and waved our arms until we could see there was going to be a crash."

Col. Townsend and a group of crewmen jumped down an embankment as the Spirit's Diesel locomotive hit the rear coach of the 20-car troop train.

The soldiers aboard were not so fortunate. Most of them were sleeping, a few had been awakened for breakfast.

The huge Diesel, pulling 17 cars, knocked the rear coach into the air, smashing the second car aside and ploughed into the third.



Where At Least 33 Died In Train Collision

At least 33 persons were killed yesterday when the Pennsylvania Railroad's "Spirit of St Louis" ploughed into the rear of a stalled train carrying 700 soldiers near Coshocton, O. Above is a general ground view of the wreck scene. Most of the dead were members of the Pennsylvania National Guard en route to Camp Atterbury, Ind., to enter the Army.

Symington Warns U. S. Is In Grave Danger

BALTIMORE, Sept. 11 (AP) — Mobilization Coordinator W. Stuart Symington warned today the United States is in "as great a danger as it has ever been in history."

This means higher taxes are imminent, he added, but there is not yet any "reason to strait-jacket the American workman and housewife."

In his first public remarks since President Truman last Saturday named him head of the nation's economic mobilization program, Symington spoke to 800 persons at a Baltimore Association of Commerce luncheon.

Gypsy Rose Lee Denies She Is 'Associate Of Traitors'

CHICAGO, Sept. 11 (AP) — Edward Clamage, chairman of the Illinois American Legion's anti-subversive committee, said today Gypsy Rose Lee is "an entertainer who was reported to be a dear and close associate of the traitors of our country." The strip teaser denied the charge.

Clamage, a Chicago florist, made the statement on the floor of the Illinois Legion convention.

In New York, Miss Lee said:

"I am not now and never have been a member of the communist party, a fellow-traveler, sympathizer, or anyone of the associated brand. x x x

"I abhor totalitarianism whether red, brown or black and their treacherous methods of guilt by smear and without trial.

"This may be all right for Russia but, I hope, not for us."

Miss Lee is scheduled to be mistress of ceremonies of an audience participation show over the ABC network next Saturday night.

Clamage said, "I want to make an appeal to the sponsors of the program to determine whether or not she is appearing as a true and loyal American or if she's going to be serving her communist friends."

He said he had telegraphed the president of ABC asking what he intended to do about the program.

Soviet Demand That U.N. Hear Communist China Is Rejected

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 11 (AP) — By a margin of one vote, the United Nations Security Council tonight turned down a Russian demand that Red China be invited here to back up its charges of aggression against the United States.

The Peiping regime has filed two such charges: One alleging U. S. air forces have invaded Manchuria and dropped bombs, the other that the United States invaded Chinese territory when it sent the 7th Fleet to patrol the Strait of Formosa.

Chief U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin labelled these charges "a trick" inspired by Russia to divert attention from the real aggressor in Korea. The move to invite Red China to send a representative here, Austin said, was another Soviet attempt "to smuggle such a representative into the Security Council under any guise."

The vote on the Soviet proposal was 6 to 3, with two abstentions. Lining up with Russia were Britain, France, Norway, Yugoslavia and India. The United States, Nationalist China and Cuba voted against the proposal. Ecuador and Egypt abstained. Seven affirmative votes are required for council action.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jacob A. Malik already had been defeated several times since last January in his battle to oust Nationalist China and seat Red China in the U. N. This time, however, he had insisted the invitation would be only for participation in the council's debate on Red China's complaints.

Both Austin and Nationalist China's T. F. Tsiang vigorously challenged this. They argued that in reality Malik was trying to get the Chinese communists here to stay.

Steel Industry Prodded To Step Up Expansion

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (AP) — Government mobilizers of industry, seeking to supply a $30,000,000,000 a-year fighting machine without heavy slashes in civilian output, prodded the giant steel industry today to speed expansion of its capacity.

The nudge, applied by Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, marked the first step in the industrial phases of the new war mobilization program—and put initial emphasis at least on greater total output rather than a cutback in civilian goods production.

It also indicated President Truman may quickly use authority given him by Congress in the home front controls bill to lend private industry the cash—up to $2,000,000,000—to enlarge facilities for defense production.

The day's mobilization program developments included:

1. The Budget Bureau notified government agencies how much each must share in a $550,000,000 saving Congress ordered made out of a single $36,000,000,000 appropriation for government operations this fiscal year.

2. Federal Reserve Board and government housing officials began conferring on prospective restrictions to be applied to mortgage credit as a followup to controls on consumer installment buying already ordered effective Sept. 18.

3. James K. Knudson, 44, Utah Republican and youngest member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, was designated by the ICC to become boss of transportation under the Defense Production Act. He will have jurisdiction over Railroad, motor carrier and inland waterway transportation.

4. The National Production Authority newly set up in the Commerce Department formally got a boss from industry, William Henry Harrison, 58 - yea r- old telephone company executive, who took his oath from Secretary Sawyer.

'No Compelling Reason' For War, Einstein Says

DENVER, Sept. 11 (AP) — Albert Einstein told the 46th annual convention of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (ind) today "there is no compelling reason" for war between this country and Russia.

The famous scientist, in a telegram to Secretary-Treasurer M. E. Travis, said.

"I share with you the conviction that everybody and every group should do their utmost to help avoid the catastrophe our human world is facing."

Senate Debates Red Curb Bills

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Senate headed into a long night session tonight in the final round of debate on two wide-apart measures for communist control in time of national emergency.

The last echoes of argument were expected to die at midnight, with the chamber scheduled to begin voting at noon EST tomorrow.

The bills are:

1. A big catch-all measure by Sen. McCarran (D-Nev). It would require the registration of communists and foreign-trained agents, and would set up far broader curbs than President Truman requested.

2. A substitute by Sen. Kilgore (D-WVa), authorizing the government to round up communists and throw them into interment camps in time of war or other emergency.

Passage of the McCarran bill was generally regarded as almost certain, perhaps by a 4-to-1 margin.

Some lawmakers said privately they expect Mr. Truman to fire a quick veto message to Congress if the McCarran measure is approved.

Ex-Spanish Premier Dies

MADRID, Spain, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Count of Romanones, Spanish political leader who was three times premier under the monarchy, died at his Madrid home tonight.

Siren Ban Irks New York Firemen

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—New York City's firemen went without their sirens today and didn't like it a bit.

The ban on fire, police and ambulance sirens was ordered by civil defense officials who ordered them sounded only in case of an air raid alert.

It became effective today.

"You almost have to stop for lights now," said Lt. Hugh Lewis after his hook and ladder company rolled to a fire. "Drivers hear our bells for maybe half a block ahead. A siren is heard from two to three blocks.

"A siren commands respect. Bells don't mean anything to the public."

Tydings Voices Soviet Strategy

BALTIMORE, Spt. 11 (AP)—Sen. Tydings (D-Md) said tonight Russia "quite obviously" seeks to have United Nations forces concentrated in Korea so that the Soviets "would be free to commence the conquest of Europe."

"It is plain," he said, "that the Russians have been urging Red China to join with the North Koreans in attacking the troops of the United States and other United Nations forces resisting aggression."

Tydings, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, made those statements in a campaign speech prepared for delivery over a network of Maryland and Washington radio and television stations. He is candidate for renomination for a fifth term in the September 18 Maryland primary election.

He said that "if, as the Russians hope, the Chinese communists join the North Koreans we shall be compelled to make decisions of the gravest nature.

"We would then be confronted with red troops numbered by the millions. No one can measure the limits of the war if Red China enters the Korean struggle."

Hope For Miners Ebbs

NEW CUMNOCK, Scotland, Sept. 11(AP)—Officials gave up all hope tonight that 13 men entombed in the Knockshinnoch mine since Thursday's cave-in still might be alive.

A total of 116 other miners trapped on the 720-foot level were rescued Saturday and Sunday.

Republicans Run Up Commanding Leads In Maine

[By The Associated Press]

Three congressmen and a governor, all Republicans, ran up commanding leads for reelection in yesterday's Maine election — the nation's first.

Asiatic policies of the Truman administration provided the top issue in the balloting.

More than a fourth of the state's precincts were reported. Most of the unofficially tabulated vote was from rural areas, but there were a few city votes included.

In 240 of the state's 623 precincts Gov. Frederick G. Payne had 27,172 votes and Earl S. Grant (D) 11,570.

Rep. Robert Hale polled 5,733 to 3,587 for Miss Lucia M. Cormier (D) in 38 of the First District's 154 precincts.

In the Second District it was 11,734 for Rep. Charles P. Nelson and 4,029 for John J. Maloney (D) in 81 of 209 precincts.

Rep. Frank Fellows got 9,066 and John V. Keenan (D) 4,104 in 121 of the 260 Third District precincts.

Leland B. Currier, States Rights Democratic candidate, early became a negligible factor in the gubernatoral race. He had only 60 votes in the first 158 precincts reported.

All the state's 16 counties were included in the reported vote.

While Maine served up a preview of the November general elections, seven other states vote today in primaries determining major party candidates for five Senate and 41 House seats, and six governorships.

They are New Hampshire, Arizona, Vermont, Colorado, Washington, Michigan and Minnesota.

Maryland's primary election, originally scheduled for yesterday, was put over until next Monday to avoid conflict with the Jewish holidays.

Battle Starvation

NEW DELHI, India, Sept. 11 (AP) —Press dispatches from Madras said today a half million people were struggling against starvation in Travancore and Cochin Provinces in Madras states because they had been without government-supplied rations for the past two weeks. Children were reported fainting in the streets at Trivandrum, the capital.

The Irish-born sage and playwright had a tumble in his secluded hedge-hidden garden at nearby Ayot St. Lawrence yesterday. He apparently lay helpless for a short time until his servants found him.

The extent of his injuries was not at first known. But X-rays today disclosed a fracture of the left femur, or thigh bone. He was brought to the hospital here in an ambulance.

After the operation a nurse said his condition was "good." He was attended by three physicians.

The kind of hospital patient Shaw might be was indicated in 1948 when he was asked to send a message to the opening of a nurses' training school. He replied:

"Do people really need to be told that nurse training is important? What they really need to be told is that nurses are at present trained to kill their patients by untimely washings and unwholesome diets."

North Koreans Open Barrage In Taegu Area

Lull Descends On Entire War Front

TOKYO, Tuesday, Sept. 12 (AP)—Intense artillery and aerial poundings kept reinforced Korean reds pinned down today in positions north of Taegu.

The Reds sent in more troops and opened an artillery barrage, suggesting a new offensive in all this sector where the communists have massed more than 40,000 troops.

But a U. S. First Cavalry Division spokesman said "we really kept his (the enemy's) head down all (last) night."

The spokesman added that the communists have not moved from their positions, some only seven miles north of Taegu.

Elements of the U. S. First Cavalry Division counterattacked Red Korean troops holding a hill seven miles north of Taegu.

An hour after the assault began a spokesman said the troopers were moving ahead "satisfactorily."

Earlier an Army spokesman said the entire United Nations front in Korea last night was the quietest it had been "in a long time."

Far East Air Force said fighter planes were off in good weather early today, keeping up around-the-clock aerial assaults that hit a record 670 sorties Monday.

Strive To Trap 3,000 Reds

This massive effort was by U. S. Air Force planes of all types, Royal Australian Air Force fighters and U. S. Marine fighters under operational control of the Fifth Air Force. The previous high, FEAF said, was 625 sorties in a single day.

Fifth Air Force planes flew more than 400 sorties Monday in close support of United Nations ground forces along the battle line and on Red supply routes just behind the front. They concentrated on the Taegu area.

At the east coast end of the northern front, United Nations forces were striving to seal a trap around an estimated 3,000 Reds who had tried to surround an air base six miles southeast of red-held Pohang.

Associated Press Correspondent Bem Price reported that a hitherto secret U. N. task force was making strenuous efforts to seal off the southern end against these reds between Angang and Pohang.

South Korean forces already are reported to have slammed shut the trap at the north end.

Yanks Recapture Ridge

U. N. forces hold positions within one mile south of the port city of Pohang. Angang, also held by the reds, is nine miles west and slightly south of Pohang.

The only positional change of consequence reported this morning along the battle perimeter was at the south end where the U. S. 25th Division is defending positions 35 miles west of Pusan.

Associated Press Correspondent Stan Swinton reported that the Americans early today recaptured a ridge from numerically superior communists four miles south of the confluence of the Nam and Naktong Rivers.

The ridge, which commands one of the best crossing points along the Nam, was taken by the reds last night after they had stormed it three times.

Gale Winds Lash Northeast Coast

BOSTON, Sept. 11 (AP) — Gale-force winds up to 65 miles an hour tonight slapped the southern New England coast as residents girded for an Atlantic hurricane they hoped would stay out at sea.

The last word from the Weather Bureau was that the hurricane would pass "just a short distance east of Nantucket around midnight (EST)."

Even as local and state officials set up hurricane protective measures in costal areas of the northeast states, rain-laden winds caused extensive damage in some communities.

An Edison Light Company official said that most of Brockton, Mass., was in darkness for several hours as falling trees tore down miles of utility wires.

Sections of New Bedford, Mass., were also in darkness for some time because of the storm. Light company officials said the strong wind drove rainwater into switches and connections.

More than 25 additional Massachusetts state troopers were assigned to Cape Cod from other parts of the state by Public Safety Commissioner Daniel I. Murphy

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Kiddie stories: A little girl who had just been promoted to the fourth grade in Town School wept on the shoulder of her teacher of the third grade. "Oh, Miss Young," she sobbed, "why aren't you smart enough to teach me again this season?" An indignant lad of ten sought out the local rent control office and reported, "I rented a seat at the Bijou Theatre and was evicted without notice eight hours later." . . . The Sunday school teacher asked Willie, "If you had a large, good apple and a small, wormy one, and you were told to divide with your brother, which would you give him?" Willie answered, "Do you mean my big brother or my little one?"

GEORGE P. MAHONEY FOR GOVERNOR
Democratic Campaign Headquarters - Fifth Floor -
LORD BALTIMORE HOTEL
BALTIMORE 1, MARYLAND

Dear Friends:

In true democratic fashion--in the real American way--the issues in the gubernatorial primary campaign have been spoken and written without restraint and with complete freedom.

You--the voters of Maryland--have again witnessed and participated in democracy in action. It is your great American heritage to make the final decision in the selection of the man who will be the nominee of the Democratic Party for the high office of Governor of our FREE STATE OF MARYLAND.

It is now your privilege--indeed, your solemn obligation--to exercise your right to vote in the complete privacy of the voting booth in your precinct on September 18.

You and I stand for the same things--a drastic reduction in the present burdensome and ever-mounting taxes which are being levied against us, a business-like administration of the State's affairs without extravagance, waste and inefficiency, and without in any-wise impairing the growth and progress of our public school system, our public health and hospital service, the building and maintenance of adequate state roads, and with full financial aid to our counties and cities.

No country in the world guarantees to its citizens greater opportunity to determine the course of their own affairs. Every man, every woman--rich and poor alike, regardless of race, color or creed--shares equally the privilege to vote.

I urge you to use that privilege wisely.

September 18 is YOUR day!

Respectfully,

Every day, more and more smokers are finding the answer to cigarette mildness. They're making their own Camel 30-Day Mildness Tests . . . smoking Camels regularly for 30 days.

It's the sensible test! No short cuts, no tricks! No snap judgments based on one puff or one sniff. Not just a one-time, one-inhale comparison. Instead, you smoke Camels—and only Camels—giving them a real, day-after-day tryout. You judge Camel's choice tobaccos in your own "T-Zone"—the best proving ground for a cigarette. The Bill Of Rights Is Not Destroyed

A week ago tonight the Mayor and Council of Cumberland after listening to the objections of avowed communists passed unanimously a new city ordinance requiring that all communists in Cumberland register with the Police Department.

With this action The Cumberland News was in hearty accord.

Today, elsewhere in The Cumberland News, appears an advertisement attacking the ordinance as virtually destroying the Bill of Rights.

If you take the time to read the advertisement, you must realize that the Bill of Rights is not being destroyed; nor is there any danger in believing in freedom of speech, press and assembly.

The advertisement, with which the Cumberland News is in complete disagreement, is just an attempt at confusing the average loyal American citizen.

That freedom of the press does exist is evident with publication of this advertisement, wherein the sponsoring authority is taking advantage of that freedom to spread its misdirected propaganda before the American people.

How much better their efforts would be if they used their abilities to work for freedoms of speech, press and assembly in those countries where the news today is under strict censorship, and where any citizen is afraid to speak his mind for fear the secret police will have him in jail almost before his words have been spoken.

There are some who would take away these freedoms from the United States.

It is that minority which must be combatted with all of our vigor and ability. And, it is that minority which makes communist registration ordinances mandatory.

The Great Earth-Split

Save for one fortuitous event millions of years ago, the United States might today be living on the same continent as Russia, with no ocean barriers to provide at least some illusion of security. That, at least, follows from the theory propounded by German geophysicist Alfred Wegener in 1920, which now appears to be accepted by as many scientists in the field as still reject it.

To the layman, the theory is at least superficially plausible. When he takes a globe and looks at the coastline on opposite sides of the Atlantic, he can see that the contours "fit" amazingly well. So it looks reasonable to him that they were once united, that a great top-heavy land mass once broke apart and drifted off on a sea of basalt until the parts finally settled down in their present locations.

But there is plenty of opposition to this theory. Embattled professors all but came to blows over it at a British Association meeting in Birmingham the other day. When it was all over, the issue was put to a vote, but the result was so close neither side could claim a victory.

The pro-Wegener faction said Antarctica contains non-arctic fossils; that beetles, rodents and primitive reptiles in Africa and South America are in many respects too similar to explain without assuming the two continents were joined at some time. The anti-Wegener cohorts say the 10,000-foot layer of sediment in the Atlantic could never have accumulated since the time postulated for the great split.

Furthermore, they argued, the process would have buckled the continental shelf on the Pacific side of the Americas, which just didn't happen. The whole notion, they said, was just a waste of time.

This is one subject, it seems, on which the layman can have an opinion of his own, with as good a chance of being right as if he were an expert.

Cheap Insurance

Congress should act promptly and favorably upon J. Edgar Hoover's request for an extra appropriation of $6,000,000 for the Federal Bureau of Investigation. A rider could be attached to the appropriation ordering that the money be used to ferret out communist sympathizers in government departments and atomic and other defense projects.

The communists, of course, will not like the idea because the money is to be used to put them in their place and keep them there. According to Mr. Hoover there are at large in this country an estimated 12,000 "dangerous" enemies of the United States. If Congress places any value at all upon internal security, it had better give the FBI not only the funds to watch over them but the authority to clap them in jail in case of extreme emergency.

This is no time to be tender-hearted in treatment of those who would destroy the nation. Mr. Hoover, in asking for 835 additional agents and 1,218 new clerical workers, cites the fact that the complaints which the FBI is called upon to investigate have tripled in number since President Truman ordered intervention in Korea. He also discloses that many of the most energetic communists have gone underground or in hiding on farms. To keep an eye on them and to thwart their activities has therefore become an increasingly difficult job.

A small additional appropriation for the FBI will be cheap insurance, if not all of the money is spent looking for communists in the woods. Surely they have not all deserted Washington.

Pentagon Siesta

If the Senate watchdog committee is right, one of the first jobs of the new overall chief of defense mobilization will be to attack what the committee calls the "siesta psychology" of certain departments of the government that are housed in the Pentagon. It is hard to believe that any federal agency is not fully awake to the demands of the emergency, but the report to the Senate admits of no other conclusion.

According to the committee, aircraft, radio equipment and other military items continue to be sold as "surplus" and only the intervention of the President has prevented the sale of a government-owned rubber plant and of other government property "having a wartime use or potential." The Munitions Board of the Department of Defense is further accused of having recently lowered the rate of acquisitions for the rubber stockpile.

The disclosure that the Pentagon is still operating on a business-as-usual basis offers shocking testimony to the lack of teamwork and understanding in the Department of Defense.

Scientific society is trying to ascertain what prompts men to become embezzlers. Being too close to the money is just a suggestion.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

More Cancer Of The Lung

CANCER of the lung is a much more common disease today than it was 25 years ago. There are many theories on the cause of the mounting incidence of the disease. Most of the fingers point to tobacco as the culprit but positive proof is lacking. Nevertheless, it is possible that in the future more than one irritant will be implicated.

Cigarets are blamed chiefly because the majority of individuals with lung cancer had been moderately heavy to chain smokers for many years. Some statistics reveal that 96.5 per cent of all victims fall into this category. Furthermore, a high percentage had indulged more than 20 years and the condition is much more common in men than women. Altho the number of women smokers is increasing, few have had the habit for two decades. If this contention is correct, and women continue to smoke as much as they do now, we can expect a rise in the number of cases of lung malignancies in the fair sex.

The inhalation of other irritants also may play a role. These substances include city gas and other fumes and industrial dusts such as those from chromium and iron oxide. Tarred roads, the X-ray, and motor exhaust fumes are possibilities. Since many of us are exposed to several of these contaminants, it is conceivable that chronic irritation—regardless of the source—is playing a major part in the production of lung cancer.

In 1933 this disease emerged from the "incurable" category. Surgery did the trick and an entire lung can now be removed safely. On the other hand, the earlier diagnosis is made, the less extensive the operation and herein lies the secret of success. As with other malignancies, the victim may wait too long before consulting a physician. Coughing is one of the earliest symptoms but because so many of these patients are addicted to cigarets they are likely to consider it "smoker's cough." Periodic X-rays and reporting to the physician whenever changes in the coughing pattern occur will help to uncover at an earlier date the true nature of the "hacking." Other sufferers develop pain or severe discomfort over the involved side. Blood-streaked sputum also should arouse suspicion.

The physician has better methods nowadays of detecting the malady in its beginning stages. Studying the sputum helps and, in suspicious cases, the bronchial passageways can be viewed directly with a bronchoscope. The latter is a long tube with an eye piece at one end and a light on the other. If a lesion is encountered in examination, a small piece of tissue can be removed for biopsy. The X-ray is indispensable, especially when combined with other precedures that tend to bring out lung detail.

X-rays and radium are used occasionally to relieve symptoms but the outcome with these remedies rarely is good. Surgical treatment is best because it offers the only hope of cure. So many improvements have been made in this field that the procedure carries a low mortality rate and the number of five year "cures" has mounted. Furthermore, the conditions is being detected earlier. At the present time, 10 months usually elapse between the onset of symptoms and the time when the patient presents himself for treatment. This period must be shortened if physicians are to save more lives.

TOMORROW: Treatment with sound waves—supersonic therapy.

PENICILLIN SENSITIVITY

H. J. writes: Will the administration of penicillin do any harm if it was not really needed?

REPLY

Only in that the use of the product might create sensitivity to it, which means that it could not be administered in the future should a serious illness arise.

•—•—•

NOSEBLEED

V. S. writes: What causes a sudden hemorrhage of the nose after drinking coffee? This has happened twice.

REPLY

A ruptured blood vessel is a likely possibility but examination will be needed to determine "why." Coffee drinking has nothing to do with it.

•—•—•

SMOKING PROHIBITED

Mrs. U. writes: Is smoking bad for Raynaud's syndrome?

REPLY

Yes, because nicotine has a tendency to constrict the blood vessels. In Raynaud's syndrome, the blood pathways are contracted to begin with and smoking adds insult to injury.

•—•—•

FOLIC ACID

G. T. writes: Does folic acid contain vitamin B-12?

REPLY

No. Both are constituents of the vitamin B complex. Preparations containing both are available, however.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

China Still Aloof From Korean War; Mystery Witness Grunewald Is Undercover Lobbyist; Schoeppel Continues To Be Errand Boy For Utilities

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—A top secret intelligence report on China's negotiations with Russia on the vital question of coming in or staying out of the Korean war has just been received in Washington.

Obviously it is impossible to know how accurate these reports are regarding such important figures as Molotov and Mao Tse-Tung. However, here is what they are supposed to have talked about in their recent Peiping meeting.

Molotov, who is Stalin's Far East manager, was unable to budge Mao, China's communist boss, on the Korean war. Mao is reported to have refused point-blank to intervene in the Korean war or to set a date for the invasion of Formosa, or to attack British Hong Kong or Portuguese Macao.

Finally, after much wrangling, a 5-point program was agreed to:

1. Russia will outfit 15 Chinese divisions, or a total of about 225,000 men.

2. Mao will send limited troops as "volunteers" to Korea north of the 38th Parallel. This, of course, would relieve North Korean troops to fight south of the 38th Parallel.

3. China will patrol the Manchurian-Korean border.

4. Molotov and Mao will meet again this month to reach an agreement on the invasion of Formosa. All summer the Russians have been demanding the communists make an amphibious attack on Formosa, but Mao has been putting them off week after week. This was one reason why President Truman cracked down on MacArthur when he shot off his uncleared statement on Formosa.

5. Mao's government will help re-equip Viet Minh forces in Indo-China for a new, all-out offensive.

NOTE — The above intelligence report is chiefly based on British information, the British having much better sources than we do in the Orient.

Mystery Wire-Tap Witness

There is something awfully peculiar about the way the Justice Department claimed it couldn't locate the mysterious missing witness in the wire-tapping case, Henry Grunewald, then suddenly produced him in another case after the statute of limitations had run on Senator Brewster's wire-tappings.

Mr. Grunewald, who worked for Pan American World Airways at the time of the wire-tapping, and was intimate with chief wire-tapper Lieut. Joe Shimon, is a well-known person about town. But for some strange reason he evaporated into thin air.

Gunewald has a $75,000 home at Valharbour, Miami Beach; a $85,000 home at Spring Lake, N. J., and owns considerable property in the district of Columbia, including a five-acre tract in the fashionable suburbs. He owns three automobiles, including a limousine, which is frequently seen parked outside the Senate. Inside, he is chiefly in the offices of Senators Brewster of Maine and Bridges of New Hampshire.

He also has an apartment at the swank Westchester; has maintained an office in the Munsey Building and a suite in the Washington Hotel which he shares with the former Secretary of War and ex-Governor of Kansas Harry Woodring. Lieut. Shimon, the wire-tapping cop, also occupied this suite as a guest of Woodring's and Grunewald's; and the other night when a Senate investigator called, who should poke his bald head out of the suite but William Power Maloney, close friend of Senator Brewster's and attorney for Lieut. Shimon.

Grunewald has also been frequently seen in the company of War Assets Administrator Jesse Larson, and is so often in Senator Brewster's office that he is treated as if he were a member of the office force.

Senator Bridges also seems solicitous about Grunewald. When a representative of this column called at Grunewald's Munsel Building office, its occupants professed complete amazement that Grunewald had ever been in the office. Yet, in the next room, someone hastily and surreptitiously phoned Senator Bridges to warn: "They're trying to find Henry."

How Grunewald, an immigrant from Europe, made all his money, remains a mystery. But he is reported to be one of the most highly paid undercover lobbyists in Washington.

"Phonograph-Needle" Schoeppel

The backstage decision to have mousy Senator Schoeppel of Kansas sling communist mud at Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman was made at a meeting of Republican senators in the office of Senator Ken Wherry of Nebraska, who recently played into the hands of the racketeers by slicing the Senate crime probe appropriations by one-half.

Wherry remarked the Chapman was winning too many battles against the public utilities. So Frank Bow, former axeman for the GOP harness committee in the Republican 80th Congress and now aide to Schoeppel, worked up a mud-slinging attack for the Senator.

The fact that the speech was ghostwritten was why Schoeppel asked for a delay of Secretary Chapman's reply. For Bow, the ghost writer was out of town and the Senator himself knew no more about the facts in the case than a phonograph needle knows about the record it is playing.

Though Schoeppel didn't prepare the tirade against Chapman, he was delighted to spearhead the attack, because it dovetailed with the interests of his law firm and the big gas and oil company clients it serves.

Unlike conscientious Senator Brien McMahon of Connecticut, Schoeppel did not divorce himself from his law firm when he came to Washington. And the Martindale-Hubbell law directory lists Schoeppel as representing five oil companies, two gas companies and twenty insurance companies, including Republic Natural Gas, Colorado Interstate Gas, Texaco, Sinclair, Phillips Petroleum, Gulf, and Lion Oil.

No wonder Alf Landon once described Schoeppel as the "errand boy of the utilities." No wonder also that he was delighted to use the Senate floor to castigate the cabinet member who had opposed his law clients.

He was delighted that is until Secretary Chapman came back with his scathing reply. After that, the Senator decided that Congress and a Kansas farm are absolutely alike when it comes to sticking your finger in a buzz saw.

MATTER OF FACT

By JOSEPH ALSOP

How Much?

HOW much are we really going to spend for defense? For weeks now, the National Security Council has been wrestling with this life-and-death issue. Much of the spadework has been done by Ambassador-at-Large Philip Jssup and Air Force Secretary Thomas Finletter, who have been meeting almost daily with the other deputies of the N.S.C. And as every week has passed since the attack on Korea, the estimates of defense spending have increased.

At first it was thought that $18,000,000,000 to $20,000,000,000 would suffice. This was quickly upped to the $25,000,000,000 level incorporated in President Truman's request to Congress. From this level the estimates climbed to $27,000,000,000 then to $30,000,000,000. And it now appears likely that the total of defense spending for the next fiscal year may climb, in authorization requests, well over $40,000,000,000 and perhaps as high as $50,000,000,000.

What has happened, of course, is very simple. Gradually, the real facts of our situation have been faced—that general war in the near future has become, if not probable, exceedingly possible; and that for the first time in our history we could quite conceivably lose a war. And facing these facts has in turn forced the planners to think, not about what we can comfortably afford, but about what we really need.

There is now beginning to be fairly general agreement on what we really need. These needs may be itemized as follows:

Commitment Likely

ARMY: Eighteen to twenty divisions. It was at first intended to hold the Army to fourteen divisions. But as the weeks since the Korean attack have passed, the Europeans have been begging more and more urgently for a real American commitment on the Continent—at least six divisions — with an American supreme commander for the joint Atlantic pact forces. No official decision has been taken, but this commitment will in the end almost certainly be made, simply because otherwise the Atlantic alliance will disintegrate. This commitment will require a total American standing army of at least eighteen divisions, and perhaps twenty.

AIR FORCE: Ninety to 105 groups. Because of all the past emphasis on a seventy-group Air Force, it has been generally assumed that the sixty-nine-group Air Force currently authorized meets requirements. This is not the case. The fact is that the seventy-group program has been rendered obsolete by events.

For one thing, the Soviets have begun stockpiling atomic bombs much sooner than anticipated. For another thing, Soviet air defenses, crude when the Finletter report was written in 1947, are now certainly exceedingly formidable. It was to take care of just such unforseen developments that the report called for a thorough review of the whole air program in January, 1950. While "economy" ruled the day, such a review would have been futile. It has now been undertaken. The result has been a virtually unanimous agreement that minimum security demands at least a ninety-group Air Force, and perhaps an Air Force of over 100 groups.

Cost—$30,000,000,000

NAVY: About double the strength of the "economy" Navy. The new Navy would be built around ten, and perhaps twelve heavy aircraft carriers, a large number of light carriers, and with both the marines and the semi-submarine defenses decisively strengthened.

No final estimates have been made of what increases in this order would cost. But preliminary estimates are that this kind of American defense force could be maintained, once it was created, at a level of about $30,000,000,000 annually, at present prices. Roughly, the costs come to about $12,000,000,000 to maintain an eighteen-division Army, $10,500,000,000 to maintain an Air Force of just under 100 groups, and about $8,000,000,000 for the strengthened Navy.

The trouble is that these new forces must first be created—and created with almost frantic haste. If the orderly increase in strength advocated by James Forrestal had been undertaken, this could have been done without very great strain. But because of the deep cutbacks under the "economy" program, the process of creating new strength will be fantastically expensive. This is the basic reason why estimates of the initial costs have now soared up above $40,000,000,000.

To this huge figure must be added $5,000,000,000 to $6,000,000,000 for European rearmament, and $1,000,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 for a greatly expanded effort in the atomic and guided missiles field. Thus what is immediately in prospect is a defense effort virtually on a war-time scale, for two or three years.

Provided there is no general war, this would be followed by an indefinite period during which 10 to 15 per cent of the gross national product would be devoted to defense. This is not a pleasant prospect. But it is a great deal better than another world war. And it is a great, great deal better than losing such a war if it comes. And that is precisely where we were headed only ten weeks ago.

Appeasement Policy Laid To Bungling Of Defense

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11—Appeasement of communism in China and the utter senselessness of the war in Korea if appeasement is now ordered will be the prime issue in the coming congressional campaign.

The Midwest Democratic conference, by accusing certain Republicans of wanting war with communist China, has let the cat out of the bag. The recognition of communist China and its admission to a seat in the United Nations is evidently to be the crowning climax of the Democratic administration's effort to pin the responsibility for "war" on their political opponents and to take to themselves the credit for maintaining "peace."

The Republicans will not take that sort of charge lying down. They will ask why the administration went into Korea at all at a cost already of about 8,000 casualties if it was intended to give communist Russia, communist China and communist North Korea their way anyhow in the Far East.

Emphasizes Weakness

The administration's maneuvers are by no means sure-footed even from a political standpoint. The purport of the radio-broadcast interview given by Secretary of State Acheson over the Columbia Broadcasting System is that the position of the United States with respect to Formosa is one of military weakness and that the proposal to "neutralize" the island is based upon the fear that we cannot defend it. The communist world does not respect weakness, as has been admitted by the Secretary himself. Hence, it is difficult to understand the purpose he had in mind in emphasizing our military weakness. He said:

"When it was decided by the President that we would lend our support, and full support, to the United Nations in the Korean defense you can see how important it was that, having taken most of our troops out of Japan and brought up troops from Okinawa and brought our fleet up from the Philippines and placed it to the north, Formosa should be neutralized and should not be a point of danger upon the left flank of the whole United Nations position.

"And, therefore, the President neutralized it by saying that the Seventh Fleet would prevent any attack upon Formosa and Formosa should not make any attack upon the mainland. There was a fair proposition, and it was meant to work both ways—and it does work both ways. The President also pointed out that what he has said has nothing to do with foreclosing the political decisions on the future of Formosa. These should be made by peaceful means and he has stressed over and over again that our sole long-range desire about Formosa is that its future should be decided by peaceful negotiation and settlement, and not by force."

Many Questions Raised

Does this "fair proposition" mean a deal with communist China whereby, if she accepts the facts about our military weakness and doesn't attack Formosa, she is to be rewarded with admission to the U. N. and recognition as well as perhaps later the Island of Formosa itself? Was MacArthur right after all in warning against "appeasement" in the Far East? Is this the way to create "areas of strength" as Mr. Acheson phrases it so often? Who, to be sure, created the military weakness of the United States in the Far East and who abolished the "fleet in being" so far as the Pacific was concerned? Why is it necessary in 1950 to make a deal on Formosa because of a lack of adequate naval forces in commission to protect an island entirely surrounded by deep water when only five years ago the United States had the largest navy the world had ever known?

The Republicans cannot be prevented in the coming campaign from asking pertinent questions concerning the very military weakness which apparently is now dictating our appeasement policies. Chamberlain at Munich in 1938 appeased Hitler to gain time but war was not thereby avoided. America by appeasing Stalin with a Far Eastern Munich will gain time but lose the respect of Asiatic peoples to say nothing of the respect of the peoples of Europe and the rest of the world. It looks like a dangerous adventure born of military weakness and attributable to our bungling policies in failing to allocate wisely the $50,000,000,000 we spent for defense in the last five years. The new policy of appeasement is presumably designed to deter aggression. It could encourage and lead to further aggression by an arrogant communism.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

It Could Happen

A READER from Great Falls, Mont., writes me: "Now that the government has taken over the railroads to operate, would it not be well to set the salaries of trainmen and conductors, engineers, etc at soldiers wages, namely the pay that a buck sergeant, a technical sergeant, and a master sergeant would draw. If that was done, it seems to me, the rank and file of men would soon have the government get out of the railroad business."

This is the old argument heard in World War I and in World War II about war profiteers—owner-profiteers, management-profiteers, labor-profiteers, black-market-profiteers and the worst of all, politician profiteers.

For instance, I have for years been wondering about a figure like Robert Hannegan, who came to Washington from Missouri, became chairman of the Democratic National Committee and Postmaster General. These positions do not draw high pay, and, besides, Hannegan held them at a period of high income taxes. Yet, he died a comparatively rich man. How does a man manage to manipulate capital that way?

The last war and its immediate aftermath produced many rich men, obviously rich men. It also produced high wages and tremendously improved working conditions. It also produced a plethora of subsidies for many segments of the American population. It also reduced the value of the dollar and an inflation which is now getting worse.

Those who profiteer in wartime are often the fathers of sons who are dying in the same war. They profiteer and complain about taxes and fail to connect their personal conduct with inadequate supplies at the front because they cost too much

A so-called fifth round wage increase can only mean that every shot and shell, every airplane and submarine will cost that much more. And that can only mean that taxes must go up, the national debt must go up, the real value, the purchasing value of money must go down. Around Christmas-time, every American will discover, when he needs cash money most, that his dollar has lost considerable value.

Of course, Christmas comes in December and the Congressional elections come in November, and between the two dates something may be done to stem the inflation, if it is not, by then, too late. Inflation is an exceedingly poisonous operation, particularly in time of war, and most especially in a war that is not going so well.

Let us ignore the railroad strike and have a look, instead, at the electrical strike. In this situation there is a quarrel between two unions, the U. E. (United Electrical, Radio & Machine Workers of America), which is communist-controlled and pro-Stalin, and the I.U.E. (Intl. Union of Electrical, Radio & Machine Workers), which is a CIO outfit that is reputedly anti-communist. The U.E. was kicked out of the CIO in the housecleaning that occurred last year, although it had been in the CIO since its existence, with communist leadership of importance. The I.U.E. was organized by the CIO to combat the U.E. and to take over its contracts.

The hope of the I.U.E. was that the management of the electrical companies would rush headlong into its arms, coercing the workers to leave the U.E. and to join the I.U.E. For once, most management showed wisdom. They held that the workers themselves must determine what union they choose to accept as their agency for representation and collective bargaining.

The workers were of a divided mind. Some voted for the U.E.; some for the I.U.E. And there was the possibility always that in subsequent votes the workers would change their minds. The I.U.E. would like the whole business. But the workers would have to decide that, not management. Therefore, there is an organization strike designed to prove that the I.U.E. can do better than the U.E. Then the U.E. would have to try to do better for the unions it controls and we shall have a ring-around-rosie.

That is precisely the situation in wartime in an essential war industry—in fact, in the most essential war industry upon which depend the lives of our sons fighting not only in Korea but preparing to fight on other fronts.

Maybe some people hold the lives of their sons lightly. Maybe some of them have forgotten their own war experiences. Maybe some just don't think.

The Bill Of Rights Is Not Destroyed

A week ago tonight the Mayor and Council of Cumberland after listening to the objections of avowed communists passed unanimously a new city ordinance requiring that all communists in Cumberland register with the Police Department.

With this action The Cumberland News was in hearty accord.

Today, elsewhere in The Cumberland News, appears an advertisement attacking the ordinance as virtually destroying the Bill of Rights.

If you take the time to read the advertisement, you must realize that the Bill of Rights is not being destroyed; nor is there any danger in believing in freedom of speech, press and assembly.

The advertisement, with which the Cumberland News is in complete disagreement, is just an attempt at confusing the average loyal American citizen.

That freedom of the press does exist is evident with publication of this advertisement, wherein the sponsoring authority is taking advantage of that freedom to spread its misdirected propaganda before the American people.

How much better their efforts would be if they used their abilities to work for freedoms of speech, press and assembly in those countries where the news today is under strict censorship, and where any citizen is afraid to speak his mind for fear the secret police will have him in jail almost before his words have been spoken.

There are some who would take away these freedoms from the United States.

It is that minority which must be combatted with all of our vigor and ability. And, it is that minority which makes communist registration ordinances mandatory.

The Great Earth-Split

Save for one fortuitous event millions of years ago, the United States might today be living on the same continent as Russia, with no ocean barriers to provide at least some illusion of security. That, at least, follows from the theory propounded by German geophysicist Alfred Wegener in 1920, which now appears to be accepted by as many scientists in the field as still reject it.

To the layman, the theory is at least superficially plausible. When he takes a globe and looks at the coastline on opposite sides of the Atlantic, he can see that the contours "fit" amazingly well. So it looks reasonable to him that they were once united, that a great top-heavy land mass once broke apart and drifted off on a sea of basalt until the parts finally settled down in their present locations.

But there is plenty of opposition to this theory. Embattled professors all but came to blows over it at a British Association meeting in Birmingham the other day. When it was all over, the issue was put to a vote, but the result was so close neither side could claim a victory.

The pro-Wegener faction said Antarctica contains non-arctic fossils; that beetles, rodents and primitive reptiles in Africa and South America are in many respects too similar to explain without assuming the two continents were joined at some time. The anti-Wegener cohorts say the 10,000-foot layer of sediment in the Atlantic could never have accumulated since the time postulated for the great split.

Furthermore, they argued, the process would have buckled the continental shelf on the Pacific side of the Americas, which just didn't happen. The whole notion, they said, was just a waste of time.

This is one subject, it seems, on which the layman can have an opinion of his own, with as good a chance of being right as if he were an expert.

Cheap Insurance

Congress should act promptly and favorably upon J. Edgar Hoover's request for an extra appropriation of $6,000,000 for the Federal Bureau of Investigation. A rider could be attached to the appropriation ordering that the money be used to ferret out communist sympathizers in government departments and atomic and other defense projects.

The communists, of course, will not like the idea because the money is to be used to put them in their place and keep them there. According to Mr. Hoover there are at large in this country an estimated 12,000 "dangerous" enemies of the United States. If Congress places any value at all upon internal security, it had better give the FBI not only the funds to watch over them but the authority to clap them in jail in case of extreme emergency.

This is no time to be tender-hearted in treatment of those who would destroy the nation. Mr. Hoover, in asking for 835 additional agents and 1,218 new clerical workers, cites the fact that the complaints which the FBI is called upon to investigate have tripled in number since President Truman ordered intervention in Korea. He also discloses that many of the most energetic communists have gone underground or in hiding on farms. To keep an eye on them and to thwart their activities has therefore become an increasingly difficult job.

A small additional appropriation for the FBI will be cheap insurance, if not all of the money is spent looking for communists in the woods. Surely they have not all deserted Washington.

Pentagon Siesta

If the Senate watchdog committee is right, one of the first jobs of the new overall chief of defense mobilization will be to attack what the committee calls the "siesta psychology" of certain departments of the government that are housed in the Pentagon. It is hard to believe that any federal agency is not fully awake to the demands of the emergency, but the report to the Senate admits of no other conclusion.

According to the committee, aircraft, radio equipment and other military items continue to be sold as "surplus" and only the intervention of the President has prevented the sale of a government-owned rubber plant and of other government property "having a wartime use or potential." The Munitions Board of the Department of Defense is further accused of having recently lowered the rate of acquisitions for the rubber stockpile.

The disclosure that the Pentagon is still operating on a business-as-usual basis offers shocking testimony to the lack of teamwork and understanding in the Department of Defense.

Scientific society is trying to ascertain what prompts men to become embezzlers. Being too close to the money is just a suggestion.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

More Cancer Of The Lung

CANCER of the lung is a much more common disease today than it was 25 years ago. There are many theories on the cause of the mounting incidence of the disease. Most of the fingers point to tobacco as the culprit but positive proof is lacking. Nevertheless, it is possible that in the future more than one irritant will be implicated.

Cigarets are blamed chiefly because the majority of individuals with lung cancer had been moderately heavy to chain smokers for many years. Some statistics reveal that 96.5 per cent of all victims fall into this category. Furthermore, a high percentage had indulged more than 20 years and the condition is much more common in men than women. Altho the number of women smokers is increasing, few have had the habit for two decades. If this contention is correct, and women continue to smoke as much as they do now, we can expect a rise in the number of cases of lung malignancies in the fair sex.

The inhalation of other irritants also may play a role. These substances include city gas and other fumes and industrial dusts such as those from chromium and iron oxide. Tarred roads, the X-ray, and motor exhaust fumes are possibilities. Since many of us are exposed to several of these contaminants, it is conceivable that chronic irritation—regardless of the source—is playing a major part in the production of lung cancer.

In 1933 this disease emerged from the "incurable" category. Surgery did the trick and an entire lung can now be removed safely. On the other hand, the earlier diagnosis is made, the less extensive the operation and herein lies the secret of success. As with other malignancies, the victim may wait too long before consulting a physician. Coughing is one of the earliest symptoms but because so many of these patients are addicted to cigarets they are likely to consider it "smoker's cough." Periodic X-rays and reporting to the physician whenever changes in the coughing pattern occur will help to uncover at an earlier date the true nature of the "hacking." Other sufferers develop pain or severe discomfort over the involved side. Blood-streaked sputum also should arouse suspicion.

The physician has better methods nowadays of detecting the malady in its beginning stages. Studying the sputum helps and, in suspicious cases, the bronchial passageways can be viewed directly with a bronchoscope. The latter is a long tube with an eye piece at one end and a light on the other. If a lesion is encountered in examination, a small piece of tissue can be removed for biopsy. The X-ray is indispensable, especially when combined with other precedures that tend to bring out lung detail.

X-rays and radium are used occasionally to relieve symptoms but the outcome with these remedies rarely is good. Surgical treatment is best because it offers the only hope of cure. So many improvements have been made in this field that the procedure carries a low mortality rate and the number of five year "cures" has mounted. Furthermore, the conditions is being detected earlier. At the present time, 10 months usually elapse between the onset of symptoms and the time when the patient presents himself for treatment. This period must be shortened if physicians are to save more lives.

TOMORROW: Treatment with sound waves—supersonic therapy.

PENICILLIN SENSITIVITY

H. J. writes: Will the administration of penicillin do any harm if it was not really needed?

REPLY

Only in that the use of the product might create sensitivity to it, which means that it could not be administered in the future should a serious illness arise.

NOSEBLEED

V. S. writes: What causes a sudden hemorrhage of the nose after drinking coffee? This has happened twice.

REPLY

A ruptured blood vessel is a likely possibility but examination will be needed to determine "why." Coffee drinking has nothing to do with it.

•—•—•

SMOKING PROHIBITED

Mrs. U. writes: Is smoking bad for Raynaud's syndrome?

REPLY

Yes, because nicotine has a tendency to constrict the blood vessels. In Raynaud's syndrome, the blood pathways are contracted to begin with and smoking adds insult to injury.

FOLIC ACID

G. T. writes: Does folic acid contain vitamin B-12?

REPLY

No. Both are constituents of the vitamin B complex. Preparations containing both are available, however.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

China Still Aloof From Korean War; Mystery Witness Grunewald Is Undercover Lobbyist; Schoeppel Continues To Be Errand Boy For Utilities

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—A top secret intelligence report on China's negotiations with Russia on the vital question of coming in or staying out of the Korean war has just been received in Washington.

Obviously it is impossible to know how accurate these reports are regarding such important figures as Molotov and Mao Tse-Tung. However, here is what they are supposed to have talked about in their recent Peiping meeting.

Molotov, who is Stalin's Far East manager, was unable to budge Mao, China's communist boss, on the Korean war. Mao is reported to have refused point-blank to intervene in the Korean war or to set a date for the invasion of Formosa, or to attack British Hong Kong or Portuguese Macao.

Finally, after much wrangling, a 5-point program was agreed to:

1. Russia will outfit 15 Chinese divisions, or a total of about 225,000 men.

2. Mao will send limited troops as "volunteers" to Korea north of the 38th Parallel. This, of course, would relieve North Korean troops to fight south of the 38th Parallel.

3. China will patrol the Manchurian-Korean border.

4. Molotov and Mao will meet again this month to reach an agreement on the invasion of Formosa. All summer the Russians have been demanding the communists make an amphibious attack on Formosa, but Mao has been putting them off week after week. This was one reason why President Truman cracked down on MacArthur when he shot off his uncleared statement on Formosa.

5. Mao's government will help reequip Viet Minh forces in Indo-China for a new, all-out offensive.

NOTE — The above intelligence report is chiefly based on British information, the British having much better sources than we do in the Orient.

Mystery Wire-Tap Witness

There is something awfully peculiar about the way the Justice Department claimed it couldn't locate the mysterious missing witness in the wire-tapping case, Henry Grunewald, then suddenly produced him in another case after the statute of limitations had run on Senator Brewster's wire-tappings.

Mr. Grunewald, who worked for Pan American World Airways at the time of the wire-tapping, and was intimate with chief wire-tapper Lieut. Joe Shimon, is a well-known person about town. But for some strange reason he evaporated into thin air.

Gunewald has a $75,000 home at Valharbour, Miami Beach; a $85,000 home at Spring Lake, N. J., and owns considerable property in the district of Columbia, including a five-acre tract in the fashionable suburbs. He owns three automobiles, including a limousine, which is frequently seen parked outside the Senate. Inside, he is chiefly in the offices of Senators Brewster of Maine and Bridges of New Hampshire.

He also has an apartment at the swank Westchester; has maintained an office in the Munsey Building and a suite in the Washington Hotel which he shares with the former Secretary of War and ex-Governor of Kansas Harry Woodring. Lieut. Shimon, the wire-tapping cop, also occupied this suite as a guest of Woodring's and Grunewald's; and the other night when a Senate investigator called, who should poke his bald head out of the suite but William Power Maloney, close friend of Senator Brewster's and attorney for Lieut. Shimon.

Grunewald has also been frequently seen in the company of War Assets Administrator Jesse Larson, and is so often in Senator Brewster's office that he is treated as if he were a member of the office force.

Senator Bridges also seems solicitous about Grunewald. When a representative of this column called at Grunewald's Munsel Building office, its occupants professed complete amazement that Grunewald had ever been in the office. Yet, in the next room, someone hastily and surreptitiously phoned Senator Bridges to warn: "They're trying to find Henry."

How Grunewald, an immigrant from Europe, made all his money, remains a mystery. But he is reported to be one of the most highly paid undercover lobbyists in Washington.

"Phonograph-Needle" Schoeppel

The backstage decision to have mousy Senator Schoeppel of Kansas sling communist mud at Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman was made at a meeting of Republican senators in the office of Senator Ken Wherry of Nebraska, who recently played into the hands of the racketeers by slicing the Senate crime probe appropriations by one-half.

Wherry remarked the Chapman was winning too many battles against the public utilities. So Frank Bow, former axeman for the GOP harness committee in the Republican 80th Congress and now aide to Schoeppel, worked up a mud-slinging attack for the Senator.

The fact that the speech was ghostwritten was why Schoeppel asked for a delay of Secretary Chapman's reply. For Bow, the ghost writer was out of town and the Senator himself knew no more about the facts in the case than a phonograph needle knows about the record it is playing.

Though Schoeppel didn't prepare the tirade against Chapman, he was delighted to spearhead the attack, because it dovetailed with the interests of his law firm and the big gas and oil company clients it serves.

Unlike conscientious Senator Brien McMahon of Connecticut, Schoeppel did not divorce himself from his law firm when he came to Washington. And the Martindale-Hubbell law directory lists Schoeppel as representing five oil companies, two gas companies and twenty insurance companies, including Republic Natural Gas, Colorado Interstate Gas, Texaco, Sinclair, Phillips Petroleum, Gulf, and Lion Oil.

No wonder Alf Landon once described Schoeppel as the "errand boy of the utilities." No wonder also that he was delighted to use the Senate floor to castigate the cabinet member who had opposed his law clients.

He was delighted that is until Secretary Chapman came back with his scathing reply. After that, the Senator decided that Congress and a Kansas farm are absolutely alike when it comes to sticking your finger in a buzz saw.

MATTER OF FACT

By JOSEPH ALSOP

How Much?

HOW much are we really going to spend for defense? For weeks now, the National Security Council has been wrestling with this life-and-death issue. Much of the spadework has been done by Ambassador-at-Large Philip Jssup and Air Force Secretary Thomas Finletter, who have been meeting almost daily with the other deputies of the N.S.C. And as every week has passed since the attack on Korea, the estimates of defense spending have increased.

At first it was thought that $18,000,000,000 to $20,000,000,000 would suffice. This was quickly upped to the $25,000,000,000 level incorporated in President Truman's request to Congress. From this level the estimates climbed to $27,000,000,000 then to $30,000,000,000. And it now appears likely that the total of defense spending for the next fiscal year may climb, in authorization requests, well over $40,000,000,000 and perhaps as high as $50,000,000,000.

What has happened, of course, is very simple. Gradually, the real facts of our situation have been faced—that general war in the near future has become, if not probable, exceedingly possible; and that for the first time in our history we could quite conceivably lose a war. And facing these facts has in turn forced the planners to think, not about what we can comfortably afford, but about what we really need.

There is now beginning to be fairly general agreement on what we really need. These needs may be itemized as follows:

Commitment Likely

ARMY: Eighteen to twenty divisions. It was at first intended to hold the Army to fourteen divisions. But as the weeks since the Korean attack have passed, the Europeans have been begging more and more urgently for a real American commitment on the Continent—at least six divisions — with an American supreme commander for the joint Atlantic pact forces. No official decision has been taken, but this commitment will in the end almost certainly be made, simply because otherwise the Atlantic alliance will disintegrate. This commitment will require a total American standing army of at least eighteen divisions, and perhaps twenty.

AIR FORCE: Ninety to 105 groups. Because of all the past emphasis on a seventy-group Air Force, it has been generally assumed that the sixty-nine-group Air Force currently authorized meets requirements. This is not the case. The fact is that the seventy-group program has been rendered obsolete by events.

For one thing, the Soviets have begun stockpiling atomic bombs much sooner than anticipated. For another thing, Soviet air defenses, crude when the Finletter report was written in 1947, are now certainly exceedingly formidable. It was to take care of just such unforseen developments that the report called for a thorough review of the whole air program in January, 1950. While "economy" ruled the day, such a review would have been futile. It has now been undertaken. The result has been a virtually unanimous agreement that minimum security demands at least a ninety-group Air Force, and perhaps an Air Force of over 100 groups.

Cost—$30,000,000,000

NAVY: About double the strength of the "economy" Navy. The new Navy would be built around ten, and perhaps twelve heavy aircraft carriers, a large number of light carriers, and with both the marines and the semi-submarine defenses decisively strengthened.

No final estimates have been made of what increases in this order would cost. But preliminary estimates are that this kind of American defense force could be maintained, once it was created, at a level of about $30,000,000,000 annually, at present prices. Roughly, the costs come to about $12,000,000,000 to maintain an eighteen-division Army, $10,500,000,000 to maintain an Air Force of just under 100 groups, and about $8,000,000,000 for the strengthened Navy.

The trouble is that these new forces must first be created—and created with almost frantic haste. If the orderly increase in strength advocated by James Forrestal had been undertaken, this could have been done without very great strain. But because of the deep cutbacks under the "economy" program, the process of creating new strength will be fantastically expensive. This is the basic reason why estimates of the initial costs have now soared up above $40,000,000,000.

To this huge figure must be added $5,000,000,000 to $6,000,000,000 for European rearmament, and $1,000,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 for a greatly expanded effort in the atomic and guided missiles field. Thus what is immediately in prospect is a defense effort virtually on a war-time scale, for two or three years.

Provided there is no general war, this would be followed by an indefinite period during which 10 to 15 per cent of the gross national product would be devoted to defense. This is not a pleasant prospect. But it is a great deal better than another world war. And it is a great, great deal better than losing such a war if it comes. And that is precisely where we were headed only ten weeks ago.

Appeasement Policy Laid To Bungling Of Defense

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11—Appeasement of communism in China and the utter senselessness of the war in Korea if appeasement is now ordered will be the prime issue in the coming congressional campaign.

The Midwest Democratic conference, by accusing certain Republicans of wanting war with communist China, has let the cat out of the bag. The recognition of communist China and its admission to a seat in the United Nations is evidently to be the crowning climax of the Democratic administration's effort to pin the responsibility for "war" on their political opponents and to take to themselves the credit for maintaining "peace."

The Republicans will not take that sort of charge lying down. They will ask why the administration went into Korea at all at a cost already of about 8,000 casualties if it was intended to give communist Russia, communist China and communist North Korea their way anyhow in the Far East.

Emphasizes Weakness

The administration's maneuvers are by no means sure-footed even from a political standpoint. The purport of the radio-broadcast interview given by Secretary of State Acheson over the Columbia Broadcasting System is that the position of the United States with respect to Formosa is one of military weakness and that the proposal to "neutralize" the island is based upon the fear that we cannot defend it. The communist world does not respect weakness, as has been admitted by the Secretary himself. Hence, it is difficult to understand the purpose he had in mind in emphasizing our military weakness. He said:

"When it was decided by the President that we would lend our support, and full support, to the United Nations in the Korean defense you can see how important it was that, having taken most of our troops out of Japan and brought up troops from Okinawa and brought our fleet up from the Philippines and placed it to the north, Formosa should be neutralized and should not be a point of danger upon the left flank of the whole United Nations position.

"And, therefore, the President neutralized it by saying that the Seventh Fleet would prevent any attack upon Formosa and Formosa should not make any attack upon the mainland. There was a fair proposition, and it was meant to work both ways—and it does work both ways. The President also pointed out that what he has said has nothing to do with foreclosing the political decisions on the future of Formosa. These should be made by peaceful means and he has stressed over and over again that our sole long-range desire about Formosa is that its future should be decided by peaceful negotiation and settlement, and not by force."

Many Questions Raised

Does this "fair proposition" mean a deal with communist China whereby, if she accepts the facts about our military weakness and doesn't attack Formosa, she is to be rewarded with admission to the U. N. and recognition as well as perhaps later the Island of Formosa itself? Was MacArthur right after all in warning against "appeasement" in the Far East? Is this the way to create "areas of strength" as Mr. Acheson phrases it so often? Who, to be sure, created the military weakness of the United States in the Far East and who abolished the "fleet in being" so far as the Pacific was concerned? Why is it necessary in 1950 to make a deal on Formosa because of a lack of adequate naval forces in commission to protect an island entirely surrounded by deep water when only five years ago the United States had the largest navy the world had ever known?

The Republicans cannot be prevented in the coming campaign from asking pertinent questions concerning the very military weakness which apparently is now dictating our appeasement policies. Chamberlain at Munich in 1938 appeased Hitler to gain time but war was not thereby avoided. America by appeasing Stalin with a Far Eastern Munich will gain time but lose the respect of Asiatic peoples to say nothing of the respect of the peoples of Europe and the rest of the world. It looks like a dangerous adventure born of military weakness and attributable to our bungling policies in failing to allocate wisely the $50,000,000,000 we spent for defense in the last five years. The new policy of appeasement is presumably designed to deter aggression. It could encourage and lead to further aggression by an arrogant communism.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

It Could Happen

A READER from Great Falls, Mont., writes me: "Now that the government has taken over the railroads to operate, would it not be well to set the salaries of trainmen and conductors, engineers, etc at soldiers wages, namely the pay that a buck sergeant, a technical sergeant, and a master sergeant would draw. If that was done, it seems to me, the rank and file of men would soon have the government get out of the railroad business."

This is the old argument heard in World War I and in World War II about war profiteers—owner-profiteers, management-profiteers, labor-profiteers, black-market-profiteers and the worst of all, politician profiteers.

For instance, I have for years been wondering about a figure like Robert Hannegan, who came to Washington from Missouri, became chairman of the Democratic National Committee and Postmaster General. These positions do not draw high pay, and, besides, Hannegan held them at a period of high income taxes. Yet, he died a comparatively rich man. How does a man manage to manipulate capital that way?

The last war and its immediate aftermath produced many rich men, obviously rich men. It also produced high wages and tremendously improved working conditions. It also produced a plethora of subsidies for many segments of the American population. It also reduced the value of the dollar and an inflation which is now getting worse.

Those who profiteer in wartime are often the fathers of sons who are dying in the same war. They profiteer and complain about taxes and fail to connect their personal conduct with inadequate supplies at the front because they cost too much

A so-called fifth round wage increase can only mean that every shot and shell, every airplane and submarine will cost that much more. And that can only mean that taxes must go up, the national debt must go up, the real value, the purchasing value of money must go down. Around Christmas-time, every American will discover, when he needs cash money most, that his dollar has lost considerable value.

Of course, Christmas comes in December and the Congressional elections come in November, and between the two dates something may be done to stem the inflation, if it is not, by then, too late. Inflation is an exceedingly poisonous operation, particularly in time of war, and most especially in a war that is not going so well.

Let us ignore the railroad strike and have a look, instead, at the electrical strike. In this situation there is a quarrel between two unions, the U. E. (United Electrical, Radio & Machine Workers of America), which is communist-controlled and pro-Stalin, and the I.U.E. (Intl. Union of Electrical, Radio & Machine Workers), which is a CIO outfit that is reputedly anti-communist. The U.E. was kicked out of the CIO in the housecleaning that occurred last year, although it had been in the CIO since its existence, with communist leadership of importance. The I.U.E. was organized by the CIO to combat the U.E. and to take over its contracts.

The hope of the I.U.E. was that the management of the electrical companies would rush headlong into its arms, coercing the workers to leave the U.E. and to join the I.U.E. For once, most management showed wisdom. They held that the workers themselves must determine what union they choose to accept as their agency for representation and collective bargaining.

The workers were of a divided mind. Some voted for the U.E.; some for the I.U.E. And there was the possibility always that in subsequent votes the workers would change their minds. The I.U.E. would like the whole business. But the workers would have to decide that, not management. Therefore, there is an organization strike designed to prove that the I.U.E. can do better than the U.E. Then the U.E. would have to try to do better for the unions it controls and we shall have a ring-around-rosie.

That is precisely the situation in wartime in an essential war industry—in fact, in the most essential war industry upon which depend the lives of our sons fighting not only in Korea but preparing to fight on other fronts.

Maybe some people hold the lives of their sons lightly. Maybe some of them have fotgotten their own war experiences. Maybe some just don't think.

Ninety-four and still going strong.

Yes, sir, George Bernard Shaw, who recently celebrated his 94th birthday, has just finished another play.

You've all heard of George Bernard Shaw . . . That's Jolson with a Ph. D.

But the way the old master keeps going is amazing. In his lifetime Shaw has written more than forty million words. That's almost as many words as are used up in a week by radio commercials.

Shaw, who gets big royalties from his books and plays, is a vegetarian. In fact, he's very fond of both kinds of lettuce.

He is famous for his witty sayings, which are constantly quoted by writers, educators, and Milton Berle.

Though he is past 94 Shaw is still as bright, alert and witty as ever. In fact, he hopes to live to be as old as some of those movies on television.

You've all heard of George Bernard Shaw . . . That's Jolson with a Ph. D.

But the way the old master keeps going is amazing. In his lifetime Shaw has written more than forty million words. That's almost as many words as are used up in a week by radio commercials.

Shaw, who gets big royalties from his books and plays, is a vegetarian. In fact, he's very fond of both kinds of lettuce.

He is famous for his witty sayings, which are constantly quoted by writers, educators, and Milton Berle.

Though he is past 94 Shaw is still as bright, alert and witty as ever. In fact, he hopes to live to be as old as some of those movies on television.

Crop Prospects Continue Good

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—The nation's crops overcame effects of some unfavorable weather during August to maintain production prospects well in line with the average of World War II.

In a progress report, the Agriculture Department said today the harvest voume should be higher than in five of the last eight years and in any year prior to 1946. It forecast the volume at 125 per cent of the 1923-32 average.

August weather, on the whole, was less favorable than usual for growing crops and farm operations. Average temperatures were below normal in many sections of the important midwestern corn belt. Likewise, rainfall was too heavy in some areas.

Nevertheless, production estimates for many cops were raised above Aug. 1 level in the department report.

Corn, the major grain and the principal fed for meat and dairy animals, rmained virtually unchanged at a bumper level despite the fact the weather was cooler than it should have been for best possible development of the crop.

The whet total climbed above the billion-busiel mark to 1,012,000,000 bushels. This was an increase of about 15,00,000 bushels over the Aug. 1 estmate.

House Tax Bill Action Delayed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP) — House backers of an immediate excess profits tax forced a delay today in final action on the $4,508,000,000 tax-boosting bill.

But Speaker Rayburn (D-Texas) told them they were only wasting time and holding up funds that "the government needs desperately." Rayburn said from the floor that Senate and House rules won't permit the addition of an excess profits tax to the present bill.

The tax bill delay came when Rep. Young (D-Ohio) objected to a motion sending the measure to conference for ironing out differences between House and Senate versions.

This motion—made by Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the Ways and Means Committee—needed unanimous consent for immediate adoption, so that Young's objection was enough to block it.

Rayburn said the House will be asked next Thursday to send the bill to conference by a special rule which will require only a majority vote.

3 Men Drowned In State Floods

[By The Associated Press]

Three men drowned in the flash floods that paralyzed a wide strip of Central Maryland after Sunday night's heavy rain storm.

Their car tumbled off a bridge into swirling Gunpowder Falls where it crosses state Route 7 at the Harford County line northeast of Baltimore.

State police recovered their bodies and identified them as Jorden Brown, 18, Renick, W. Va.; Oscar Brown, about 22, also of Renick, and Vernon Brown, 31, Rock, Md.

Owen Brown, an 18-year-old brother of Vernon, managed to fight his way out of the flood-swollen stream. Still dazed, he was taken to a hospital at Havre de Grace and was unable to give police a coherent story of what had happened.

Apparently, an oncoming car splashed water over the windshield of the machine in which the Browns were riding and the driver lost control.

Dozens of rescues were reported. Doris Pugh, 17, tried to reach a barn at her home near White Marsh to lead five horses to safety. The rushing water of White Marsh Creek swept her off her feet. She grabbed a wheel barrow and hung on until two men reached her and pulled her out of the stream.

White Marsh, just northeast of Baltimore, was one of the hardest hit communities. Water cascaded through houses there.

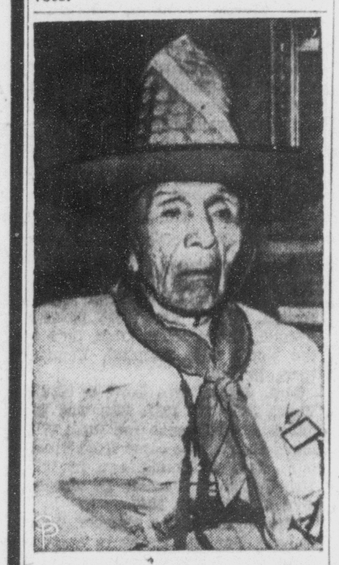
Floods blocked and washed out many roads at low spots in a wide arc from east and west of Baltimore all the way to the Pennsylvania line.

Army Checks Combat Record Of Negro Unit

ON THE MASAN FRONT, Sept. 11 (AP) — The Army is checking into the combat performance of the 24th Infantry Regiment, oldest negro fighting unit in the American Army.

It is generally believed that the survey will result in a decision of integration of both negro and white troops in the regiment. Such integration is favored by both white and negro officers in the field.

While neither white nor colored officers like to discuss the matter on the record, privately it is conceded that the inspection was touched off because the North Korean breakthrough Sept. 1 on the 25th Division front was made through the 24th Regiment.



AMONG 200 delegates convening in Bellingham, Wash., to discuss affairs concerning America's 400,000 Indians, is Cleveland Kamiakin (above), 90-year-old son of the famous Yakima War Chief. He is a representative of the Indian Nations at the National Congress of American Indians. (International)

54 Stranded American Students Flying Home

PARIS, Sept. 11(AP) — Fifty-four American students and teachers stranded here for 11 days left for New York tonight aboard a chartered plane. Their return flight was paid on an I. O. U. basis.

They are part of a group of 240 which has been touring Europe for the past two months. They became stranded here when a student travel service ran into financial difficulty and couldn't find a plane to fly them home.

Crop Prospects Continue Good

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—The nation's crops overcame effects of some unfavorable weather during August to maintain production prospects well in line with the average of World War II.

In a progress report, the Agriculture Department said today the harvest voume should be higher than in five of the last eight years and in any year prior to 1946. It forecast the volume at 125 per cent of the 1923-32 average.

August weather, on the whole, was less favorable than usual for growing crops and farm operations. Average tenperatures were below normal in many sections of the important midwestern corn belt. Likewise, ranfall was too heavy in some areas.

Nevertheless, production estimates for many cops were raised above Aug. 1 level in the department report.

Corn, the major grain and the principal fed for meat and dairy animals, rmained virtually unchanged at a bumper level despite the fact the weather was cooler than it should have been for best possible development of the crop.

The whet total climbed above the billion-busiel mark to 1,012,000,000 bushels. This was an increase of about 15,00,000 bushels over the Aug. 1 estmate.

House Tax Bill Action Delayed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP) — House backers of an immediate excess profits tax forced a delay today in final action on the $4,508,000,000 tax-boosting bill.

But Speaker Rayburn (D-Texas) told them they were only wasting time and holding up funds that "the government needs desperately." Rayburn said from the floor that Senate and House rules won't permit the addition of an excess profits tax to the present bill.

The tax bill delay came when Rep. Young (D-Ohio) objected to a motion sending the measure to conference for ironing out differences between House and Senate versions.

This motion—made by Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the Ways and Means Committee—needed unanimous consent for immediate adoption, so that Young's objection was enough to block it.

Rayburn said the House will be asked next Thursday to send the bill to conference by a special rule which will require only a majority vote.

3 Men Drowned In State Floods

[By The Associated Press]

Three men drowned in the flash floods that paralyzed a wide strip of Central Maryland after Sunday night's heavy rain storm.

Their car tumbled off a bridge into swirling Gunpowder Falls where it crosses state Route 7 at the Harford County line northeast of Baltimore.

State police recovered their bodies and identified them as Jorden Brown, 18, Renick, W. Va.; Oscar Brown, about 22, also of Renick, and Vernon Brown, 31, Rock, Md.

Owen Brown, an 18-year-old brother of Vernon, managed to fight his way out of the flood-swollen stream. Still dazed, he was taken to a hospital at Havre de Grace and was unable to give police a coherent story of what had happened.

Apparently, an oncoming car splashed water over the windshield of the machine in which the Browns were riding and the driver lost control.

Dozens of rescues were reported. Doris Pugh, 17, tried to reach a barn at her home near White Marsh to lead five horses to safety. The rushing water of White Marsh Creek swept her off her feet. She grabbed a wheel barrow and hung on until two men reached her and pulled her out of the stream.

Cancer-Blinded Boy, 5, Enters Overlea School

WESTERNPORT—Glenn Norman DiCheria, 135 Main Street, the five year old boy whose eyes have been removed by operation because of cancer entered the Maryland School for the Blind, at Overlea, Md., Sunday.

Glenn's right eye was removed in 1947 when he was 22 months old and about a year later the left eye had to be removed.

A well developed child for his age, he plays with other children and never gets off of the pavement or near the curb.

His mother, Stella DiCheria, said she took him to visit a friend in Barton Thursday night and he went through the unfamiliar house without difficulty.

A year ago friends, recognizing the sad plight of the boy, became interested in trying to help. Mrs. Grant Warnick and Mrs. Russell Fitzgerald suggested the idea of getting the boy a "Seeing Eye Dog."

They consulted Edwin M. Horchler, a blind attorney of Cumberland, who stated the boy was too young for a seeing eye dog. He suggested some means be used to teach Glenn how to use his hands instead of his eyes until he is old enough to enter school.

Mrs. Warnick made arrangements for Burza Hanlin, chief of police, to receive contributions from those desiring to aid Glenn to get an education.

Contributions amounting to $802.29 have been placed in the Citizens National Bank by a committee composed of Mrs. Warnick, Burza Hanlin, and George W. Daddysman. Checks for $45.55 for necessary clothing required by the school for his entrance and $25 for his mother to take him to the school were received.

Many of the contributions were from out of town. The committee would appreciate donations from any persons or organizations.

Fort Ashby High School Offers Vets' Training

Night Classes Open In Commercial Course

FORT ASHBY, W. Va.—William Marker, commercial instructor of Fort Ashby High School, announces that veterans who have or have not completed high school and desire to enroll in typing I and Bookkeeping and Accounting I, may register for the second session at the Fort Ashby High School Tuesday, September 19, 8 p. m., (DST).

He also states that the school will be open for any non-veteran that may desire to enroll, including women.

Marker, states that the school will be conducted on a half-time basis which will require the veterans to attend school 12 hours a week in order for the veteran to receive subsistence allowance. The school will be conducted three nights a week from 6:30 to 10:30.

Any veteran who wants to enter training under provisions of the GI Bill must start before July 25, 1951. The law provides that a course of education or training shall be initiated before the termination of 4 years after the date of discharge or by July 25, 1951, whichever is the later, and that such education or training cannot be afforded beyond July 25, 1956, except for those veterans who enlisted under the Voluntary Recruitment Act of October 6, 1945. Therefore, a veteran otherwise eligible must have commenced and actually be pursuing his course of education or training on July 25, 1951, or the date four years after discharge, whichever is later, except where his attendance is interrupted because of the normal interruptions for summer vacations, or other reasons beyond the control of the veteran.

If the veteran has been in training once under the GI Bill, but now wishes to take a second course in a different field, Public Law 610, recently passed by Congress, gives him a new opportunity to make application for this change, even if he has once been denied a change.

For more information on this new change in the law, veterans should contact their nearest Veterans Administration office, or Marker at his home in Fort Ashby or phone 2761.

Marker urges all veterans who wishes to enroll to apply for a Certificate of Eligibility at the Veterans Administration and present it when enrolling.

Cancer-Blinded Boy, 5, Enters Overlea School

WESTERNPORT—Glenn Norman DiCheria, 135 Main Street, the five year old boy whose eyes have been removed by operation because of cancer entered the Maryland School for the Blind, at Overlea, Md., Sunday.

Glenn's right eye was removed in 1947 when he was 22 months old and about a year later the left eye had to be removed.

A well developed child for his age, he plays with other children and never gets off of the pavement or near the curb.

His mother, Stella DiCheria, said she took him to visit a friend in Barton Thursday night and he went through the unfamiliar house without difficulty.

A year ago friends, recognizing the sad plight of the boy, became interested in trying to help. Mrs. Grant Warnick and Mrs. Russell Fitzgerald suggested the idea of getting the boy a "Seeing Eye Dog."

They consulted Edwin M. Horchler, a blind attorney of Cumberland, who stated the boy was too young for a seeing eye dog. He suggested some means be used to teach Glenn how to use his hands instead of his eyes until he is old enough to enter school.

Mrs. Warnick made arrangements for Burza Hanlin, chief of police, to receive contributions from those desiring to aid Glenn to get an education.

Contributions amounting to $802.29 have been placed in the Citizens National Bank by a committee composed of Mrs. Warnick, Burza Hanlin, and George W. Daddysman. Checks for $45.55 for necessary clothing required by the school for his entrance and $25 for his mother to take him to the school were received.

Many of the contributions were from out of town. The committee would appreciate donations from any persons or organizations.

Fort Ashby High School Offers Vets' Training

Night Classes Open In Commercial Course

FORT ASHBY, W. Va.—William Marker, commercial instructor of Fort Ashby High School, announces that veterans who have or have not completed high school and desire to enroll in typing I and Bookkeeping and Accounting I, may register for the second session at the Fort Ashby High School Tuesday, September 19, 8 p. m., (DST).

He also states that the school will be open for any non-veteran that may desire to enroll, including women.

Marker, states that the school will be conducted on a half-time basis which will require the veterans to attend school 12 hours a week in order for the veteran to receive subsistence allowance. The school will be conducted three nights a week from 6:30 to 10:30.

Any veteran who wants to enter training under provisions of the GI Bill must start before July 25, 1951. The law provides that a course of education or training shall be initiated before the termination of 4 years after the date of discharge or by July 25, 1951, whichever is the later, and that such education or training cannot be afforded beyond July 25, 1956, except for those veterans who enlisted under the Voluntary Recruitment Act of October 6, 1945. Therefore, a veteran otherwise eligible must have commenced and actually be pursuing his course of education or training on July 25, 1951, or the date four years after discharge, whichever is later, except where his attendance is interrupted because of the normal interruptions for summer vacations, or other reasons beyond the control of the veteran.

If the veteran has been in training once under the GI Bill, but now wishes to take a second course in a different field, Public Law 610, recently passed by Congress, gives him a new opportunity to make application for this change, even if he has once been denied a change.

For more information on this new change in the law, veterans should contact their nearest Veterans Administration office, or Marker at his home in Fort Ashby or phone 2761.

Marker urges all veterans who wishes to enroll to apply for a Certificate of Eligibility at the Veterans Administration and present it when enrolling.

Swanton Man Takes Milk Testing Course

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Sept. 11 (AP) — A woman showed up today to take the Dairy Herd Improvement Association's annual two-week short course for milk testers.

Marvin E. Senger, extension dairyman who conducted the course at the University of Maryland said as far as he knows Miss Rose Hussell of Point Pleasant, W. Va., is the first woman ever to take it.

The testers learn to determine whether dairy cows are giving enough butterfat to show a profit for farmers. They usually get jobs with the various dairy herd associations when they've completed the course.

Four Maryland men round out the class: George Paffenbarger of Boyds, James Flaherty of Woodbine, Paul Bernard of Swanton and W. Ben Wilson, Jr., of Bozman.

Sniper Took Life Of Pfc. Bishop

A North Korean sniper's bullet took the life of Pfc. Donald Bishop, 19, one of the first area soldiers to be killed in Korea, according to a letter to his sister, Mrs. Catherine Williams, 114 Blaul Avenue, from Bishop's commanding officer.

First Lieut. Thomas F. Begley, commander of a company of the Eighth Cavalry Regiment, informed Mrs. Williams that "Up to the time he was killed, Donald had fought with his company through one battle and through an enemy roadblock."

"The day he was killed the company was in a position on a high hill. Across a small ravine was another hill. Early in the day we received sniper fire from an enemy 'burp' gun across the ravine, according to Lieut. Begley.

"After several hours of searching and shooting with our weapons and heavy mortars, the sniper was still not silenced.

"Donald was hit on the finger and at first it didn't seem serious, but further examination showed he suffered a body wound. In about two minutes time he passed away," the officer related.

The action took place near Kumchon on August 1.

"Donald was 'our buddy'—and we miss him," Lieut. Begley said.

"Perhaps there is one consolation—he will be spared the Hell of War that many of us have yet to face," the officer wrote.

Lieut. Begley said he met Pfc. Bishop in February while maneuvers were taking place at Mount Fuji in Japan.

"I knew him as a combat soldier and there was one thing in particular that made him stand out—that was his tenacity and strong heart," Lieut. Begley stated.

"He had a will power that carried him far beyond his normal physical capacitly. For example, he carried a heavy automatic rifle and many rounds of ammunition on rigorous marches when even larger men with lighter loads were unable to stand the strain," the officer pointed out.

Mrs. Williams was also informed that her brother has been posthumously awarded the Purple Heart Medal.

FREDERICK BAUER, 45, World War II veteran of the American and German armies, takes his wife and children aboard the Navy transport "General Blatchford" at New York for his return trip to Germany. Losing a five-year battle to remain in the United States, Bauer was ordered deported to Germany on grounds he lost his U. S. citizenship when he joined the German army in 1938. Mrs. Bauer remained with her husband during his stay on Ellis island, and their two youngsters were born there. Bauer's wife, Wilma, is an American citizen, a native of Rockville, Ind. (International Soundphoto)

Sniper Took Life Of Pfc. Bishop

A North Korean sniper's bullet took the life of Pfc. Donald Bishop, 19, one of the first area soldiers to be killed in Korea, according to a letter to his sister, Mrs. Catherine Williams, 114 Blaul Avenue, from Bishop's commanding officer.

First Lieut. Thomas F. Begley, commander of a company of the Eighth Cavalry Regiment, informed Mrs. Williams that "Up to the time he was killed, Donald had fought with his company through one battle and through an enemy roadblock."

"The day he was killed the company was in a position on a high hill. Across a small ravine was another hill. Early in the day we received sniper fire from an enemy 'burp' gun across the ravine, according to Lieut. Begley.

"After several hours of searching and shooting with our weapons and heavy mortars, the sniper was still not silenced.

"Donald was hit on the finger and at first it didn't seem serious, but further examination showed he suffered a body wound. In about two minutes time he passed away," the officer related.

The action took place near Kumchon on August 1.

"Donald was 'our buddy'—and we miss him," Lieut. Begley said.

"Perhaps there is one consolation—he will be spared the Hell of War that many of us have yet to face," the officer wrote.

Lieut. Begley said he met Pfc. Bishop in February while maneuvers were taking place at Mount Fuji in Japan.

"I knew him as a combat soldier and there was one thing in particular that made him stand out—that was his tenacity and strong heart," Lieut. Begley stated.

"He had a will power that carried him far beyond his normal physical capacitly. For example, he carried a heavy automatic rifle and many rounds of ammunition on rigorous marches when even larger men with lighter loads were unable to stand the strain," the officer pointed out.

Mrs. Williams was also informed that her brother has been posthumously awarded the Purple Heart Medal.

FREDERICK BAUER, 45, World War II veteran of the American and German armies, takes his wife and children aboard the Navy transport "General Blatchford" at New York for his return trip to Germany. Losing a five-year battle to remain in the United States, Bauer was ordered deported to Germany on grounds he lost his U. S. citizenship when he joined the German army in 1938. Mrs. Bauer remained with her husband during his stay on Ellis island, and their two youngsters were born there. Bauer's wife, Wilma, is an American citizen, a native of Rockville, Ind. (International Soundphoto)

Crippled Children's League ReportsPolioFundExhausted

OUTSTANDING service to the community of Hamilton, Ohio, brings Joan Crawford, 13, the title of Queen of 1950 National Kids' Day. Selection was made by a panel of judges representing some 3,150 Kiwanis clubs. Joan's prize is a free trip to Hollywood. (Central Press)

EDITOR and general manager Claude Bellanger of the Parisien Libere, large French morning daily founded in 1944 by the French resistance group, soon will visit the United States. He will be one of the guests of the American Society of Newspaper Editors and American Press Institute which have invited newspapermen from throughout the world to visit the United States and meet American newspapermen. (International)

The Allegany County League for Crippled Children has exhausted its current funds, according to Mrs. H. Opie Annan, executive secretary, and may have to appeal to the national organization, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Meanwhile the national foundation has called upon chapters of local level to pledge their uncommitted funds to polio epidemic relief, the local chapter was informed.

Mrs. Annan said there are eight new cases being treated under the league program and one case is being treated in Children's Hospital in Baltimore.

An additional 50 cases have been under treatment for over one year, with some being under the care of the league for five years. This includes fitting of special braces and other costly procedures.

As an example of the cost of treating polio patients, Mrs. Annan said that hospital cases which are under care in Baltimore cost the county league approximately $300 monthly.

The national group issued its appeal through Basil O'Connor, president of the foundation.

To meet an "undeniably grave" financial situation caused by mounting polio incidence adding to the staggering load of last year's patients who still require care, the National Foundation president has asked the cooperation of all chapters of making another public appeal this year.

In a letter to all chapter chairmen, O'Connor said:

"Financally, our situation is this. There is, roughly, $1,100,000 available for epidemic aid at national headquarters, and we are advancing more than $1,000,000 a month to chapters whose treasuries have been exhausted by the heavy case loads they are carrying.

"Although we can't know to the exact dollar what our 1950 patient care bill will be, careful analysis indicates that our epidemic aid funds will be exhausted within the first ten days of November.

"On the other hand, there was enough money in the combined treasuries of our solvent chapters on August 1 to carry us through the year, if it were made available to national headquarters to be used only for epidemic relief. We believe that you, as well as those who contributed this money, would want these reserves used before we make another public appeal."

He also urged local units to start planning their organizational work for advance special gifts to the 1951 March of Dimes, and to forward the national 50 per cent share as collected, instead of holding the funds until after the January drive.

"Without question, the job we have set ourselves is difficult," he concluded. "But I am sure that all of us will make whatever secrifices are necessary to fulfill our obligations to those who are stricken by infantile paralysis . . . and I pray that there will not be many more of them."

Crippled Children's League Reports Polio Fund Exhausted

OUTSTANDING service to the community of Hamilton, Ohio, brings Joan Crawford, 13, the title of Queen of 1950 National Kids' Day. Selection was made by a panel of judges representing some 3,150 Kiwanis clubs. Joan's prize is a free trip to Hollywood. (Central Press)

EDITOR and general manager Claude Bellanger of the Parisien Libere, large French morning daily founded in 1944 by the French resistance group, soon will visit the United States. He will be one of the guests of the American Society of Newspaper Editors and American Press Institute which have invited newspapermen from throughout the world to visit the United States and meet American newspapermen. (International)

The Allegany County League for Crippled Children has exhausted its current funds, according to Mrs. H. Opie Annan, executive secretary, and may have to appeal to the national organization, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Meanwhile the national foundation has called upon chapters of local level to pledge their uncommitted funds to polio epidemic relief, the local chapter was informed.

Mrs. Annan said there are eight new cases being treated under the league program and one case is being treated in Children's Hospital in Baltimore.

An additional 50 cases have been under treatment for over one year, with some being under the care of the league for five years. This includes fitting of special braces and other costly procedures.

As an example of the cost of treating polio patients, Mrs. Annan said that hospital cases which are under care in Baltimore cost the county league approximately $300 monthly.

The national group issued its appeal through Basil O'Connor, president of the foundation.

To meet an "undeniably grave" financial situation caused by mounting polio incidence adding to the staggering load of last year's patients who still require care, the National Foundation president has asked the cooperation of all chapters of making another public appeal this year.

In a letter to all chapter chairmen, O'Connor said:

"Financally, our situation is this. There is, roughly, $1,100,000 available for epidemic aid at national headquarters, and we are advancing more than $1,000,000 a month to chapters whose treasuries have been exhausted by the heavy case loads they are carrying.

"Although we can't know to the exact dollar what our 1950 patient care bill will be, careful analysis indicates that our epidemic aid funds will be exhausted within the first ten days of November.

"On the other hand, there was enough money in the combined treasuries of our solvent chapters on August 1 to carry us through the year, if it were made available to national headquarters to be used only for epidemic relief. We believe that you, as well as those who contributed this money, would want these reserves used before we make another public appeal."

He also urged local units to start planning their organizational work for advance special gifts to the 1951 March of Dimes, and to forward the national 50 per cent share as collected, instead of holding the funds until after the January drive.

"Without question, the job we have set ourselves is difficult," he concluded. "But I am sure that all of us will make whatever secrifices are necessary to fulfill our obligations to those who are stricken by infantile paralysis . . . and I pray that there will not be many more of them."

New York Yanks Regain Lead; Sheetz Scores 10th Shutout

Senators Fall Before Slants Of Ford, Lopat

World Champions Win, 5-1, 6-2 And Now Top Tigers By Half-Game

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—The New York Yankees swept into first place in the seething American League pennant battle by capturing a doubleheader from the Washington Senators, 5-1 and 6-2, behind the nifty pitching of lefthanders Ed Ford and Ed Lopat.

The victories gave the World Champions a half-game edge over the idle Detroit Tigers. Boston's third-place Red Sox also didn't play.

Ford, the unbeaten 21-year-old rookie, hurled a three-hitter for his sixth straight victory in the opener. Lopat delieved starter Tommy Byrne in the fifth inning of the second game and blanked the Senators the rest of the way. It was his 16th triumph.

As a result of today's action, here's the way the American League scramble shapes up:

	W.	L.	Pct.	GB.	Left
NEW YORK	86	49	.637	—	19
DETROIT	85	49	.634	½	20
BOSTON	85	51	.625	1½	18

Jackie Jensen, the 23-year-old former football star from California, paced New York's 10-hit attack in the opener against loser Al Sima and Con Marrero. He clubbed three safeties, including his first big league homer.

After spotting Washington a 1-0 lead in the first inning, the Yanks scored twice in the fourth inning to give Ford all the margin he needed. A double by Jensen and a string of singles by Joe DiMaggio, Larry Berra and Hank Bauer shoved the tallies across.

Thre more runs in the eighth inning cemented the game.

In the second game, Lopat gave up only two hits in 4⅔ innings. A three-run blast off Canralio Consuegra in the second inning was all the advantage the New Yorkers needed.

DiMaggio ignited the rally with a double to center. Billy Johnson sent DiMaggio across with a single. After Jerry Coleman smacked another one-baser, Byrne doubled to left, scoring both runners.

The Yankees picked up another run in the third inning. The Senators got that one back in the fourth on singles by Mickey Vernon, Gil Coan and Mickey Grasso and when they put two runners on base with one out in the fifth, Lopat replaced Byrne.

The crafty southpaw got Vernon to hit into a force play. Yost, who was on third, scored. Sam Mele then grounded out to end the uprising. Box:

Bill Goodman's .361 Tops Junior League Hitters

Evers Jumps To Third With Average Of .340

CHICAGO, Sept. 11 (AP)—Boston's Bill Goodman still held a substantial lead in the American League batting race today with .361, but the surprise of last week was a 22-point surge by Detroit's Hoot Evers.

Bill Goodman

Evers, who amassed a sensational total of 20 hits in 29 AB's, climbed from .318 to a third-spot .340 during the week.

Goodman's five hits in 21 trips dropped him seven points from .368 last week, but he still was 16 points ahead of runner-up George Kell of Detroit, who slackened two points to .345.

New York's Hank Bauer took over fourth place with an unchanged .336 as Cleveland's Larry Doby slumped seven points to a fifth-spot .334. Other leaders through Sunday's games included Dom DiMaggio, Boston, .333; Walt Dropo and Al Zarilla, both of Boston, .331 each; Phil Rizzuto, New York, .327; and Paul Lehner, Philadelphia, .319.

Kell was a double leader in the specialized departments with 195 hits and 48 doubles as he collected six more two-baggers among his 10 hits for the week.

Three of Evers' 20 blows were triples, giving him the lead in that department with 11. Cleveland's Al Rosen continued as the home-run leader with 34, adding one, while Dropo banged across nine more runs to grab undisputed RBI leadership with 139.

Another double leader was Boston's DiMaggio with 123 runs and 15 stolen bases.

Forty Niners Give Releases To Celeri, Herman Wedemeyer

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11 (AP)—Bob Celeri, who quarterbacked the University of California into the Rose Bowl last season, was one of eight players released today by the San Francisco Forty Niners of the National Professional Football League. He had seen but little service in the five exhibition games played by the local pro club.

Also cut from the squad was Herman Wedemeyer, former St. Mary's halfback star who had played with the Los Angeles Dons and the Baltimore Colts in the defunct professional All-America Conference.

Murray Fans 13, Dodgers Win, 3-2

Wayne Murray struck out 13 batsmen as the Dodgers of Cumberland's Little Baseball League defeated the Keyser (W.Va.) All-Stars last night at Penn Avenue Field by the score of 3-2.

Only five hits were made in the game and one was a circuit blast by Billy Fair of the Dodgers in the third inning. Singles by Billy Buzzard and Dunbar produced what proved to be the winning marker in the 5th inning.

Bailey and Keedy, Keyser pitchers, fanned 11. Score:

KEYSER ALL-STARS	000 011—2	2	3
DODGERS	011 01x—3	3	3

Bailey, Keedy (3) and Main. Murray and R. Fair.

Red Sox Installed Favorites In A.L.'s Hot Pennant Race

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—Broadway odds-makers have installed the Boston Red Sox as the favorites in the red hot American League pennant race. The prices quoted are 7½ or 8½ to 5.

Both the Detroit Tigers and New York Yankees, are bracketed at 2 to 1 with the skidding Cleveland Indians at 15 to 1.

The Red Sox, winners of 23 out of their last 26 games, are in third place by a full game with 18 left to play. Of these 12 will be played away from home and six in Fenway Park.

DaGrosa Blasts New York Boxing At NBA Meeting

Pennsy Commissioner Calls IBC "Monopoly"

By JACK HAND

DETROIT, Sept. 11 (AP) — Ray Robinson will get the next shot at the world middleweight title if the National Boxing Association has its way.

The NBA convention today notified champion Jake LaMotta and challenger Laurent Dauthuille of France that the winner of their Wednesday night championship bout at Detroit's Olympia must face Robinson within six months. They didn't say maybe. However no penalties were provided.

Both fighters were told they must "disregard any previous contracts" that might call for a return match. As such a contract is supposed to exist, there may be a hitch in the Robinson match.

LaMotta already has agreed to fight Sugar Ray at Chicago Stadium in the second week of February if he beats the Frenchman. However, Dauthuille is bound by a "verbal agreement" to give Jake a return go if he lifts the crown. It is not known what the NBA will do if Dauthuille's representative Max Waxman, refuses to go along with the convention's wishes.

The LaMotta-Robinson contract was brought before the convention in a surprise move by Truman Gibson of Chicago, secretary of the International Boxing Club. Jake would get 45 percent and Robinson 15 percent.

The vote requiring the LaMotta-Dauthuille winner to fight Robinson let the NBA out of a tight spot. Its executive committee had ordered LaMotta to meet Robinson before Oct. 12 or give up the title. Now he has more time. Also the money will go on a 1951 income tax return, not 1950.

An attempt to force staging of the Robinson bout in NBA territory was defeated by a 20-6 vote despite the violent objection of John (Ox) Da Grosa, Pennsylvania Boxing Commissioner. Da Grosa accused the IBC of being a "monopoly" and decried New York boxing as "The Black Hole of Calcutta." Da Grosa and the Pennsylvania commission already recognize Robinson as middleweight champ after his June win over Robert Villemain.

Pfc. Curt Simmons Arrives At Camp

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 11 (AP)—Army Pfc. Curt Simmons, ace lefthander for the Philadelphia Phillies this season and first major league ball player to be inducted into federal service because of the Korean emergency, arrived at nearby Camp Atterbury today with fellow members of the 28th Infantry Division, Pennsylvania National Guard.

Simmons left Philadelphia yesterday afternoon with some 1,000 others from the Philadelphia area. The 19-car special train carrying them was several hours ahead of the troop train that was wrecked at Coshocton, Ohio, killing more than 30 GI's.

Woody In Spotlight • • • Bulldogs Take Bite

Goss Returns To Ring • • • Sorrentino Is Tops

By C. V. BURNS

"Woody" Woodson's stellar pitching performances which brought Westvaco two wins in as many days over Midland's Indians on Saturday and Sunday (7-0 and 9-8) revived memories of 1948 when the same twirler "stole the show" by hurling the 4th place Queen City Brewers to victory over Westvaco in the Bi-State Baseball League's final playoff series.

Woody Woodson

In the league's playoff semi-final two years ago, the Brewers eliminated the Cumberland Amvets, three games to two. Woodson won the opener, 10-3, and lost the 4th game, a 14-inning thriller, 1-0. In the 5th and deciding game in which Holsinger bester Danny Drew, 7-1, Woodson batted in five of Queen City's runs.

To climax his brilliant 1948 performance, Woodson, who now coaches at Bruce High School, bagged four games in the title series with the Papermakers. He won the first, 1-0; fourth, 4-2; sixth, 9-4, and 7th, 7-6. Westvaco copped the second, third and fifth games, 13-7, 4-3 in 13 innings and 3-0.

"Woody" not only swept four straight in the final series but he fanned 10 batsmen and scored the winning run in the 8th inning of the grand finale at Memorial Park.

Performances such as those turned in by one W. E. Woodson, Jr., in 1948 are not easily forgotten.

When Bobby Goss steps through the ropes to fight Phil Christmas, Johnstown bantam, at Penn Avenue Field Thursday night in Matchmaker Green's amateur show, it will be his first appearance in a local ring since October 25, 1948. Bobby TKO'd Ray Harris of Pittsburgh in 1:06 of the third round on that date.

The long-time-no-see scrapper began fighting in 1946 and he's won 20 of 29 bouts.

One of Bobby's most prized wins was over Eddie Marsh, the good Johnstown lightweight who is now fighting pro. That was one of the few defeats on Eddie's record and was dealt by Goss October 28, 1946 at SS. Peter and Paul gym when the boys were flyweights.

Halfback Sonny Pifer accounted for the lone score in the third period when he smashed off tackle from the five.

Bell Figures Eight Wins Can Cop Title

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (INS)—National Football League Commissioner Bert Bell said in New York today the team that can win eight out of 12 games this season will be the NFL champion.

Citing the equality of competition and banner atendances for pre-season exhibition games, Bell also predicted that 1950 will be professional football's greatest year.

The season kicks off officially at Philadelphia Saturday night when the Philadelphia Eagles, champ of the old NFL, oppose the champion Cleveland Browns of the defunct All-American Conference, at Municipal Stadium.

Musial Leads Batting Race By Big Margin

Stan Coasting Along To Fourth Swat Title

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—With his most serious competition eliminated by an inter-league trade and an injury, Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals appears to be just coasting along into his fourth National League batting championship.

Musial maintained his .359 hitting pace last week while Johnny Hopp, who had been running a weak second in the National League race, was shipped from the last-place Pittsburgh Pirates to the pennant-contending New York Yankees in the American League.

Stan Musial

Hopp's departure gave the runner-up spot to Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson, who is out of action with a hand injury and who may not return before the end of the season, Oct. 1. Robinson's current average is .331. In third place up through Sunday's games, is Sid Gordon of the Boston Braves with .322.

In addition, Musial is approaching the magic marks of 200 hits and 100 runs. Leading the league in that department, Musial already has made 180 basehits and needs to average under one a game for the rest of the season to reach 200 for the fifth time in his major league career.

He needs to score only one more run to make it 100 or more for the seventh straight season. In scoring, he is behind Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner, with 103 and New York's Eddie Stanky, with 101, but Musial holds the lead in another department, doubles, with 41.

Kiner continues to set the home run pace with 43, ten more than Chicago's Andy Pafko, and his 110 runs batted in puts him second to Del Ennis of the Phillies, who has 115. Richie Ashburn of Philadelphia still leads in triples and Sam Jethroe of Boston is far ahead in base stealing with 32.

Other batters in the "Big Ten" include Pafko at .319; Ashburn, Duke Snider, Brooklyn; Ted Kluszewski, Cincinnati; Don Mueller, New York, and Walker Cooper, Boston, tied at .314 and Carl Furillo, Brooklyn, .311.

Sal Maglie of the New York Giants, who started as a relief specialist and worked up to a starting job, heads the pitching list with 15 games won and 3 lost. Jim Konstanty, the Phillies' reliable relief man, is second with 14-5 for .737.

Sam Snead Will Not Defend State Title

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 11 (AP) — Sammy Snead notified tournament officials formally tonight he would not defend his state open golf title here beginning Friday.

Snead was heading westward to seek new major honors while leaving the West Virginia title to a scramble among other state professionals and amateurs.

The nation's leading links money winner advised tournament director Jack Hoblitzell that he was sorry he could not play here because of "too much pressure" from a sporting goods company with which he has a contract.

Tigers Seek Title

The third game of the best-of-five series between "Sparky" Chisholm's Tigers and Bob Collins' Red Sox, for the championship of the Little Baseball League will be played today at 7:45 o'clock at Penn Avenue Field.

The Tigers won the first two games, 25-7 and 8-3 and can bag the title by winning tonight's game.

Eagles' Ace Masters Elks By 4-0 Score

Opens Title Series With 2-Hitter; DeLuca, Minnick Belt Homers

Allan Sheetz, whose specialty is whitewashing the opposition, pitched the Fraternal Order of Eagles to within one game of the championship of the County Softball League when he blanked the B. P. O. Elks by the score of 4-0 in the opener of the circuit's final best-of-three games Shaughnessy playoff series.

It was Sheetz's third straight shutout triumph in the playoffs and his 10th whitewashing job of the season. He put the Eagles in the finals by skunking the Loyal Order of Moose, 1-0 and 5-0. During the regular campaign Al blanked the Moose, Outdoor Club and Amvets each twice and the K. of C. once and posted an 11-2 record.

In yesterday's contest, Sheetz let the Elks down with two hits—Walter "Pooch" Orndorff's double in the 5th and Van Roby's single in the 7th—fanned seven and failed to issue a free ticket. The players that hit were the only Elks to get on base.

Sammy DeLuca belted a homer to give the Eagles their first tally in the opening frame. Jim Wilkinson issued three walks and these passes coupled with Walburn's error on Jim Rice's grounder netted the Eagles another marker in the second.

After Lamar Minnick belted a homer down the left field line in the 6th, Manager Jimmie Angellatta's outfit added another tally when Aman walked, raced to third on two passed balls, Weaver walked, and Aman pilfered home on a successful double steal.

"Bee" Orndorff's catch of Doyle George's long fly and Lamar Minnick's shoestring stab of a liner from "Tag" Reel's bat were the fielding highlights.

Minnick topped the hitters with a homer and single.

The second game of the series is set for 6 p. m. Wednesday at Penn Avenue Field. Box:

Louis, Charles Sign Contracts

Bomber Scales 218, Ezzard Weighs 185

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—Joe Louis and Ezzard Charles signed "the papers" today for their world heavyweight title fight Sept. 27 at Yankee Stadium.

The two fighters motored in from their respective training camps to appear before Chairman Eddie Eagan of the State Athletic Commission, apply their names to the contracts and undergo physical examinations.

Egan told them something they already knew—that the winner will be recognized as the heavyweight champion in New York State as well as the rest of the world.

This state, he explained, had held the title "in abeyance" since Louis announced his retirement 18 months ago.

The old champion looked good. The jowls he wore only a month ago had disappeared and he obviously had taken much weight off his mid-section. Although the two men were not required to weight in today, Louis was understood to be around 218 pounds to Charles' 185.

Ezzard, slender and wiry, kept a sober face through most of today's ceremony and had to be coaxed by the photographers to smile.

Cleveland Purchases Adams From Chicago

CLEVELAND, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians today purchased outfielder Herb Adams from the Chicago White Sox for the $10,000 waiver price and also bought two players from Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Adams, 22, from Oak Park, Ill., fields and bats left-handed. He hit .293 in 56 games with the White Sox during his first major league season, 1949. This season he has batted .203 in 22 games.

Second Baseman Doug Hansen and Pitcher Robert Chakales were obtained from the Tribe's farm club at Wilkes-Barre in the Class A Eastern League. They will report to the Indians' training camp at Tucson next spring.

New York Yanks Regain Lead; Sheetz Scores 10th Shutout

Senators Fall Before Slants Of Ford, Lopat

World Champions Win, 5-1, 6-2 And Now Top Tigers By Half-Game

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—The New York Yankees swept into first place in the seething American League pennant battle by capturing a doubleheader from the Washington Senators, 5-1 and 6-2, behind the nifty pitching of lefthanders Ed Ford and Ed Lopat.

The victories gave the World Champions a half-game edge over the idle Detroit Tigers. Boston's third-place Red Sox also didn't play.

Ford, the unbeaten 21-year-old rookie, hurled a three-hitter for his sixth straight victory in the opener. Lopat delieved starter Tommy Byrne in the fifth inning of the second game and blanked the Senators the rest of the way. It was his 16th triumph.

As a result of today's action, here's the way the American League scramble shapes up:

	W.	L.	Pct.	GB.	Left
NEW YORK	86	49	.637	—	19
DETROIT	85	49	.634	½	20
BOSTON	85	51	.625	1½	18

Jackie Jensen, the 23-year-old former football star from California, paced New York's 10-hit attack in the opener against loser Al Sima and Con Marrero. He clubbed three safeties, including his first big league homer.

After spotting Washington a 1-0 lead in the first inning, the Yanks scored twice in the fourth inning to give Ford all the margin he needed. A double by Jensen and a string of singles by Joe DiMaggio, Larry Berra and Hank Bauer shoved the tallies across.

Thre more runs in the eighth inning cemented the game.

In the second game, Lopat gave up only two hits in 4⅔ innings. A three-run blast off Canralio Consuegra in the second inning was all the advantage the New Yorkers needed.

DiMaggio ignited the rally with a double to center. Billy Johnson sent DiMaggio across with a single. After Jerry Coleman smacked another one-baser, Byrne doubled to left, scoring both runners.

The Yankees picked up another run in the third inning. The Senators got that one back in the fourth on singles by Mickey Vernon, Gil Coan and Mickey Grasso and when they put two runners on base with one out in the fifth, Lopat replaced Byrne.

The crafty southpaw got Vernon to hit into a force play. Yost, who was on third, scored. Sam Mele then grounded out to end the uprising. Box:

Bill Goodman's .361 Tops Junior League Hitters

Evers Jumps To Third With Average Of .340

CHICAGO, Sept. 11 (AP)—Boston's Bill Goodman still held a substantial lead in the American League batting race today with .361, but the surprise of last week was a 22-point surge by Detroit's Hoot Evers.

Bill Goodman

Evers, who amassed a sensational total of 20 hits in 29 AB's, climbed from .318 to a third - spot .340 during the week.

Goodman's five hits in 21 trips dropped him seven points from .368 last week, but he still was 16 points ahead of runner-up George Kell of Detroit, who slackened two points to .345.

New York's Hank Bauer took over fourth place with an unchanged .336 as Cleveland's Larry Doby slumped seven points to a fifth-spot .334. Other leaders through Sunday's games included Dom DiMaggio, Boston, .333; Walt Dropo and Al Zarilla, both of Boston, .331 each; Phil Rizzuto, New York, .327; and Paul Lehner, Philadelphia, .319.

Kell was a double leader in the specialized departments with 195 hits and 48 doubles as he collected six more two-baggers among his 10 hits for the week.

Three of Evers' 20 blows were triples, giving him the lead in that department with 11. Cleveland's Al Rosen continued as the home-run leader with 34, adding one, while Dropo banged across nine more runs to grab undisputed RBI leadership with 139.

Another double leader was Boston's DiMaggio with 123 runs and 15 stolen bases.

Forty Niners Give Releases To Celeri, Herman Wedemeyer

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11 (AP)—Bob Celeri, who quarterbacked the University of California into the Rose Bowl last season, was one of eight players released today by the San Francisco Forty Niners of the National Professional Football League. He had seen but little service in the five exhibition games played by the local pro club.

Also cut from the squad was Herman Wedemeyer, former St. Mary's halfback star who had played with the Los Angeles Dons and the Baltimore Colts in the defunct professional All - America Conference.

Murray Fans 13, Dodgers Win, 3-2

Wayne Murray struck out 13 batsmen as the Dodgers of Cumberland's Little Baseball League defeated the Keyser (W.Va.) All-Stars last night at Penn Avenue Field by the score of 3-2.

Only five hits were made in the game and one was a circuit blast by Billy Fair of the Dodgers in the third inning. Singles by Billy Buzzard and Dunbar produced what proved to be the winning marker in the 5th inning.

Bailey and Keedy, Keyser pitchers, fanned 11. Score:

DaGrosa Blasts New York Boxing At NBA Meeting

Pennsy Commissioner Calls IBC "Monopoly"

By JACK HAND

DETROIT, Sept. 11 (AP) — Ray Robinson will get the next shot at the world middleweight title if the National Boxing Association has its way.

The NBA convention today notified champion Jake LaMotta and challenger Laurent Dauthuille of France that the winner of their Wednesday night championship bout at Detroit's Olympia must face Robinson within six months. They didn't say maybe. However no penalties were provided.

Both fighters were told they must "disregard any previous contracts" that might call for a return match. As such a contract is supposed to exist, there may be a hitch in the Robinson match.

LaMotta already has agreed to fight Sugar Ray at Chicago Stadium in the second week of February if he beats the Frenchman. However, Dauthuille is bound by a "verbal agreement" to give Jake a return go if he lifts the crown. It is not known what the NBA will do if Dauthuille's representative Max Waxman, refuses to go along with the convention's wishes.

The LaMotta - Robinson contract was brought before the convention in a surprise move by Truman Gibson of Chicago, secretary of the International Boxing Club. Jake would get 45 percent and Robinson 15 percent.

The vote requiring the LaMotta-Dauthuille winner to fight Robinson let the NBA out of a tight spot. Its executive committee had ordered LaMotta to meet Robinson before Oct. 12 or give up the title. Now he has more time. Also the money will go on a 1951 income tax return, not 1950.

An attempt to force staging of the Robinson bout in NBA territory was defeated by a 20-6 vote despite the violent objection of John (Ox) Da Grosa, Pennsylvania Boxing Commissioner. Da Grosa accused the IBC of being a "monopoly" and decried New York boxing as "The Black Hole of Calcutta." Da Grosa and the Pennsylvania commission already recognize Robinson as middleweight champ after his June win over Robert Villemain.

"Woody" Woodson's stellar pitching performances which brought Westvaco two wins in as many days over Midland's Indians on Saturday and Sunday (7-0 and 9-8) revived memories of 1948 when the same twirler "stole the show" by hurling the 4th place Queen City Brewers to victory over Westvaco in the Bi-State Baseball League's final playoff series.

Woody Woodson

In the league's playoff semi-final two years ago, the Brewers eliminated the Cumberland Amvets, three games to two. Woodson won the opener, 10-3, and lost the 4th game, a 14-inning thriller, 1-0. In the 5th and deciding game in which Holsinger bester Danny Drew, 7-1, Woodson batted in five of Queen City's runs.

To climax his brilliant 1948 performance, Woodson, who now coaches at Bruce High School, bagged four games in the title series with the Papermakers. He won the first, 1-0; fourth, 4-2; sixth, 9-4, and 7th, 7-6. Westvaco copped the second, third and fifth games, 13-7, 4-3 in 13 innings and 3-0.

"Woody" not only swept four straight in the final series but he fanned 10 batsmen and scored the winning run in the 8th inning of the grand finale at Memorial Park.

Performances such as those turned in by one W. E. Woodson, Jr., in 1948 are not easily forgotten.

When Bobby Goss steps through the ropes to fight Phil Christmas, Johnstown bantam, at Penn Avenue Field Thursday night in Matchmaker Green's amateur show, it will be his first appearance in a local ring since October 25, 1948. Bobby TKO'd Ray Harris of Pittsburgh in 1:06 of the third round on that date.

The long-time-no-see scrapper began fighting in 1946 and he's won 20 of 29 bouts.

One of Bobby's most prized wins was over Eddie Marsh, the good Johnstown lightweight who is now fighting pro. That was one of the few defeats on Eddie's record and was dealt by Goss October 28, 1946 at SS. Peter and Paul gym when the boys were flyweights.

Musial Leads Batting Race By Big Margin

Stan Coasting Along To Fourth Swat Title

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—With his most serious competition eliminated by an inter-league trade and an injury, Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals appears to be just coasting along into his fourth National League batting championship.

Stan Musial

Musial maintained his .359 hitting pace last week while Johnny Hopp, who had been running a weak second in the National League race, was shipped from the last-place Pittsburgh Pirates to the pennant-contending New York Yankees in the American League.

Hopp's departure gave the runner-up spot to Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson, who is out of action with a hand injury and who may not return before the end of the season, Oct. 1. Robinson's current average is .331. In third place up through Sunday's games, is Sid Gordon of the Boston Braves with .322.

In addition, Musial is approaching the magic marks of 200 hits and 100 runs. Leading the league in that department, Musial already has made 180 basehits and needs to average under one a game for the rest of the season to reach 200 for the fifth time in his major league career.

He needs to score only one more run to make it 100 or more for the seventh straight season. In scoring, he is behind Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner, with 103 and New York's Eddie Stanky, with 101, but Musial holds the lead in another department, doubles, with 41.

Kiner continues to set the home run pace with 43, ten more than Chicago's Andy Pafko, and his 110 runs batted in puts him second to Del Ennis of the Phillies, who has 115. Richie Ashburn of Philadelphia still leads in triples and Sam Jethroe of Boston is far ahead in base stealing with 32.

Other batters in the "Big Ten" include Pafko at .319; Ashburn, Duke Snider, Brooklyn; Ted Kluszewski, Cincinnati; Don Mueller, New York, and Walker Cooper, Boston, tied at .314 and Carl Furillo, Brooklyn, .311.

Sal Maglie of the New York Giants, who started as a relief specialist and worked up to a starting job, heads the pitching list with 15 games won and 3 lost. Jim Konstanty, the Phillies' reliable relief man, is second with 14-5 for .737.

Sam Snead Will Not Defend State Title

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 11 (AP) — Sammy Snead notified tournament officials formally tonight he would not defend his state open golf title here beginning Friday.

Snead was heading westward to seek new major honors while leaving the West Virginia title to a scramble among other state professionals and amateurs.

The nation's leading links money winner advised tournament director Jack Hoblitzell that he was sorry he could not play here because of "too much pressure" from a sporting goods company with which he has a contract.

Tigers Seek Title

The third game of the best-of-five series between "Sparky" Chisholm's Tigers and Bob Collins' Red Sox, for the championship of the Little Baseball League will be played today at 7:45 o'clock at Penn Avenue Field.

The Tigers won the first two games, 25-7 and 8-3 and can bag the title by winning tonight's game.

Eagles' Ace Masters Elks By 4-0 Score

Opens Title Series With 2-Hitter; DeLuca, Minnick Belt Homers

Allan Sheetz, whose specialty is whitewashing the opposition, pitched the Fraternal Order of Eagles to within one game of the championship of the County Softball League when he blanked the B. P. O. Elks by the score of 4-0 in the opener of the circuit's final best-of-three games Shaughnessy playoff series.

It was Sheetz's third straight shutout triumph in the playoffs and his 10th whitewashing job of the season. He put the Eagles in the finals by skunking the Loyal Order of Moose, 1-0 and 5-0. During the regular campaign Al blanked the Moose, Outdoor Club and Amvets each twice and the K. of C. once and posted an 11-2 record.

In yesterday's contest, Sheetz let the Elks down with two hits—Walter "Pooch" Orndorff's double in the 5th and Van Roby's single in the 7th—fanned seven and failed to issue a free ticket. The players that hit were the only Elks to get on base.

Sammy DeLuca belted a homer to give the Eagles their first tally in the opening frame. Jim Wilkinson issued three walks and these passes coupled with Walburn's error on Jim Rice's grounder netted the Eagles another marker in the second.

After Lamar Minnick belted a homer down the left field line in the 6th, Manager Jimmie Angellatta's outfit added another tally when Aman walked, raced to third on two passed balls, Weaver walked, and Aman pilfered home on a successful double steal.

"Bee" Orndorff's catch of Doyle George's long fly and Lamar Minnick's shoestring stab of a liner from "Tag" Reel's bat were the fielding highlights.

Minnick topped the hitters with a homer and single.

The second game of the series is set for 6 p. m. Wednesday at Penn Avenue Field. Box:

Louis, Charles Sign Contracts

Bomber Scales 218, Ezzard Weighs 185

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—Joe Louis and Ezzard Charles signed "the papers" today for their world heavyweight title fight Sept. 27 at Yankee Stadium.

The two fighters motored in from their respective training camps to appear before Chairman Eddie Eagan of the State Athletic Commission, apply their names to the contracts and undergo physical examinations.

Egan told them something they already knew—that the winner will be recognized as the heavyweight champion in New York State as well as the rest of the world.

This state, he explained, had held the title "in abeyance" since Louis announced his retirement 18 months ago.

The old champion looked good. The jowls he wore only a month ago had disappeared and he obviously had taken much weight off his mid-section. Although the two men were not required to weight in today, Louis was understood to be around 218 pounds to Charles' 185.

Ezzard, slender and wiry, kept a sober face through most of today's ceremony and had to be coaxed by the photographers to smile.

Cleveland Purchases Adams From Chicago

CLEVELAND, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians today purchased outfielder Herb Adams from the Chicago White Sox for the $10,000 waiver price and also bought two players from Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Adams, 22, from Oak Park, Ill., fields and bats left-handed. He hit .293 in 56 games with the White Sox during his first major league season, 1949. This season he has batted .203 in 22 games.

Second Baseman Doug Hansen and Pitcher Robert Chakales were obtained from the Tribe's farm club at Wilkes-Barre in the Class A Eastern League. They will report to the Indians' training camp at Tucson next spring.

CCC Women To Play

Opening round matches in the Cumberland Country Club women's fall golf tournament are scheduled for today at 10 a. m. Women playing in these matches will have preference to the caddies.

Bed O' Roses Cops Feature

Eric Guerin Rides Aqueduct Winner

AQUEDUCT, L. I., Sept. 11 (AP)—Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's Bed O'Roses, preparing for the Beldame Handicap to be run Saturday at Aqueduct Race Track, ran over a field of four rivals in the tangled, an allowance sprint of six furlongs, before 14,344 fans who defied an all-day rain to take in the day's sport.

Eric Guerin, the sit-still rider from the Bayou country of Louisiana, who had the mount made Bed O'Roses his third winner of the day. He had previously won with Orientation, also a Vanderbilt horse, and Queue, who races in the colors of James Cox Brady.

Bed O'Roses stepped the six furlongs in 1:12, good for the sloppy track. She scored by two lengths and a half over William Ziegler Jr.'s Leading Home. The latter was a neck to the good of P. A. Markey's Baby Comet.

Bed O'Roses was the queen of the 2-year-old fillies last year. In five starts this year, she has a record of two victories and three seconds and a total bankroll of $222,400.

Chicle 2nd Scores

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 11 (AP)—Palatine Stable's Chicle 2nd, a topnotch grass performer, found the main course to his liking this afternoon when he splashed to victory in the featured Harry Hackney Memorial Purse at Atlantic City.

The Argentine-bred, which was acquired by Frank Rosen of Philadelphia for $7,500 via the claiming ranks, galloped to an easy five lengths triumph in the mile and a sixteenth test. Frank A. Bonsal's Pilaster, a good stakes winner last year, came from last place in the field of five to garner second money of the $4,500 purse.

Pilaster was easily second best six lengths before Mrs. Samuel M. Pistorio's Golden Bull. Equinox 2nd and Stud Poker rounded out the field in that order.

Chicle 2nd with Joe Culmone registering his 44th win of the session, was favored at $5.60 and $2.80.

Mesmer Is Victor

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Sept. 11 (AP)—Honeywell Farm's Mesmer scored his third consecutive victory today by hustling to a length victory in Narragansett Park's featured Evergreen Purse.

Favorite of the 9,603 crowd Mesmer traveled the muddy mile and sixteenth course in 1:47 2-5 and paid $5.20, $3.80 and $3.20.

Fantsy Farm's Grand Entry paid $7.20 and $5.20. My Sole Mio Stable's Reich Jane was third and paid $9.40.

55,000 Tickets Sold For Pro Loop Opener

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—Asked if there was any reason for scheduling the Cleveland Browns, four year winners in the defunct All-America Conference, against the Philadelphia Eagles, twice winners in the old National Football League, as the opening game in 1950 Commissioner Bert Bell today said:

"Yes. Money."

The two teams open the NFL season at Philadelphia Saturday night. Bell said that already 55,000 tickets have been sold. Another 20,000 are expected to be sold.

Citizens Of Cumberland
Your Freedom Is At Stake!

★ THE BILL OF RIGHTS was virtually destroyed when the City Council passed the "anti-Communist" ordinance.

★ THE ORDINANCE is clearly unconstitutional.

★ YOU are the target of this ordinance.

★ IF YOU BELIEVE in the traditional American rights of free speech, press and assembly; if you fight for a decent living standard in the face of war-profiteering; if you advocate peace—you may be labelled a "Communist."

★ YOU ARE AT THE MERCY of any Cumberland McCarthy or paid informer or company stooge.

★ CUMBERLAND IS A CRITICAL AREA. The plight of its unemployed is of national concern. The ordinance is a smokescreen to conceal this and other real problems of the people.

★ SUPPRESSION OF ANY POLITICAL PARTY, including the Communist Party, is reminiscent of nazi Germany and fascist Italy where democratic government was completely destroyed.

★ THE ORDINANCE IS A SNEAK ATTEMPT to bypass widespread opposition to the Ober Law and its counterpart, the McCarran-Kilgore Bills.

★ ACT NOW! Write, phone, visit your City Councilman and the Mayor. Ask them to repeal this ordinance.

★ TUNE IN ON STATION WTBO TUESDAY EVENING SEPTEMBER 12th at 6:45 P. M. Hear Louis Shub, candidate for Governor, and Sam Fox, candidate for the U. S. Senate, on the Progressive Party ticket, speak on this ordinance.

Bed O' Roses Cops Feature

Eric Guerin Rides Aqueduct Winner

AQUEDUCT, L. I., Sept. 11 (AP)—Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's Bed O'Roses, preparing for the Beldame Handicap to be run Saturday at Aqueduct Race Track, ran over a field of four rivals in the tangled, an allowance sprint of six furlongs, before 14,344 fans who defied an all-day rain to take in the day's sport.

Eric Guerin, the sit-still rider from the Bayou country of Louisiana, who had the mount made Bed O'Roses his third winner of the day. He had previously won with Orientation, also a Vanderbilt horse, and Queue, who races in the colors of James Cox Brady.

Bed O'Roses stepped the six furlongs in 1:12, good for the sloppy track. She scored by two lengths and a half over William Ziegler Jr.'s Leading Home. The latter was a neck to the good of P. A. Markey's Baby Comet.

Bed O'Roses was the queen of the 2-year-old fillies last year. In five starts this year, she has a record of two victories and three seconds and a total bankroll of $222,400.

Chicle 2nd Scores

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 11 (AP)—Palatine Stable's Chicle 2nd, a topnotch grass performer, found the main course to his liking this afternoon when he splashed to victory in the featured Harry Hackney Memorial Purse at Atlantic City.

The Argentine-bred, which was acquired by Frank Rosen of Philadelphia for $7,500 via the claiming ranks, galloped to an easy five lengths triumph in the mile and a sixteenth test. Frank A. Bonsal's Pilaster, a good stakes winner last year, came from last place in the field of five to garner second money of the $4,500 purse.

Pilaster was easily second best six lengths before Mrs. Samuel M. Pistorio's Golden Bull. Equinox 2nd and Stud Poker rounded out the field in that order.

Chicle 2nd with Joe Culmone registering his 44th win of the session, was favored at $5.60 and $2.80.

Mesmer Is Victor

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Sept. 11 (AP)—Honeywell Farm's Mesmer scored his third consecutive victory today by hustling to a length victory in Narragansett Park's featured Evergreen Purse.

Favorite of the 9,603 crowd Mesmer traveled the muddy mile and sixteenth course in 1:47 2-5 and paid $5.20, $3.80 and $3.20.

Fantsy Farm's Grand Entry paid $7.20 and $5.20. My Sole Mio Stable's Reich Jane was third and paid $9.40.

55,000 Tickets Sold For Pro Loop Opener

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—Asked if there was any reason for scheduling the Cleveland Browns, four year winners in the defunct All-America Conference, against the Philadelphia Eagles, twice winners in the old National Football League, as the opening game in 1950 Commissioner Bert Bell today said:

"Yes. Money."

The two teams open the NFL season at Philadelphia Saturday night. Bell said that already 55,000 tickets have been sold. Another 20,000 are expected to be sold.

Your Freedom Is At Stake!

★ THE BILL OF RIGHTS was virtually destroyed when the City Council passed the "anti-Communist" ordinance.

★ THE ORDINANCE is clearly unconstitutional.

★ YOU are the target of this ordinance.

★ IF YOU BELIEVE in the traditional American rights of free speech, press and assembly; if you fight for a decent living standard in the face of war-profiteering; if you advocate peace—you may be labelled a "Communist."

★ YOU ARE AT THE MERCY of any Cumberland McCarthy or paid informer or company stooge.

★ CUMBERLAND IS A CRITICAL AREA. The plight of its unemployed is of national concern. The ordinance is a smokescreen to conceal this and other real problems of the people.

★ SUPPRESSION OF ANY POLITICAL PARTY, including the Communist Party, is reminiscent of nazi Germany and fascist Italy where democratic government was completely destroyed.

★ THE ORDINANCE IS A SNEAK ATTEMPT to bypass widespread opposition to the Ober Law and its counterpart, the McCarran-Kilgore Bills.

★ ACT NOW! Write, phone, visit your City Councilman and the Mayor. Ask them to repeal this ordinance.

★ TUNE IN ON STATION WTBO TUESDAY EVENING SEPTEMBER 12th at 6:45 P. M. Hear Louis Shub, candidate for Governor, and Sam Fox, candidate for the U. S. Senate, on the Progressive Party ticket, speak on this ordinance.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 11 (INS)—The old traveling show by caravan, without the medicine man, is Roy Rogers' amazing new plan. Traveling in a trailer and a chartered bus, Roy is starting a new trend in American entertainment by giving the people in 27 cities a western variety revue.

Roy Rogers

Roy, his wife, Dale Evans, his horse, Trigger, Bullet, his German shepherd dog, and an aggregation of western singers and dancers will put on two shows a day. The company leaves by train for Kansas City, opening November 27, and then completes the remainder of the tour in a luxurious trailer ending in Texas, Dale Evans' home state. She was born in Uvalde.

For the third time in little more than a year MGM has given Mario Lanza a salary boost, which tells how well they think of him. I hear the rushes of "Caruso" are sensationally good.

Both Mario and James Whitmore, MGM's two new male stars, have been doing very well separately. Now they will be teamed in "The Big Cast," an original musical comedy, for Joe Pasternak.

The picture has an amusing idea about a singer and his manager, who are devoted pals—except when they steal each other's girls. There will be six very "sexy" ladies to steal from each other.

Rosalind Russell writes that there doesn't seem to be the frantic worry in New York about the picture business that exists with certain producers here. Says Roz:

"Freddie (Brisson) worked like a demon, and the results are grand. We have complete financing for three pictures. He brought two completed scripts with him."

Another thing that happened to my friend, Miss Russell, which she didn't tell me, is an offer to do a fashion commentary on the radio. But Roz likes movies, and is too good an actress to even consider a job that would perhaps interfere with her screen career.

I returned to my desk to find "Summer Stock" bringing cheers for Judy Garland. But the rumors that she is well enough to go into "Showboat" are not true. Her doctor will not permit her to work yet, and "Showboat" gets going September 20.

Ava Gardner is Julie, Kathryn Grayson as Magnolia and Howard Keel as Ravenol, have already been announced. But the real surprise is that Joe E. Brown will play Captain Andy, the role that made Charlie Winninger famous.

What many people do not remember is that Magnolia, on the stage, is the big role. Norma Terris created it on the stage and Helen Morgan played Julie.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Jean Hagen is naming her baby Christine Patricia. The Patricia is for Pat Neal with whom she roomed at school.

The $100,000 Louis De Rochemont paid for "The Cardinal," will be doled out over a period of years. He'd like Spencer Tracy for the title role. What a fascinating story that is.

The Collier Young-Joan Fontaine romance seems to be thriving, and this, I must say, was a new one on me.

Anthony Dexter, who plays Valentino, has gone to Cleveland to meet his wife. They'll motor back in a new car. There's no truth in the rumor that they have separated.

Peter Lawford will be away from Hollywood for a long time when he goes to Australia to make "Kangaroo." From Australia he'll go to India, then to Italy, France and England. His girl friend, Sharman Douglas, has been visiting in Madrid with Elizabeth Firestone, who is scoring a picture there.

Deborah Kerr writes that her daughter, Melanie, will have to be taught English. She's picked up Italian and speaks it like a native.

Tony Martin gets the Dick Haymes radio spot.

Robert Helpman, who comes here with the Sadler's Wells ballet in October, will be the house guest of Laurence Olivier and Vivien Leigh.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

MIRROR OF YOUR MIND

By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist

Is it stupidity that makes people bores?

Answer: Not mainly. What makes someone bore you usually is his being so absorbed in himself that he makes no effort to include you in the conversation. The most brilliant person in the world becomes a bore when he talks about nothing but himself and his ideas and feelings. For, of course, to be bored means to have your own desire for self-expression thwarted. But self-centered people are apt to be stupid, anyhow, because it is by studying things and people other than ourselves that intelligence is mainly developed.

Do your actions show whether you are "normal"?

Answer: No, says Dr. Lawrence S. Kubie, noted psychoanalyst. "It is not what we do but why we do it, which in the ultimate analysis determines normality," and a person's success in adapting himself to what society expects of him is no sign that he's not doing so for neurotic reasons. Neurotics tend to be rigid and inflexible because they are governed by unconscious motives which they cannot control, while normal people can be flexible and realistic. Preventing neurosis means "extending the area of conscious motivation."

Are these people who can't stand a quiet life?

Answer: Yes. If you grew up feeling that "life is a battle," and dared to fight rather than admit you were licked, you have probably developed a degree of aggressiveness which cannot be wholly suppressed, even if you reach the point where you have nothing much to fight for. A criminal or delinquent who decides to "go straight" may find life intolerably dull—or may develop a neurosis—if he does not give his "fighting impulses" a healthy outlet by picking a job, or anyhow a hobby that involves an element of struggle.

Hurt In Fall

KEYSER, W. Va.—Joseph Taylor, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Taylor, South Main street, is improving at Potomac Valley Hospital, where he was admitted after a fall on the elementary school grounds.

Railroad Tragedy In Ohio Sobers Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Sept. 11 (AP)—A wartime tragedy—without a shot fired — sobered this Eastern Pennsylvania anthracite city today.

A week of mourning was proclaimed officially by Mayor Luther W. Kniffen.

Everywhere the people had only one topic of conversation, the Ohio train wreck where nearly 100 men from this area were killed or injured. The casualty list here seemed certain to be longer than from a World War Two battle.

Only yesterday, families and friends had gathered at railroad stations to say goodbye to the boys going off, again, to war. The citizen-soldiers of the 28th Division, Pennsylvania National Guard, were on active duty in the Korean emergency.

First word of the tragic wreck came today as the city and surrounding communities, many of them coal mining centers, started another business day. Almost instantly radio and newspaper telephones were flooded with calls from anxious relatives.

For long hours there was no information for the callers. Then news accounts and a steady stream of phone calls from Ohio began bringing the first reports. The Army delayed any public announcement until next of kin of the victims were notified.

People who talked by phone with their guardsmen in Ohio said they were told the boys were standing in long lines waiting to get calls through over the few circuits available.

10-Story Fall Just Breeze To Youngster

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—Four-year-oldKaren Weiler skipped down a hospital corridor to meet her mother today—nine days after she fell out of a ten-story window.

After the little girl plunged through a narrow entilating window in the Stuyvesant Town development and landed on a grassy plot, she was found to have no broken or serious nerve injuries but was kept at the hospital for observation.

Forcing Speeding Car Into Reverse Fatal

SELMA, Calif., Sept. 11 (AP)—A 62-year-old Ellensburg, Wash., man was killed three miles south of here today when he suddenly grabbed the gear shift of the car his wife was driving and forced it into reverse position, the State Highway Patrol reported.

Killed was Luther Harrel. His wife, Edith, 35, and son, Robert, 14, escaped serious injury.

Patrolman A. R. Miller said the 1950 model car skidded and rolled more than 500 feet before it came to rest upside down.

Miller said neither the wife nor son could explain Harrel's act.

Neurotics tend to be rigid and inflexible because they are governed by unconscious motives which they cannot control, while normal people can be flexible and realistic. Preventing neurosis means "extending the area of conscious motivation."

Are these people who can't stand a quiet life?

Answer: Yes. If you grew up feeling that "life is a battle," and dared to fight rather than admit you were licked, you have probably developed a degree of aggressiveness which cannot be wholly suppressed, even if you reach the point where you have nothing much to fight for. A criminal or delinquent who decides to "go straight" may find life intolerably dull—or may develop a neurosis—if he does not give his "fighting impulses" a healthy outlet by picking a job, or anyhow a hobby that involves an element of struggle.

KEYSER, W. Va.—Joseph Taylor, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Taylor, South Main street, is improving at Potomac Valley Hospital, where he was admitted after a fall on the elementary school grounds.

Railroad Tragedy In Ohio Sobers Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Sept. 11 (AP)—A wartime tragedy—without a shot fired — sobered this Eastern Pennsylvania anthracite city today.

A week of mourning was proclaimed officially by Mayor Luther W. Kniffen.

Everywhere the people had only one topic of conversation, the Ohio train wreck where nearly 100 men from this area were killed or injured. The casualty list here seemed certain to be longer than from a World War Two battle.

Only yesterday, families and friends had gathered at railroad stations to say goodbye to the boys going off, again, to war. The citizen-soldiers of the 28th Division, Pennsylvania National Guard, were on active duty in the Korean emergency.

First word of the tragic wreck came today as the city and surrounding communities, many of them coal mining centers, started another business day. Almost instantly radio and newspaper telephones were flooded with calls from anxious relatives.

For long hours there was no information for the callers. Then news accounts and a steady stream of phone calls from Ohio began bringing the first reports. The Army delayed any public announcement until next of kin of the victims were notified.

People who talked by phone with their guardsmen in Ohio said they were told the boys were standing in long lines waiting to get calls through over the few circuits available.

10-Story Fall Just Breeze To Youngster

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—Four-year-oldKaren Weiler skipped down a hospital corridor to meet her mother today—nine days after she fell out of a ten-story window.

After the little girl plunged through a narrow entilating window in the Stuyvesant Town development and landed on a grassy plot, she was found to have no broken or serious nerve injuries but was kept at the hospital for observation.

Forcing Speeding Car Into Reverse Fatal

SELMA, Calif., Sept. 11 (AP)—A 62-year-old Ellensburg, Wash., man was killed three miles south of here today when he suddenly grabbed the gear shift of the car his wife was driving and forced it into reverse position, the State Highway Patrol reported.

Killed was Luther Harrel. His wife, Edith, 35, and son, Robert, 14, escaped serious injury.

Patrolman A. R. Miller said the 1950 model car skidded and rolled more than 500 feet before it came to rest upside down.

Miller said neither the wife nor son could explain Harrel's act.

Sixteenth Century Lunacy On Twentieth Century Kinescope

If you've never heard Ralph Edwards' "Truth Or Consequences," which seems inconceivable, you must at least have heard heard some nasty rumors about the granddaddy of giveaway shows, all of them true. The latest and nastiest rumar of all is that "Truth Or Consequences" has taken to television. I'm afraid the latest rumor is true, too. I got witnesses.

John Crosby

In girding his loins for this latest assault on my sinsibilities, Mr. Edwards declared: "From the time the show first went on the air over ten years ago, we knew we had a number one television show, but we also knew that it could not be simulcast. On the air for ten years we have aimed our stunts at a listening audience and thrown out stunt after stunt because it was too visual. These stunts are filed against the day of television."

• — • — •

Altogether, that's an extraordinary statement designed to show what an astute student of show business Mr. Edwards is, and the fact that there isn't a great deal of truth in the statement could only be caviled at by people who go around caviling at everything. Me, for instance. Mr. Edwards' device for aiming a stunt at a listening, as opposed to a visual, audience consisted generally of dunking some innocent into a tank of water (splash) throwing a pie in his face (squish) or making him kiss a cow under the illusion that it is a pretty girl (moo). As any fool can readily see, these are primarily auditory stunts, not conducive to a visual or television audience.

Well, I was right there, pencil in hand, to see how well Mr. Edwards had converted himself to visibility. On his first TV show a blindfolded man was persuaded to kiss a cow under the illusion that it was a pretty girl. No, no pies in the face yet. But then this is only the first show.

The main stunt of the evening consisted of dressing a lot of outlandish contestants in outlandish costumes and perpetrating them on an audience full of dance lovers in another auditorium as a serious dance group. This must have been one of the stunts that Edwards had lying around in his files waiting for television. Probably waiting since 1942, when Edwards pulled a similar stunt on a bunch of music lovers at Town Hall in New York, introducing a housewife from New Jersey who had never touched a violin as the "distinguished European concert violinist, "Yifnuff."

She scraped away at the violin while the Town Hall audience stared incredulously. Essentially, the same thing happened on the TV show. A collection of paunchy middle-aged men and women, who looked as if they had been swept out of a convention in Los Angeles, were dressed in ballet skirts, doublet and hose, and feathers and they inflicted what Mr. Edwards' referred to as "The Dance Of The Delirious Deer" on an audience of astonished dance lovers who were at first astonished and then embarrassed. Of course, a ballet is a little more visual than a violin, but otherwise it was the same eight-year-old stunt.

I'm afraid I can't agree that "Truth Or Consequences" is a natural for televisioin. The radio version, which is still on the air, was the ultimate in silliness, but, at least, it was decently veiled. Its television counterpart is a monstrosity of vulgarity. It reminded me strongly of Bedlam, the first English lunatic asylum, whose inmates provided amusement to throngs of spectators.

The shrieks of laughter from the studio audience were enough to drive the children from the room, gibbering with fright. My children, of course, are well inured to bloodshed in all its most devilish forms. They're not yet accustomed to lunacy. The quality of this laughter—if that's the word for it—is quite different from that at even the dizziest comedy show. You'll find traces in it of embarrassment, of sadism and of drooling idocy. It's a frightening noise, and to be sure you can see it as well as hear it, the cameras are frequently turned on the audience while they are in labor.

The visible Mr. Edwards is a popeyed gentleman with a wolfish grin who acts and even looks a little like a maniacal Bob Hope. The participants are indescribable except to someone with the gifts and the space of Charles Dickens. Their appearances are not helped much by the fact that this horrible operation is on kinescope, which is murky enough to malign them and not quite dark enough to obscure them entirely.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

M I G K N A V D B H G K N V R V N H P F E D Q D T G J D V S D S N V Q G L X S M S D J I D H-H F A X E B G M S D V — N H H F V G A.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: DO YOU HEAR THE CHILDREN WEEPING, O MY BROTHERS, ERE THE SORROW COMES WITH YEARS?—BROWNING.

Auto And Radio-TV Issues Lead Stock Market Decline

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—Automobile and radio-television issues were singled out by selling forces in a generally lower market today.

Losses generally ranged to around $2 a share but most were under $1.

Two flurries of activity, one at the opening and other in late trading, helped to boost sales. Turnover of 1,860,000 shares compared with 1,960,000 Friday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped .3 of one point to 79.2. The industrial group was almost entirely responsible for the setback. Rails were unchanged and utilities up a trifle on average.

The market was the broadest in around three weeks with 1,52 individual issues changing hands. Of these 613 declined and 319 advanced.

New highs for 1950 were touched during the day by around 60 stocks while only two hit bottom for the year.

Canadian Pacific, most active stock, finished ⅛ ahead at 18⅜. Gains were also posted for N. Y. Central at 14⅝, Baltimore & Ohio 12⅞, Pennsylvania R. R. 18¾, and Santa Fe 127 (up 2).

On the losing side were Southern Railway, Chesapeake & Ohio, Union Pacific and Nickel Plate.

General Motors, Chrysler and Studebaker each lost around a point at the worst but ended with fractional declines, GM at 90⅛, Chrysler 68¾ and Studebaker 30⅝.

Lower prices were paid for U. S. Steel, Sinclair Oil, Bethlehem Steel, Goodrich, General Bronze, Kennecott Copper, Dow Chemical, Eastman Kodak, American Woolen, and U. S. Gypsum.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

"The Authority on Authorities"

TWO PRINCIPLES JOINED

WITH many a crucial decision regarding a bid or play, you find two principles joined and working together, each recommending the same action. One of these is that, after you have done otherwise than support your partner's suit bid on your first chance to do so, your ensuing shift to it, or raise of it, does not guarantee him more than three cards of the suit. Another is that, after either partner has made any bid which guarantees strength for the side to reach a game, some less-than-game bid which gives information is nearly always sounder than any call of game, which might prevent the pair from reaching the best contract.

6 ♠ (or E 7 ♥ — W 7 ♠)

In the first sequence above, you find the sad bidding done on this big hand by a group in Milwaukee, Wis., which included Algat S. Lindberg, who sat in the East and reported it. He is completely right in his contention that West, over the 3-Hearts, should have bid 3-Spades—for two reasons. First, it was terrifically informative, showing the second round three-card fit. Second, it was less than game and insisted that the force continue at least once more or until there was a game contract. The bidding then should have proceeded as in the second sequence above, to a spade grand slam, via Blackwood to show West's two aces.

When East took out the 3-No Trumps to 4-Spades, it was the higher-ranking of the two bid majors, taking full responsibility for a five contract. After that, if West was sick he should have bid 5-Spades, or if well 6-Spades.

But East also erred. Over the 3-No Trumps, most good players would have been ready to slam without knowing of a fit and would have bid as in the third sequence, bulling into grand slam if they felt extra strong, otherwise small slam, which West would put into spades.

Auto And Radio-TV Issues Lead Stock Market Decline

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—Automobile and radio-television issues were singled out by selling forces in a generally lower market today.

Losses generally ranged to around $2 a share but most were under $1.

Two flurries of activity, one at the opening and other in late trading, helped to boost sales. Turnover of 1,860,000 shares compared with 1,960,000 Friday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped .3 of one point to 79.2. The industrial group was almost entirely responsible for the setback. Rails were unchanged and utilities up a trifle on average.

The market was the broadest in around three weeks with 1,52 individual issues changing hands. Of these 613 declined and 319 advanced.

New highs for 1950 were touched during the day by around 60 stocks while only two hit bottom for the year.

Canadian Pacific, most active stock, finished ⅛ ahead at 18⅝. Gains were also posted for N. Y. Central at 14⅝, Baltimore & Ohio 12⅞, Pennsylvania R. R. 18¾, and Santa Fe 127 (up 2).

On the losing side were Southern Railway, Chesapeake & Ohio, Union Pacific and Nickel Plate.

General Motors, Chrysler and Studebaker each lost around a point at the worst but ended with fractional declines, GM at 90⅛, Chrysler 68¾ and Studebaker 30⅝.

Lower prices were paid for U. S. Steel, Sinclair Oil, Bethlehem Steel, Goodrich, General Bronze, Kennecott Copper, Dow Chemical, Eastman Kodak, American Woolen, and U. S. Gypsum.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

"The Authority on Authorities"

TWO PRINCIPLES JOINED

WITH many a crucial decision regarding a bid or play, you find two principles joined and working together, each recommending the same action. One of these is that, after you have done otherwise than support your partner's suit bid on your first chance to do so, your ensuing shift to it, or raise of it, does not guarantee him more than three cards of the suit. Another is that, after either partner has made any bid which guarantees strength for the side to reach a game, some less-than-game bid which gives information is nearly always sounder than any call of game, which might prevent the pair from reaching the best contract.

In the first sequence above, you find the sad bidding done on this big hand by a group in Milwaukee, Wis., which included Algat S. Lindberg, who sat in the East and reported it. He is completely right in his contention that West, over the 2-Hearts, should have bid 3-Spades—for two reasons. First, it was terrifically informative, showing the second round three-card fit. Second, it was less than game and insisted that the force continue at least once more or until there was a game contract. The bidding then should have proceeded as in the second sequence above, to a spade grand slam, via Blackwood to show West's two aces.

When East took out the 3-No Trumps to 4-Spades, it was the higher-ranking of the two bid majors, taking full responsibility for a five contract. After that, if West was sick he should have bid 5-Spades, or if well 6-Spades.

But East also erred. Over the 3-No Trumps, most good players would have been ready to slam without knowing of a fit and would have bid as in the third sequence, bulling into grand slam if they felt extra strong, otherwise small slam, which West would put into spades.

Meeting Fails To Break Garrett School Deadlock

Official Action May Be Taken

A meeting between the Garrett County Board of Education and a committee representing parents of Kitzmiller area students yesterday failed to break a deadlock which led to a strike at Kitzmiller School last Wednesday.

The conference, held at the Board of Education office in Oakland, was attended by a six-man Kitzmiller area committee including Dr. Ralph Calendrella, Carl Schell, Earl Shank, Charles McIntyre, Frank Daymon and Kenneth Bray.

Representing the Board of Education were its three members, Walter W. Dawson, president, Stuart F. Hamill, Oakland, and C. O. Bender, Grantsville; Asa T. Matthews, attorney, and R. Bowen Hardesty, superintendent of schools.

May Take Legal Steps

Officials of the school board promised full cooperation in meeting the problems of the Kitzmiller area but declined to grant the request for dropping plans for school consolidation. They also declared that if the condition did not clear up soon, they would take such action as was prescribed by law.

Dawson reported the board assured the committee it would do all in its power for Kitzmiller in the way of instruction and pointed out it had already made certain improvements, including an additional teacher and additional classrooms to take care of crowded conditions there.

He said the Kitzmiller committee appeared to be interested in nothing but a guarantee that would retain the high school there as set out in its petition.

Dawson reported the board advised the committee the disputed building program had been set up according to law, that the law had been tested and affirmed by the court and that the school board had been eliminated from responsibility for the building program by the act of 1947.

Impossible To Meet Demand

He said the board assured the committee everything possible will be done to make things pleasant and that every facility will be furnished to carry on a good program at Kitzmiller but that it was impossible to give the committee what it asked.

If the situation does not clear up, Dawson reported, the board will have to take the regular course prescribed by law.

An informed source said Chapter 21 of the school laws says: "Any person who induces or attempts to induce any child to absent himself unlawfully from school . . . . shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not more than $50."

Only 23 of the some 300 students who were slated to enroll at the Kitzmiller school reported for classes yesterday.

The committee has asked a guarantee that the school consolidation program for Garrett County will be cancelled as far as Kitzmiller is concerned and the present school enlarged.

Carl Schell, a member of the committee, said no decision was made at the meeting which he described as an amicable one.

Dr. Calendrella, reached early this morning, said "the strike will continue."

He termed the meeting with the school board "a waste of time" and said the school officials evaded the issue and that the committee "walked out" of the conference.

New Homes To Total $25,500

Home building apparently is on the upswing here, as three permits were granted yesterday in the city engineer's office for new residences estimated to total $25,500.

That amount is the largest single day's permit total for new homes in recent months.

Joseph W. and Della B. Pratt, 418 Broadway, obtained a permit to build a $10,000 home at 513 Greenway Avenue. The two-story structure will be built of brick. Clyde Slider is the contractor.

A permit was issued to Merle Barnes, 508 Fectig Avenue, to build a one-story brick house on Lots 230, 229 and half of Lot 228, Frederick Street. Cost is estimated at $9,000 and work will be done by Quentin L. Griffey.

Mrs. J. F. Zimmerman, 520 Holland Street, obtained a permit to build a one and one-half story residence at 518 Holland Street. The brick structure is estimated to cost $6,500 and work will be done by Carl W. Abe, Fort Ashby, W. Va.

Road Specialist To Confer Here On Area Project

The State Roads Commission is sending its legal specialist to Cumberland — probably today — in an effort to speed up rights-of-way procedure for the Vale Summit Road improvement project.

The specialist, Joseph D. Buscher, special assistant to the Attorney General and administrative head of the roads commission's right-of-way division, visited Washington County yesterday.

Buscher is expected to arrive here today to confer with the Cumberland Contracting Company about the 2.2 miles widening, curve modification and resurfacing project running from Route 40 to Vale Summit.

The local firm was awarded a $571,775 contract last month for the Vale Summit job, but the roads commission has not been able to order it to proceed with the work because of rights-of-way troubles.

So far, the commission has obtained title to only 19 strips of property for the widening project with 22 more still needed.

In all, Buscher is aiming at working out problems now holding up four highway projects in Washington and Allegany counties. A commission spokesman said rights-of-way titles are the only thing holding up many of the projects.

Yesterday Buscher stopped in Hagerstown to see E. Stuart Bushong, Hagerstown attorney who will be the commission's legal representative in lining up the land for the highway improvements.

Aircraft Observers Named At Oldtown

Ross Shaw has been appointed chief aircraft observer in the Oldtown area by William Barger, chairman of the county's civilian defense program.

Shaw has selected George E. Deffinbaugh to assist him in instructing volunteer observers. Classes will get underway soon.

Four-Day Cooking School To Open Here This Morning

Final plans were completed last night for the four-day "Magic Meals Cooking School" which will open today at 9:15 a. m. at the Strand Theater. Doors of the theater will open at 8:30 a. m.

The school, presented as a public service by the Times-News papers, will feature up-to-the-minute ideas in meal planning.

Miss Edalene Stohr, nationally known home economist of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, will be in charge of the school. She will be assisted by Miss Nancy Carter.

The opening sessions of the school will be centered on "budget favorites," dollar savings recipes for foods such as pork shoulder roast, drumsticks, vegetable soup and smoked tongue.

A "Magic Meals" recipe book will be available without charge for all who attend the sessions.

Homemakers of the area are urged to attend each session since a different program will be presented each day.

Water Shortage Hampers LaVale School Schedule

Classes Dismissed As Supply Fails

LaVale Elementary School, seriously hampered by a water shortage, faces the possibility of a "no classes today but come back tomorrow" schedule unless a solution to the problem is found quickly.

Dr. Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of schools, ordered the 335 students dismissed at 1 p. m. yesterday, when Principal Nellie R. Powell advised him "there isn't enough water for sanitary conditions."

"The school simply cannot operate without water," Dr. Kopp said later in the day. He added, "It's a critical situation."

The LaVale School, comprised of grades one to six, relies on the LaVale Water Company for its supply, but D. Clifford Goodfellow, secretary-treasurer, said last night "there's no telling when operations will be back to normal."

Last year during a similar situation Dr. Kopp said the school was able to secure water from a tower operated by the Buchanan Lumber Company, but a new agreement could not be worked out.

The school resumed fall classes last Thursday but operated only on a half day schedule then and Friday in accordance with the county school schedule. There was a limited supply at the time, teachers said.

Yesterday morning, according to Miss Powell, it was necessary to cart water from other areas for the cafeteria. Toilet facilities and drinking fountains were dry.

On the advice of Dr. Kopp, the students were dismissed at 1 p. m. after the cafeteria lunch was served, but they were advised to return today at 9 a. m. "to resume classes if water conditions permitted."

Last night, however, Goodfellow said the possibility of the school having water today is very remote, for he intends to turn off ducts leading to lower LaVale, where the school is located, in order to supply residents of the upper LaVale area.

Goodfellow explained that the current shortage is the result of an extremely dry summer. He said most of the LaVale area depends on the company for water.

For that reason it is necessary during periods of low supply to shut off the water in one area so that the other can be provided for. This is done on an alternating basis with the upper area scheduled to have water today.

Informed of the Goodfellow statement last night, Miss Powell said she expects to try and operate school for a half day and then dismiss the students again at 1 p. m.

Such a schedule would prove satisfactory only on a temporary basis, she explained, with the more serious threat always looming of no school at all because of the water shortage.

Goodfellow said he could see no immediate solution to the problem since it depends on a refill of the reservoir. "Once we get the supply back to normal," Goodfellow said, "it will likely hold for the winter months."

Dr. Kopp said a study of the situation is being made but a solution is not in sight.

A new line that will carry water into the LaVale area from Cumber-

Long Suggests Use Of Police Clerks Here

Recommends Civil Service Tests

Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long last night recommended to the Mayor and Council that police clerks be assigned to replace the present desk sergeants on all three platoons.

Long also recommended:

1. That the Mayor and Council abolish all present sergeants' positions.

2. That the Civil Service Commission be asked to hold an examination for Police Department members who wish to qualify for the position of police clerk.

3. That police clerks "co-ordinate toward the establishment of a departmental central records section."

4. That salary of police clerks be $2,820 yearly, or $235 per month.

In a statement to the council, Long also declared:

"Several weeks ago, Sgt. (John E.) Sherry personally requested that he be returned to the daylight platoon at rank of patrolman and this request was granted.

"In an attempt to fill his second platoon desk sergeant's position, we had a meeting with the four existing sergeants, namely, Messrs. (Curtis) Kime, (C. C.) Roby, (John H.) Newhouse and (Frank A.) Shober and asked them to work out satisfactorily among themselves as to who would replace Sgt. Sherry.

"All four sergeants refused the assignment. It was therefore necessary to train a probationary officer for this assignment, which was a temporary gesture."

Long cited the "extreme importance of this position to the public and the Police Department."

Pay of desk sergeants at present is $225 monthly.

The council voted to refer the matter back to Long for further discussion of salary provisions with the men.

Pair Admit Bond Theft

Two youths charged with the theft of $2,925 worth of Series "E" government bonds from a car parked at Big Savage Mountain Inn August 31 yesterday waived preliminary hearings and were held for grand jury action.

Trooper Glen Kolk said the pair, Quinten Murphy, 20, Washington, and Lloyd Hopkins, 19, Los Angeles, admitted the theft after they were returned to Garrett County from New Jersey.

The two men signed statements admitting that they looted the cars of Mrs. Irene G. Lillie, Silver Spring, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barnhart, Pittsburgh. The bonds were taken from the Lillie car.

Police said all of the bonds as well as clothing taken from the Barnhart car were recovered and will be returned to the owners. Charges against the pair will be presented to the Garrett County Grand Jury which is now in session.

Draft Calls Hit City Police Force

A fair-size percentage of Cumberland's policemen may soon be changing the color of their uniform from dark blue to olive green or khaki, Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn said yesterday.

Already two members of the force have been called to serve with the United States Army, Flynn said, and two more have passed physical examinations and are expecting active duty assignment shortly.

Flynn listed the two already called as Kenneth Morrissey and Robert Hammond. Ralph Busser and Leo Law have passed physicals and are awaiting calls. All four are members of the reserve corps.

After a quick check of the officer roster, Flynn said there are at least 12 more members of the department likely to be called in the near future.

All of the 12, Flynn said, apparently meet the present draft law requirements. Some he said are also members of reserve units.

West Side Residents Call Smoke Meeting

A meeting of West Side citizens interested in smoke and dirt elimination will be held tonight at 7:45 o'clock in the West Side School Building, Paca Street.

Residents of the area already have held meetings in private homes, and have mapped out tentative plans toward faster elimination of smoke, fly ash and dirt from the city, particularly the West Side areas.

The meeting tonight is open to all residents of that area interested in the subject, sponsors say.

Among the committee members working on the program are James Alfred Avirett, Joseph J. Reinhart, Jr., F. Allan Weatherholt, and a number of others.

Births Announced

Memorial Hospital announced the following births yesterday:

Mr. and Mrs. William Hymes, 214 Central Avenue, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lazarus, Jr., 310 Washington Street, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Barzensky, 186½ North Centre Street, a daughter.

Use Of Cresap Street Cited In Proposal

Planning Group To Recommend Suggestion

An alternate route to allow traffic to avoid the sharp curve at Thomas Street and Oldtown Road was approved yesterday at a meeting of the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission.

Use of Cresap Street, a 40-foot wide two-way street, from the intersection of Virginia and Maryland Avenues to Thomas Street was suggested.

The recommendation was made by the office of City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer after a survey was made at the request of the Commission.

Chairman James Alfred Avirett pointed out that the alternate route has no bad grades and is much wider than Oldtown Road, which is 1i feet wide.

Narrowest point on Cresap Street is 35 feet, Avirett said.

In addition, the street enters Thomas Street at an open point where the view is unobstructed, Avirett said.

The Engineering Department pointed out that the alternate would solve the problem of avoiding the hazardous curve and would not involve costly property acquisition.

Avirett said the proposal will be recommended to the Mayor and Council. He suggested that Street Commissioner Lucile W. Roeder be asked to study the matter relative to possible improvements to Cresap Street, which has already been oiled.

William H. Marean of the City Engineering Department prepared surveys in connection with the proposal.

Also recommended yesterday by the department was continuation of the present one-way traffic setup on Wineow Street, which was started in connection with the flood control project.

Under the proposal. Wineow would be a one-way for southbound traffic while northbound vehicles would use Orchard Street.

This would eliminate the hazardous curve at the A. and P. Supermarket, Avirett explained.

Optimist Club Plans Fourth Anniversary

The Cumberland Optimist Club will observe its fourth anniversary with a banquet at Ali Ghan Shrine Club Saturday, September 30, according to Harold E. Naughton, president.

C. Lease Buzzard, Frederick, governor of the 16th Optimist District, will be a guest speaker and Optimists from Hagerstown, Frederick and a number of other district clubs are expected.

The local club was organized here September 27, 1946, and has carried on an active program of civic endeavor, especially in the field of boys' work. The club sponsors the Junior Optimists and the Opti-Mrs., both of which have large active memberships, Naughton noted.

Among some of the activities sponsored here by the club in the past four years are co-sponsorship of a large air show; co-sponsorship of a soap box derby; and sponsorship of a mammoth fireworks display last July 4 at Fairgo. The club plans to make this event an annual local attraction.

Byron Kight is chairman of the anniversary party committee and is assisted by Wayne George, Howard Douglas and Norman Ward. Kight and George are past presidents of the club. Kight said last night a program of entertainment is being arranged for the affair and will be announced later.

Boy, 14, Missing

Richard Gilpin, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gilpin, 100 East First Street, was reported missing last night and his parents told police he has not been seen since he left for school at 9 a. m.

The boy was described as tall for his age, dark brown hair and wearing brown pants and light shirt.

Auxiliary To Meet

American Legion Auxiliary Unit 209, Cresaptown, will meet Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Rose Fulkner, McMullen Highway.

Famous Roadsters Entered In Fourth Annual Horse Show

Three new entries in the fourth annual horse show to be held at Fairgo Saturday and Sunday were announced yesterday by William R. Carscaden, show secretary for the Cumberland Lions Club, sponsors.

These entries, all coming as surprises, Carscaden said, include champion horses and some of the most valuable animals of their class. All three are roadsters.

Among them is "Midnight Amber Angel" owned by A. R. DeBurgh, of Seattle, Wash. The horse has been shown at several eastern shows this season and was trained by J. Marlin Burkholder, of Marlburk Farms, Chambersburg, Pa.

"The Country Doctor," champion roadster at the famous Harrisburg, Pa., show, also from the Marlburk Farms, also will be shown.

"The Black Widow," a three-year-old roadster, is also to be shown here, Carscaden said. Burkholder, famed as a horse trainer, told Carscaden that this particular horse should develop into an outstanding roadster of its day.

The roadster class has always been a popular class with patrons of local horse shows and Carscaden said the Lions Club is pleased that these three animals are to be added to the list of entries.

The horses of this class are typical of America, representing the nation's driving horse. The animal is standard bred and is often a race horse. Manners in the class are quite essential and the horse to be a top roadster must have good conformation, finish and must show extreme speed in harness to a two or four-wheeled vehicle.

Carscaden said two shows are scheduled for Saturday and one for Sunday. Box seats and general admission tickets are available from all Lions and at the Cumberland Music Shop and National Shirt Shop.

Bird Club Will Hear Noted Ornithologist

A meeting of adult members of the Allegany County Bird Club is scheduled Friday evening at 8 o'clock at City Hall auditorium.

Chandler S. Robbins, noted ornithologist at the Patuxent Research Refuge, Laurel, Md., will be guest speaker.

His topic will be "Economic Value of Hawks, Migration Habits and Identification."

An open forum will be held after the lecture to provide a question and answer period.

Junior members of the Bird Club are invited, as well as all other interested persons.

Resolution To Acquire Flood Land Approved

Speedmeter Bids Will Be Asked

By a 4 to 1 vote, the Mayor and Council last night adopted a resolution authorizing federal condemnation proceedings on behalf of the city to obtain two properties needed in flood control work.

The resolution is the second of its kind passed in recent weeks.

Water Commissioner George H. Tederick voted against the resolution as well as the accompanying order authorizing City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson to issue a check for $11,700 to the government to cover costs.

Involved are the J. Alfred Reid property between Beall and Paca Streets, and property on the west side of Riverview Place owned by Irvin M. and Mabel W. Zimmerman.

City Attorney W. Earle Cobey explained that negotiations are continuing with the Zimmermans and that a setlement may be reached without resorting to condemnation proceedings.

The $11,700 figure includes not only appraised value but 20 per cent leeway for deficiency in any award given in condemnation proceedings, plus 10 per cent for acquisition costs.

To Ask Bids

Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long was authorized to ask bids for an electra-matic speedmeter, designed to curb speeding on city streets.

Council approved a request from Francis A. Kenney, chairman of the Allegany County Industrial Promotion Committee, for payment of $750 as the city's share in the $1,500 monthly payment due Richardson Wood, New York consultant, for his economic development services here.

A committee will be named to plan suitable observance of United Nations Day here on October 24, at the request of Gov. William Preston Lane, Jr.

The council voted to take a $100 full-page ad in the anniversary program of the Police and Fire Welfare Association. That amount is the same as last year.

Refered to Finance Commissioner William H. Buchholtz was an offer of $225 by Carl A. Robison, 26 Oak Street, for two city-owned lots at 200-201 Yale Street.

An invitation from the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin to attend its ninth annual meeting at Oakland September 22 and 23 was accepted.

Renews Request

A renewed request from George W. Keller, 208 Park Street, for a traffic light at Park and Harrison Streets was referred to Long with power to act.

Referred to Street Commissioner Lucile W. Roeder with power to act was a letter from Walter W. Seel, 721 Montgomery Avenue, stating that trees in front of his property are damaging the pavement and curb.

Richard Porter, 34 Greene Street, asked if the city plans to widen the extension of Frederick Street. Mrs. Roeder informed him that State Roads Commission specifications must be followed, and Buchholtz commented that the street is 34 feet wide.

In answer to a question by Mrs. Porter Boyer, 452 Waverly Terrace, Mrs. Roeder said that street improvements are planned in that area.

Water consumption was reported to be over 2,000,000 gallons higher during last week than in the same period in 1949, with 87,900,000 gallons consumed as against 85,670,000. Water in Lake Gordon is one foot below the crest and in Lake Koon it is 9 feet five inches below.

Filed was a letter from Cumberland Lodge No. 63, B. P. O. Elks, thanking the city for its co-operation during their August convention.

Fire Utility Work Policy Need Is Cited

Long Reports On Union Protest

Some policy must be decided upon in the matter of retaining disabled firemen in the Fire Department at full pay to do utility work, Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long said last night.

Long made that statement in a report to the Mayor and Council following a protest last week from Painters Union Local No. 947, AFL.

The union protested the use of two Fire Department maintenance men to paint engine houses. The practice takes employment from another experienced worker, the union said, adding that the work is a city project and should be put out on bids to contractors.

Cites Two Cases

Long said that two certified firemen, Walter Jenkins and Edgar L. Bucy, are unable to assume responsibilities of a fireman because of physical disability.

In a policy set by a previous administration, Long said, Jenkins was permitted to remain in the department at full pay, $220 monthly, doing utility work.

Bucy was later assigned to utility work after being injured, so that he could return to work, Long said.

"The majority of outside painting and maintenance work is done in the summer months," Long said in his report to the council.

"It is sound business for the taxpayer to keep our buildings and equipment in first class condition, and for the same reason we were attempting to utilize Mr. Jenkins' and Mr. Bucy's services, not only to rehabilitate them but to get the most for the taxpayer's dollar."

If all Police and Fire maintenance work is placed on contract bids, Long said, "we will not be able to keep Mr. Jenkins and Mr. Bucy occupied on the job. This is necessary to keep up the morale of our other firemen."

The other alternative, Long said, would be to have a State Accident compensation ruling on percentage of both disabilities, pay the men the amount set, and retire them on pension.

The council decided to study the matter further and no action was taken.

Request Rejected

Rejected because of the possibility of setting "a bad precedent" was the request of Fireman George D. Hoblitzell for a year's leave to accept employment as a B. and O. machinist. Hoblitzell cited need of machinists for the war effort.

Karl W. Frankfort was ordered placed on the Police Department force to replace Kenneth Morrissey, who obtained leave to enter the service.

In anothr service replacement, William R. Keating was ordered named to the Police Department as a probationary member, replacing Robert Hammann.

Donald L. Dreyer and Warren G. Brehm were confirmed as regular members of the Police Department.

In its monthly report, the Health Department said 31 clinics were held in August, while 357 nursing visits were made. Three polio cases were among the 14 communicable disease cases listed.

The department also handled 498 age verifications for Little League baseball players.

Church Will Show Movie Tonight

A new motion picture, "Second Chance," will be shown at Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church, 405-7 North Mechanic Street, tonight. The service will begin at 8 p. m.

"Second Chance" is a 75-minute, black and white sound film produced by the Protestant Film Commission for the Evangelical and Reformed Church, the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America and the Congregational Christian Churches.

The film provides an analysis of and a solution for the spiritual apathy that characterizes many Christians in America. It portrays the slow, gradual deterioration that sets in as the principals become preoccupied with the details of living and "getting ahead."

Many religious leaders consider this the best church film yet produced.

The public is invited, along with members of the congregation, to attend this service.

GOP Rally Planned At Zihlman Friday

A Republican rally will be held in the Zihlman Community Center Friday at 8 p. m.

All party candidates and the general public are invited to attend and State Senator Robert B. Kimble, unopposed for re-election, will be the principal speaker.

The Weather

Unless you looked at the calendar, you would have thought that yesterday was a midsummer day. The temperature climbed to 82 degrees and those who wore heavier clothing to work were regretting it by noon. The overnight reading was 67. Today will be somewhat cloudy with a few scattered showers in the afternoon, as well as rather warm and somewhat humid.

Meeting Fails To Break Garrett School Deadlock

Official Action May Be Taken

A meeting between the Garrett County Board of Education and a committee representing parents of Kitzmiller area students yesterday failed to break a deadlock which led to a strike at Kitzmiller School last Wednesday.

The conference, held at the Board of Education office in Oakland, was attended by a six-man Kitzmiller area committee including Dr. Ralph Calendrella, Carl Schell, Earl Shank, Charles McIntyre, Frank Daymon and Kenneth Bray.

Representing the Board of Education were its three members, Walter W. Dawson, president, Stuart F. Hamill, Oakland, and C. O. Bender, Grantsville; Asa T. Matthews, attorney, and R. Bowen Hardesty, superintendent of schools.

May Take Legal Steps

Officials of the school board promised full cooperation in meeting the problems of the Kitzmiller area but declined to grant the request for dropping plans for school consolidation. They also declared that if the condition did not clear up soon, they would take such action as was prescribed by law.

Dawson reported the board assured the committee it would do all in its power for Kitzmiller in the way of instruction and pointed out it had already made certain improvements, including an additional teacher and additional classrooms to take care of crowded conditions there.

He said the Kitzmiller committee appeared to be interested in nothing but a guarantee that would retain the high school there as set out in its petition.

Dawson reported the board advised the committee the disputed building program had been set up according to law, that the law had been tested and affirmed by the court and that the school board had been eliminated from responsibility for the building program by the act of 1947.

Impossible To Meet Demand

He said the board assured the committee everything possible will be done to make things pleasant and that every facility will be furnished to carry on a good program at Kitzmiller but that it was impossible to give the committee what it asked.

If the situation does not clear up, Dawson reported, the board will have to take the regular course prescribed by law.

An informed source said Chapter 21 of the school laws says: "Any person who induces or attempts to induce any child to absent himself unlawfully from school . . . . shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not more than $50."

Only 23 of the some 300 students who were slated to enroll at the Kitzmiller school reported for classes yesterday.

The committee has asked a guarantee that the school consolidation program for Garrett County will be cancelled as far as Kitzmiller is concerned and the present school enlarged.

Carl Schell, a member of the committee, said no decision was made at the meeting which he described as an amicable one.

Dr. Calendrella, reached early this morning, said "the strike will continue."

He termed the meeting with the school board "a waste of time" and said the school officials evaded the issue and that the committee "walked out" of the conference.

New Homes To Total $25,500

Home building apparently is on the upswing here, as three permits were granted yesterday in the city engineer's office for new residences estimated to total $25,500.

That amount is the largest single day's permit total for new homes in recent months.

Joseph W. and Della B. Pratt, 418 Broadway, obtained a permit to build a $10,000 home at 513 Greenway Avenue. The two-story structure will be built of brick. Clyde Slider is the contractor.

A permit was issued to Merle Barnes, 508 Fectig Avenue, to build a one-story brick house on Lots 230, 229 and half of Lot 228, Frederick Street. Cost is estimated at $9,000 and work will be done by Quentin L. Griffey.

Mrs. J. F. Zimmerman, 520 Holland Street, obtained a permit to build a one and one-half story residence at 518 Holland Street. The brick structure is estimated to cost $6,500 and work will be done by Carl W. Abe, Fort Ashby, W. Va.

The city received one bid of $500 last night from Margaret D. Cupler, acting for John A. Cupler, II of the National Jet Company, for the purchase and removal of a two-story brick building at 206 Riverview Place.

The building, known as the West Side Garage, was formerly owned by Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. McFerran.

Road Specialist To Confer Here On Area Project

The State Roads Commission is sending its legal specialist to Cumberland — probably today — in an effort to speed up rights-of-way procedure for the Vale Summit Road improvement project.

The specialist, Joseph D. Buscher, special assistant to the Attorney General and administrative head of the roads commission's right-of-way division, visited Washington County yesterday.

Buscher is expected to arrive here today to confer with the Cumberland Contracting Company about the 2.2 miles widening, curve modification and resurfacing project running from Route 40 to Vale Summit.

The local firm was awarded a $571,775 contract last month for the Vale Summit job, but the roads commission has not been able to order it to proceed with the work because of rights-of-way troubles.

So far, the commission has obtained title to only 19 strips of property for the widening project with 22 more still needed.

In all, Buscher is aiming at working out problems now holding up four highway projects in Washington and Allegany counties. A commission spokesman said rights-of-way titles are the only thing holding up many of the projects.

Yesterday Buscher stopped in Hagerstown to see E. Stuart Bushong, Hagerstown attorney who will be the commission's legal representative in lining up the land for the highway improvements.

Aircraft Observers Named At Oldtown

Ross Shaw has been appointed chief aircraft observer in the Oldtown area by William Barger, chairman of the county's civilian defense program.

Shaw has selected George E. Deffinbaugh to assist him in instructing volunteer observers. Classes will get underway soon.

Four-Day Cooking School To Open Here This Morning

Final plans were completed last night for the four-day "Magic Meals Cooking School" which will open today at 9:15 a. m. at the Strand Theater. Doors of the theater will open at 8:30 a. m.

The school, presented as a public service by the Times-News papers, will feature up-to-the-minute ideas in meal planning.

Miss Edalene Stohr, nationally known home economist of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, will be in charge of the school. She will be assisted by Miss Nancy Carter.

The opening sessions of the school will be centered on "budget favorites," dollar savings recipes for foods such as pork shoulder roast, drumsticks, vegetable soup and smoked tongue.

A "Magic Meals" recipe book will be available without charge for all who attend the sessions.

Homemakers of the area are urged to attend each session since a different program will be presented each day.

Water Shortage Hampers LaVale School Schedule

Classes Dismissed As Supply Fails

LaVale Elementary School, seriously hampered by a water shortage, faces the possibility of a "no classes today but come back tomorrow" schedule unless a solution to the problem is found quickly.

Dr. Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of schools, ordered the 335 students dismissed at 1 p. m. yesterday, when Principal Nellie R. Powell advised him "there isn't enough water for sanitary conditions."

"The school simply cannot operate without water," Dr. Kopp said later in the day. He added, "It's a critical situation."

The LaVale School, comprised of grades one to six, relies on the LaVale Water Company for its supply, but D. Clifford Goodfellow, secretary-treasurer, said last night "there's no telling when operations will be back to normal."

Last year during a similar situation Dr. Kopp said the school was able to secure water from a tower operated by the Buchanan Lumber Company, but a new agreement could not be worked out.

The school resumed fall classes last Thursday but operated only on a half day schedule then and Friday in accordance with the county school schedule. There was a limited supply at the time, teachers said.

Yesterday morning, according to Miss Powell, it was necessary to cart water from other areas for the cafeteria. Toilet facilities and drinking fountains were dry.

On the advice of Dr. Kopp, the students were dismissed at 1 p. m. after the cafeteria lunch was served, but they were advised to return today at 9 a. m. "to resume classes if water conditions permitted."

Last night, however, Goodfellow said the possibility of the school having water today is very remote, for he intends to turn off ducts leading to lower LaVale, where the school is located, in order to supply residents of the upper LaVale area.

Goodfellow explained that the current shortage is the result of an extremely dry summer. He said most of the LaVale area depends on the company for water.

For that reason it is necessary during periods of low supply to shut off the water in one area so that the other can be provided for. This is done on an alternating basis with the upper area scheduled to have water today.

Informed of the Goodfellow statement last night, Miss Powell said she expects to try and operate school for a half day and then dismiss the students again at 1 p. m.

Such a schedule would prove satisfactory only on a temporary basis, she explained, with the more serious threat always looming of no school at all because of the water shortage.

Goodfellow said he could see no immediate solution to the problem since it depends on a refill of the reservoir. "Once we get the supply back to normal," Goodfellow said, "it will likely hold for the winter months."

Dr. Kopp said a study of the situation is being made but a solution is not in sight.

Long Suggests Use Of Police Clerks Here

Recommends Civil Service Tests

Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long last night recommended to the Mayor and Council that police clerks be assigned to replace the present desk sergeants on all three platoons.

Long also recommended:

1. That the Mayor and Council abolish all present sergeants' positions.

2. That the Civil Service Commission be asked to hold an examination for Police Department members who wish to qualify for the position of police clerk.

3. That police clerks "co-ordinate toward the establishment of a departmental central records section."

4. That salary of police clerks be $2,820 yearly, or $235 per month.

In a statement to the council, Long also declared:

"Several weeks ago, Sgt. (John E.) Sherry personally requested that he be returned to the daylight platoon at rank of patrolman and this request was granted.

"In an attempt to fill his second platoon desk sergeant's position, we had a meeting with the four existing sergeants, namely, Messrs. (Curtis) Kime, (C. C.) Roby, (John H.) Newhouse and (Frank A.) Shober and asked them to work out satisfactorily among themselves as to who would replace Sgt. Sherry.

"All four sergeants refused the assignment. It was therefore necessary to train a probationary officer for this assignment, which was a temporary gesture."

Long cited the "extreme importance of this position to the public and the Police Department."

Pay of desk sergeants at present is $225 monthly.

The council voted to refer the matter back to Long for further discussion of salary provisions with the men.

Pair Admit Bond Theft

Two youths charged with the theft of $2,925 worth of Series "E" government bonds from a car parked at Big Savage Mountain Inn August 31 yesterday waived preliminary hearings and were held for grand jury action.

Trooper Glen Kolk said the pair, Quinten Murphy, 20, Washington, and Lloyd Hopkins, 19, Los Angeles, admitted the theft after they were returned to Garrett County from New Jersey.

The two men signed statements admitting that they looted the cars of Mrs. Irene G. Lillie, Silver Spring, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barnhart, Pittsburgh. The bonds were taken from the Lillie car.

Police said all of the bonds as well as clothing taken from the Barnhart car were recovered and will be returned to the owners. Charges against the pair will be presented to the Garrett County Grand Jury which is now in session.

Draft Calls Hit City Police Force

A fair-size percentage of Cumberland's policemen may soon be changing the color of their uniform from dark blue to olive green or khaki, Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn said yesterday.

Already two members of the force have been called to serve with the United States Army, Flynn said, and two more have passed physical examinations and are expecting active duty assignment shortly.

Flynn listed the two already called as Kenneth Morrissey and Robert Hammond. Ralph Busser and Leo Law have passed physicals and are awaiting calls. All four are members of the reserve corps.

After a quick check of the officer roster, Flynn said there are at least 12 more members of the department likely to be called in the near future.

All of the 12, Flynn said, apparently meet the present draft law requirements. Some he said are also members of reserve units.

West Side Residents Call Smoke Meeting

A meeting of West Side citizens interested in smoke and dirt elimination will be held tonight at 7:45 o'clock in the West Side School Building, Paca Street.

Residents of the area already have held meetings in private homes, and have mapped out tentative plans toward faster elimination of smoke, fly ash and dirt from the city, particularly the West Side areas.

The meeting tonight is open to all residents of that area interested in the subject, sponsors say.

Among the committee members working on the program are James Alfred Avirett, Joseph J. Reinhart, Jr., F. Allan Weatherholt, and a number of others.

Births Announced

Memorial Hospital announced the following births yesterday:

Mr. and Mrs. William Hymes, 214 Central Avenue, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lazarus, Jr., 310 Washington Street, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Barzensky, 186½ North Centre Street, a daughter.

Use Of Cresap Street Cited In Proposal

Planning Group To Recommend Suggestion

An alternate route to allow traffic to avoid the sharp curve at Thomas Street and Oldtown Road was approved yesterday at a meeting of the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission.

Use of Cresap Street, a 40-foot wide two-way street, from the intersection of Virginia and Maryland Avenues to Thomas Street was suggested.

The recommendation was made by the office of City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer after a survey was made at the request of the Commission.

Chairman James Alfred Avirett pointed out that the alternate route has no bad grades and is much wider than Oldtown Road, which is 14 feet wide.

Narrowest point on Cresap Street is 35 feet, Avirett said.

In addition, the street enters Thomas Street at an open point where the view is unobstructed, Avirett said.

The Engineering Department pointed out that the alternate would solve the problem of avoiding the hazardous curve and would not involve costly property acquisition.

Avirett said the proposal will be recommended to the Mayor and Council. He suggested that Street Commissioner Lucile W. Roeder be asked to study the matter relative to possible improvements to Cresap Street, which has already been oiled.

William H. Marean of the City Engineering Department prepared surveys in connection with the proposal.

Also recommended yesterday by the department was continuation of the present one-way traffic setup on Wineow Street, which was started in connection with the flood control project.

Under the proposal. Wineow would be a one-way for southbound traffic while northbound vehicles would use Orchard Street.

This would eliminate the hazardous curve at the A. and P. Supermarket, Avirett explained.

Optimist Club Plans Fourth Anniversary

The Cumberland Optimist Club will observe its fourth anniversary with a banquet at Ali Ghan Shrine Club Saturday, September 30, according to Harold E. Naughton, president.

C. Lease Buzzard, Frederick, governor of the 16th Optimist District, will be a guest speaker and Optimists from Hagerstown, Frederick and a number of other district clubs are expected.

The local club was organized here September 27, 1946, and has carried on an active program of civic endeavor, especially in the field of boys' work. The club sponsors the Junior Optimists and the Opti-Mrs., both of which have large active memberships, Naughton noted.

Among some of the activities sponsored here by the club in the past four years are co-sponsorship of a large air show; co-sponsorship of a soap box derby; and sponsorship of a mammoth fireworks display last July 4 at Fairgo. The club plans to make this event an annual local attraction.

Byron Kight is chairman of the anniversary party committee and is assisted by Wayne George, Howard Douglas and Norman Ward. Kight and George are past presidents of the club. Kight said last night a program of entertainment is being arranged for the affair and will be announced later.

Boy, 14, Missing

Richard Gilpin, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gilpin, 100 East First Street, was reported missing last night and his parents told police he has not been seen since he left for school at 9 a. m.

The boy was described as tall for his age, dark brown hair and wearing brown pants and light shirt.

Auxiliary To Meet

American Legion Auxiliary Unit 209, Cresaptown, will meet Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Rose Fulkner, McMullen Highway.

Bird Club Will Hear Noted Ornithologist

A meeting of adult members of the Allegany County Bird Club is scheduled Friday evening at 8 o'clock at City Hall auditorium.

Chandler S. Robbins, noted ornithologist at the Patuxent Research Refuge, Laurel, Md., will be guest speaker.

His topic will be "Economic Value of Hawks, Migration Habits and Identification."

An open forum will be held after the lecture to provide a question and answer period.

Junior members of the Bird Club are invited, as well as all other interested persons.

Resolution To Acquire Flood Land Approved

Speedmeter Bids Will Be Asked

By a 4 to 1 vote, the Mayor and Council last night adopted a resolution authorizing federal condemnation proceedings on behalf of the city to obtain two properties needed in flood control work.

The resolution is the second of its kind passed in recent weeks.

Water Commissioner George H. Tederick voted against the resolution as well as the accompanying order authorizing City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson to issue a check for $11,700 to the government to cover costs.

Involved are the J. Alfred Reid property between Beall and Paca Streets, and property on the west side of Riverview Place owned by Irvin M. and Mabel W. Zimmerman.

City Attorney W. Earle Cobey explained that negotiations are continuing with the Zimmermans and that a setlement may be reached without resorting to condemnation proceedings.

The $11,700 figure includes not only appraised value but 20 per cent leeway for deficiency in any award given in condemnation proceedings, plus 10 per cent for acquisition costs.

To Ask Bids

Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long was authorized to ask bids for an electra-matic speedmeter, designed to curb speeding on city streets.

Council approved a request from Francis A. Kenney, chairman of the Allegany County Industrial Promotion Committee, for payment of $750 as the city's share in the $1,500 monthly payment due Richardson Wood, New York consultant, for his economic development services here.

A committee will be named to plan suitable observance of United Nations Day here on October 24, at the request of Gov. William Preston Lane, Jr.

The council voted to take a $100 full-page ad in the anniversary program of the Police and Fire Welfare Association. That amount is the same as last year.

Refered to Finance Commissioner William H. Buchholtz was an offer of $225 by Carl A. Robison, 26 Oak Street, for two city-owned lots at 200-201 Yale Street.

An invitation from the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin to attend its ninth annual meeting at Oakland September 22 and 23 was accepted.

Renews Request

A renewed request from George W. Keller, 208 Park Street, for a traffic light at Park and Harrison Streets was referred to Long with power to act.

Referred to Street Commissioner Lucile W. Roeder with power to act was a letter from Walter W. Seel, 721 Montgomery Avenue, stating that trees in front of his property are damaging the pavement and curb.

Richard Porter, 34 Greene Street, asked if the city plans to widen the extension of Frederick Street. Mrs. Roeder informed him that State Roads Commission specifications must be followed, and Buchholtz commented that the street is 34 feet wide.

In answer to a question by Mrs. Porter Boyer, 452 Waverly Terrace, Mrs. Roeder said that street improvements are planned in that area.

Water consumption was reported to be over 2,000,000 gallons higher during last week than in the same period in 1949, with 87,900,000 gallons consumed as against 85,670,000. Water in Lake Gordon is one foot below the crest and in Lake Koon it is 9 feet five inches below.

Filed was a letter from Cumberland Lodge No. 63, B. P. O. Elks, thanking the city for its co-operation during their August convention.

Famous Roadsters Entered In Fourth Annual Horse Show

Three new entries in the fourth annual horse show to be held at Fairgo Saturday and Sunday were announced yesterday by William R. Carscaden, show secretary for the Cumberland Lions Club, sponsors.

These entries, all coming as surprises, Carscaden said, include champion horses and some of the most valuable animals of their class. All three are roadsters.

Among them is "Midnight Amber Angel" owned by A. R. DeBurgh, of Seattle, Wash. The horse has been shown at several eastern shows this season and was trained by J. Marlin Burkholder, of Marlburk Farms, Chambersburg, Pa.

"The Country Doctor," champion roadster at the famous Harrisburg, Pa., show, also from the Marlburk Farms, also will be shown.

"The Black Widow," a three-year-old roadster, is also to be shown here, Carscaden said. Burkholder, famed as a horse trainer, told Carscaden that this particular horse should develop into an outstanding roadster of its day.

The roadster class has always been a popular class with patrons of local horse shows and Carscaden said the Lions Club is pleased that these three animals are to be added to the list of entries.

The horses of this class are typical of America, representing the nation's driving horse. The animal is standard bred and is often a race horse. Manners in the class are quite essential and the horse to be a top roadster must have good conformation, finish and must show extreme speed in harness to a two or four-wheeled vehicle.

Carscaden said two shows are scheduled for Saturday and one for Sunday. Box seats and general admission tickets are available from all Lions and at the Cumberland Music Shop and National Shirt Shop.

Fire Utility Work Policy Need Is Cited

Long Reports On Union Protest

Some policy must be decided upon in the matter of retaining disabled firemen in the Fire Department at full pay to do utility work, Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long said last night.

Long made that statement in a report to the Mayor and Council following a protest last week from Painters Union Local No. 947, AFL.

The union protested the use of two Fire Department maintenance men to paint engine houses. The practice takes employment from another experienced worker, the union said, adding that the work is a city project and should be put out on bids to contractors.

Cites Two Cases

Long said that two certified firemen, Walter Jenkins and Edgar L. Bucy, are unable to assume responsibilities of a fireman because of physical disability.

In a policy set by a previous administration, Long said, Jenkins was permitted to remain in the department at full pay, $220 monthly, doing utility work.

Bucy was later assigned to utility work after being injured, so that he could return to work, Long said.

"The majority of outside painting and maintenance work is done in the summer months," Long said in his report to the council.

"It is sound business for the taxpayer to keep our buildings and equipment in first class condition, and for the same reason we were attempting to utilize Mr. Jenkins' and Mr. Bucy's services, not only to rehabilitate them but to get the most for the taxpayer's dollar."

If all Police and Fire maintenance work is placed on contract bids, Long said, "we will not be able to keep Mr. Jenkins and Mr. Bucy occupied on the job. This is necessary to keep up the morale of our other firemen."

The other alternative, Long said, would be to have a State Accident compensation ruling on percentage of both disabilities, pay the men the amount set, and retire them on pension.

The council decided to study the matter further and no action was taken.

Request Rejected

Rejected because of the possibility of setting "a bad precedent" was the request of Fireman George D. Hoblitzell for a year's leave to accept employment as a B. and O. machinist. Hoblitzell cited need of machinists for the war effort.

Karl W. Frankfort was ordered placed on the Police Department force to replace Kenneth Morrissey, who obtained leave to enter the service.

In anothr service replacement, William R. Keating was ordered named to the Police Department as a probationary member, replacing Robert Hammann.

Donald L. Dreyer and Warren G. Brehm were confirmed as regular members of the Police Department.

In its monthly report, the Health Department said 31 clinics were held in August, while 357 nursing visits were made. Three polio cases were among the 14 communicable disease cases listed.

The department also handled 498 age verifications for Little League baseball players.

Church Will Show Movie Tonight

A new motion picture, "Second Chance," will be shown at Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church, 405-7 North Mechanic Street, tonight. The service will begin at 8 p. m.

"Second Chance" is a 75-minute, black and white sound film produced by the Protestant Film Commission for the Evangelical and Reformed Church, the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America and the Congregational Christian Churches.

The film provides an analysis of and a solution for the spiritual apathy that characterizes many Christians in America. It portrays the slow, gradual deterioration that sets in as the principals become preoccupied with the details of living and "getting ahead."

Many religious leaders consider this the best church film yet produced.

The public is invited, along with members of the congregation, to attend this service.

GOP Rally Planned At Zihlman Friday

A Republican rally will be held in the Zihlman Community Center Friday at 8 p. m.

All party candidates and the general public are invited to attend and State Senator Robert B. Kimble, unopposed for re-election, will be the principal speaker.

The Weather

Unless you looked at the calendar, you would have thought that yesterday was a midsummer day. The temperature climbed to 82 degrees and those who wore heavier clothing to work were regretting it by noon. The overnight reading was 67. Today will be somewhat cloudy with a few scattered showers in the afternoon, as well as rather warm and somewhat humid.

REDS PINNED DOWN BY AIR BLOWS

Jan Smuts, 80, South African Leader, Dead

Statesman Ill Since Last May

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Sept. 11 (AP)—Jan Christiaan Smuts, a statesman of world stature and the Union of South Africa's most famous soldier, died tonight at the age of 80.

The bearded field marshal who twice was prime minister of South Africa and a British empire leader in two world wars, had been ill since May 28, four days after nationwide celebrations of his 80th birthday.

A back ailment first put him to bed, and he later developed pneumonia. He was barely recovered from the attack when he was stricken by influenza. His doctors said a few days ago he was showing the effects of heart strain and post-influenza depression.

Wrote U.N. Charter Preamble

He finally gave up his leadership of the United Party less than three months ago after a lifetime of arduous political, military, scientific and literary activity.

In his career he had authored the concept of the British Commonwealth of Nations and the preamble of the United Nations Charter, and shared in launching the old League of Nations.

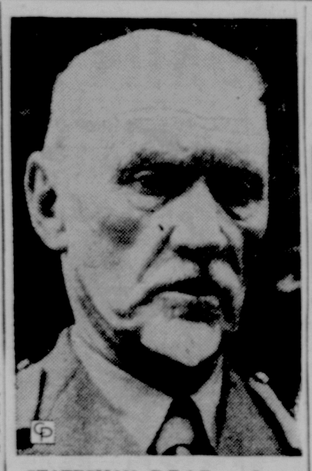
A guerrilla leader of Boer rebels in the South African war with the British in 1899-1902, Smuts became a lieutenant general in the British army in the First World War and led British and South African forces in the successful campaign against the Kaiser's forces in East Africa.

Lost Election In 1948

In the Second World War, he again led his country to the side of the Allies. He became a field marshal in the British army in 1941.

In 1948, he lost in a general election to the nationalists of Daniel F. Malan and resigned as prime minister.

His last political defeat was Aug. 30 when the nationalists won all six seats at stake in the South African parliament and 16 out of 18 local legislative seats in the Territory of Southwest Africa. It was the first election for representatives of the union parliament in which Southwest Africa had participated. The territory previously had been administered as a mandate from the League of Nations.



STATESMAN DEAD — Jan Christiaan Smuts (above), 80, statesman of world stature and the Union of South Africa's most famous soldier, died last night.

North Korean Nurse Trained In Manchuria

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA, Sept. 11 (AP) — An attractive North Korean nurse, captured Aug. 25 north of Taegu said today she was one of about 200 women doctors and nurses who were trained in Communist Manchuria and sent to North Korea before the invasion of the south began.

Miss Chae Kum Byung, 19, interviewed in a prison stockade, said she was trained at the 23rd Field Hospital of the Chinese red army in Manchuria.

Big 3 Diplomats Slated To Meet This Afternoon

U. S. Troop Promise Pleases Schuman

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP) — Robert Schuman, French foreign minister, today called President Truman's proposal to send more American troops to Europe an important contribution to the common defense of that continent. He indicated France is prepared to make a comparable contribution.

Schuman and other top diplomats arriving for conferences of the foreign ministers of France, United States and Britain this week showed evident pleasure at the President's decision.

Defense Tops Agenda

The question of a strong build-up of Western Europe's defense forces by next July 1 will have top priority at the Big Three talks in the closely-guarded towers of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Foreign ministers of other North Atlantic pact countries will join the talks Friday and Saturday and the high officials will attend the opening of the fifth U. N. General Assembly Sept. 19.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson held a lively exchange of views in Washington with members of the Congressional Foreign Relations Committee before leaving for New York. Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Senate committee, said members present at the closed-door meeting agreed unanimously to pledge support to the "general line which the Secretary will follow" in the Big Three conference.

German Arming Is Issue

Ernest Bevin, British foreign secretary, is scheduled to arrive on the liner Queen Mary during the night and disembark tomorrow morning. The first meeting of Acheson, Schuman and Bevin and a host of advisors is expected around 2 p. m. (E.S.T.) tomorrow.

One of the issues presumably to be discussed is whether Western Germany should be rearmed. The United States feels the defense of Western Europe cannot be accomplished without use of German manpower.

Kefauver Urges Demo Official To Resign

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP) — Chairman Kefauver (D-Tenn) of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee called tonight for the resignation of Morris A. Shenker, St. Louis attorney, as a member of the Democratic Finance Committee.

Kefauver said in a statement that Shenker's connection as attorney with some persons under investigation by the group might be "embarrassing" to the Democratic Party.

At the same time, the committee chairman said there is no reason for the group to investigate Shenker, as demanded earlier in the day by Sen. Wiley (R-Wis), a member of the group.

Train Crash Death Toll Rises To 33

PRR's 'Spirit' Rams Stalled Troop Train

Workers Continue Probing Wreckage

COSHOCTON, O., Sept. 11 (AP)—Three more bodies were found under an overturned Diesel locomotive tonight, raising still higher the death toll in the collision of a passenger train and troop train.

The figure now is 33 dead, and it may run higher.

Fourteen hours after the Pennsylvania Railroad's "Spirit of St. Louis" ploughed into the rear of a stalled train carrying 700 soldiers, giant cranes and workers with steel-cutting torches still probed the wreckage.

Brig. Gen. Francis G. Brink, commanding officer of the Ohio Military District, said that three—possibly four bodies—were discovered when a crane lifted "The Spirit's" locomotive off the debris of a troop-train car.

Bodies Badly Mangled

The bodies, he explained, were so badly mangled it was difficult to ascertain how many actually had lain under the locomotive since the wreck occurred in the fog at 5:15 a. m. (EST).

Still 11 other bodies, laid out in the Coshocton Armory, remained unidentified for the same reason.

Most of the dead were members of the Pennsylvania National Guard, who were en route to Camp Atterbury, Ind., to enter the Army.

Before the wrecking crane lifted the locomotive, Gen. Brink had announced that 30 men were known dead and three or four remained unaccounted for.

Although about 40 soldiers received hospital treatment, only 27 remained hospitalized tonight.

Contrary to earlier reports, the Army said only three were in critical condition.

Some Jumped Before Crash

The dead will be removed to the Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Armory probably tomorrow. Most of the victims were guardsmen from the Wilkes-Barre and Carbondale, Pa., vicinities.

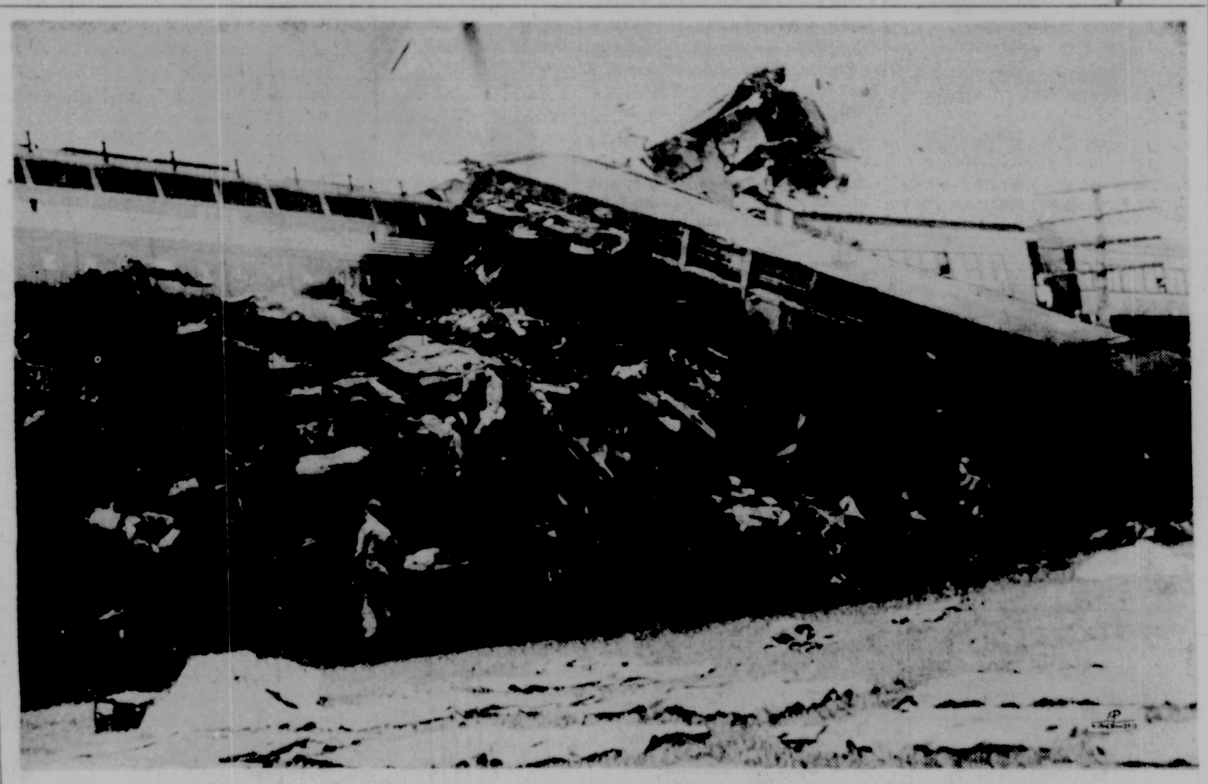
"We saw the Spirit of St. Louis about a mile away," related Lt. Col. Frank Townend, Dallas, Pa., commander of the troop train. "We thought it would surely see the flares and lantern and stop.

"Although it did no good, we shouted and waved our arms until we could see there was going to be a crash."

Col. Townsend and a group of crewmen jumped down an embankment as the Spirit's Diesel locomotive hit the rear coach of the 20-car troop train.

The soldiers aboard were not so fortunate. Most of them were sleeping, a few had been awakened for breakfast.

The huge Diesel, pulling 17 cars, knocked the rear coach into the air, smashing the second car aside and ploughed into the third.



Where At Least 33 Died In Train Collision

At least 33 persons were killed yesterday when the Pennsylvania Railroad's "Spirit of St Louis" ploughed into the rear of a stalled train carrying 700 soldiers near Coshocton, O. Above is a general ground view of the wreck scene. Most of the dead were members of the Pennsylvania National Guard en route to Camp Atterbury, Ind., to enter the Army.

Symington Warns U. S. Is In Grave Danger

BALTIMORE, Sept. 11 (AP) — Mobilization Coordinator W. Stuart Symington warned today the United States is in "as great a danger as it has ever been in history."

This means higher taxes are imminent, he added, but there is not yet any "reason to strait-jacket the American workman and housewife."

In his first public remarks since President Truman last Saturday named him head of the nation's economic mobilization program, Symington spoke to 800 persons at a Baltimore Association of Commerce luncheon.

Gypsy Rose Lee Denies She Is 'Associate Of Traitors'

CHICAGO, Sept. 11 (AP) — Edward Clamage, chairman of the Illinois American Legion's anti-subversive committee, said today Gypsy Rose Lee is "an entertainer who was reported to be a dear and close associate of the traitors of our country." The strip teaser denied the charge.

Clamage, a Chicago florist, made the statement on the floor of the Illinois Legion convention.

In New York, Miss Lee said:

"I am not now and never have been a member of the communist party, a fellow-traveler, sympathizer, or anyone of the associated brand. x x x

"I abhor totalitarianism whether red, brown or black and their treacherous methods of guilt by smear and without trial.

"This may be all right for Russia but, I hope, not for us."

Miss Lee is scheduled to be mistress of ceremonies of an audience participation show over the ABC network next Saturday night.

Clamage said, "I want to make an appeal to the sponsors of the program to determine whether or not she is appearing as a true and loyal American or if she's going to be serving her communist friends."

He said he had telegraphed the president of ABC asking what he intended to do about the program.

Soviet Demand That U.N. Hear Communist China Is Rejected

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 11 (AP) — By a margin of one vote, the United Nations Security Council tonight turned down a Russian demand that Red China be invited here to back up its charges of aggression against the United States.

The Peiping regime has filed two such charges: One alleging U. S. air forces have invaded Manchuria and dropped bombs, the other that the United States invaded Chinese territory when it sent the 7th Fleet to patrol the Strait of Formosa.

Chief U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin labelled these charges "a trick" inspired by Russia to divert attention from the real aggressor in Korea. The move to invite Red China to send a representative here, Austin said, was another Soviet attempt "to smuggle such a representative into the Security Council under any guise."

The vote on the Soviet proposal was 6 to 3, with two abstentions. Lining up with Russia were Britain, France, Norway, Yugoslavia and India. The United States, Nationalist China and Cuba voted against the proposal. Ecuador and Egypt abstained. Seven affirmative votes are required for council action.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jacob A. Malik already had been defeated several times since last January in his battle to oust Nationalist China and seat Red China in the U. N. This time, however, he had insisted the invitation would be only for participation in the council's debate on Red China's complaints.

Both Austin and Nationalist China's T. F. Tsiang vigorously challenged this. They argued that in reality Malik was trying to get the Chinese communists here to stay.

Steel Industry Prodded To Step Up Expansion

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (AP)—Government mobilizers of industry, seeking to supply a $30,000,000,000 a-year fighting machine without heavy slashes in civilian output, prodded the giant steel industry today to speed expansion of its capacity.

The nudge, applied by Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, marked the first step in the industrial phases of the new war mobilization program—and put initial emphasis at least on greater total output rather than a cutback in civilian goods production.

It also indicated President Truman may quickly use authority given him by Congress in the home front controls bill to lend private industry the cash—up to $2,000,000,000—to enlarge facilities for defense production.

The day's mobilization program developments included:

1. The Budget Bureau notified government agencies how much each must share in a $550,000,000 saving Congress ordered made out of a single $36,000,000,000 appropriation for government operations this fiscal year.

2. Federal Reserve Board and government housing officials began conferring on prospective restrictions to be applied to mortgage credit as a followup to controls on consumer installment buying already ordered effective Sept. 18.

3. James K. Knudson, 44, Utah Republican and youngest member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, was designated by the ICC to become boss of transportation under the Defense Production Act. He will have jurisdiction over Railroad, motor carrier and inland waterway transportation.

4. The National Production Authority newly set up in the Commerce Department formally got a boss from industry, William Henry Harrison, 58 - yea r- old telephone company executive, who took his oath from Secretary Sawyer.

'No Compelling Reason' For War, Einstein Says

DENVER, Sept. 11 (AP) — Albert Einstein told the 46th annual convention of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (ind) today "there is no compelling reason" for war between this country and Russia.

The famous scientist, in a telegram to Secretary-Treasurer M. E. Travis, said.

"I share with you the conviction that everybody and every group should do their utmost to help avoid the catastrophe our human world is facing."

Senate Debates Red Curb Bills

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Senate headed into a long night session tonight in the final round of debate on two wide-apart measures for communist control in time of national emergency.

The last echoes of argument were expected to die at midnight, with the chamber scheduled to begin voting at noon EST tomorrow.

The bills are:

1. A big catch-all measure by Sen. McCarran (D-Nev). It would require the registration of communists and foreign-trained agents, and would set up far broader curbs than President Truman requested.

2. A substitute by Sen. Kilgore (D-WVa), authorizing the government to round up communists and throw them into interment camps in time of war or other emergency.

Passage of the McCarran bill was generally regarded as almost certain, perhaps by a 4-to-1 margin.

Some lawmakers said privately they expect Mr. Truman to fire a quick veto message to Congress if the McCarran measure is approved.

Ex-Spanish Premier Dies

MADRID, Spain, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Count of Romanones, Spanish political leader who was three times premier under the monarchy, died at his Madrid home tonight.

Siren Ban Irks New York Firemen

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—New York City's firemen went without their sirens today and didn't like it a bit.

The ban on fire, police and ambulance sirens was ordered by civil defense officials who ordered them sounded only in case of an air raid alert.

It became effective today.

"You almost have to stop for lights now," said Lt. Hugh Lewis after his hook and ladder company rolled to a fire. "Drivers hear our bells for maybe half a block ahead. A siren is heard from two to three blocks.

"A siren commands respect. Bells don't mean anything to the public."

Tydings Voices Soviet Strategy

BALTIMORE, Spt. 11 (AP)—Sen. Tydings (D-Md) said tonight Russia "quite obviously" seeks to have United Nations forces concentrated in Korea so that the Soviets "would be free to commence the conquest of Europe."

"It is plain," he said, "that the Russians have been urging Red China to join with the North Koreans in attacking the troops of the United States and other United Nations forces resisting aggression."

Tydings, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, made those statements in a campaign speech prepared for delivery over a network of Maryland and Washington radio and television stations. He is candidate for renomination for a fifth term in the September 18 Maryland primary election.

He said that "if, as the Russians hope, the Chinese communists join the North Koreans we shall be compelled to make decisions of the gravest nature.

"We would then be confronted with red troops numbered by the millions. No one can measure the limits of the war if Red China enters the Korean struggle."

Hope For Miners Ebbs

NEW CUMNOCK, Scotland, Sept. 11(AP)—Officials gave up all hope tonight that 13 men entombed in the Knockshinnoch mine since Thursday's cave-in still might be alive.

A total of 116 other miners trapped on the 720-foot level were rescued Saturday and Sunday.

Republicans Run Up Commanding Leads In Maine

[By The Associated Press]

Three congressmen and a governor, all Republicans, ran up commanding leads for reelection in yesterday's Maine election — the nation's first.

Asiatic policies of the Truman administration provided the top issue in the balloting.

More than a fourth of the state's precincts were reported. Most of the unofficially tabulated vote was from rural areas, but there were a few city votes included.

In 240 of the state's 623 precincts Gov. Frederick G. Payne had 27,172 votes and Earl S. Grant (D) 11,570.

Rep. Robert Hale polled 5,733 to 3,587 for Miss Lucia M. Cormier (D) in 38 of the First District's 154 precincts.

In the Second District it was 11,734 for Rep. Charles P. Nelson and 4,029 for John J. Maloney (D) in 81 of 209 precincts.

Rep. Frank Fellows got 9,066 and John V. Keenan (D) 4,104 in 121 of the 260 Third District precincts.

Leland B. Currier, States Rights Democratic candidate, early became a negligible factor in the gubernatoral race. He had only 60 votes in the first 158 precincts reported.

All the state's 16 counties were included in the reported vote.

While Maine served up a preview of the November general elections, seven other states vote today in primaries determining major party candidates for five Senate and 41 House seats, and six governorships.

They are New Hampshire, Arizona, Vermont, Colorado, Washington, Michigan and Minnesota.

Maryland's primary election, originally scheduled for yesterday, was put over until next Monday to avoid conflict with the Jewish holidays.

Battle Starvation

NEW DELHI, India, Sept. 11 (AP) —Press dispatches from Madras said today a half million people were struggling against starvation in Travancore and Cochin Provinces in Madras states because they had been without government-supplied rations for the past two weeks. Children were reported fainting in the streets at Trivandrum, the capital.

GBS Undergoes Operation After Breaking Leg In Fall

The Irish-born sage and playwright had a tumble in his secluded hedge-hidden garden at nearby Ayot St. Lawrence yesterday. He apparently lay helpless for a short time until his servants found him.

The extent of his injuries was not at first known. But X-rays today disclosed a fracture of the left femur, or thigh bone. He was brought to the hospital here in an ambulance.

After the operation a nurse said his condition was "good." He was attended by three physicians.

The kind of hospital patient Shaw might be was indicated in 1948 when he was asked to send a message to the opening of a nurses' training school. He replied:

"Do people really need to be told that nurse training is important? What they really need to be told is that nurses are at present trained to kill their patients by untimely washings and unwholesome diets."

North Koreans Open Barrage In Taegu Area

Lull Descends On Entire War Front

TOKYO, Tuesday, Sept. 12 (AP)—Intense artillery and aerial poundings kept reinforced Korean reds pinned down today in positions north of Taegu.

The Reds sent in more troops and opened an artillery barrage, suggesting a new offensive in all this sector where the communists have massed more than 40,000 troops.

But a U. S. First Cavalry Division spokesman said "we really kept his (the enemy's) head down all (last) night."

The spokesman added that the communists have not moved from their positions, some only seven miles north of Taegu.

Elements of the U. S. First Cavalry Division counterattacked Red Korean troops holding a hill seven miles north of Taegu.

An hour after the assault began a spokesman said the troopers were moving ahead "satisfactorily."

Earlier an Army spokesman said the entire United Nations front in Korea last night was the quietest it had been "in a long time."

Far East Air Force said fighter planes were off in good weather early today, keeping up around-the-clock aerial assaults that hit a record 670 sorties Monday.

Strive To Trap 3,000 Reds

This massive effort was by U. S. Air Force planes of all types, Royal Australian Air Force fighters and U. S. Marine fighters under operational control of the Fifth Air Force. The previous high, FEAF said, was 625 sorties in a single day.

Fifth Air Force planes flew more than 400 sorties Monday in close support of United Nations ground forces along the battle line and on Red supply routes just behind the front. They concentrated on the Taegu area.

At the east coast end of the northern front, United Nations forces were striving to seal a trap around an estimated 3,000 Reds who had tried to surround an air base six miles southeast of red-held Pohang.

Associated Press Correspondent Bem Price reported that a hitherto secret U. N. task force was making strenuous efforts to seal off the southern end against these reds between Angang and Pohang.

South Korean forces already are reported to have slammed shut the trap at the north end.

Yanks Recapture Ridge

U. N. forces hold positions within one mile south of the port city of Pohang. Angang, also held by the reds, is nine miles west and slightly south of Pohang.

The only positional change of consequence reported this morning along the battle perimeter was at the south end where the U. S. 25th Division is defending positions 35 miles west of Pusan.

Associated Press Correspondent Stan Swinton reported that the Americans early today recaptured a ridge from numerically superior communists four miles south of the confluence of the Nam and Naktong Rivers.

The ridge, which commands one of the best crossing points along the Nam, was taken by the reds last night after they had stormed it three times.

Gale Winds Lash Northeast Coast

BOSTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Gale-force winds up to 65 miles an hour tonight slapped the southern New England coast as residents girded for an Atlantic hurricane they hoped would stay out at sea.

The last word from the Weather Bureau was that the hurricane would pass "just a short distance east of Nantucket around midnight (EST)."

Even as local and state officials set up hurricane protective measures in costal areas of the northeast states, rain-laden winds caused extensive damage in some communities.

An Edison Light Company official said that most of Brockton, Mass., was in darkness for several hours as falling trees tore down miles of utility wires.

Sections of New Bedford, Mass., were also in darkness for some time because of the storm. Light company officials said the strong wind drove rainwater into switches and connections.

More than 25 additional Massachusetts state troopers were assigned to Cape Cod from other parts of the state by Public Safety Commissioner Daniel I. Murphy

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Kiddie stories: A little girl who had just been promoted to the fourth grade in Town School wept on the shoulder of her teacher of the third grade. "Oh, Miss Young," she sobbed, "why aren't you smart enough to teach me again this season?" An indignant lad of ten sought out the local rent control office and reported, "I rented a seat at the Bijou Theatre and was evicted without notice eight hours later." . . . The Sunday school teacher asked Willie, "If you had a large, good apple and a small, wormy one, and you were told to divide with your brother, which would you give him?" Willie answered, "Do you mean my big brother or my little one?"

GEORGE P. MAHONEY FOR GOVERNOR
Democratic Campaign Headquarters - Fifth Floor -
LORD BALTIMORE HOTEL
BALTIMORE 1, MARYLAND

Dear Friends:

In true democratic fashion--in the real American way--the issues in the gubernatorial primary campaign have been spoken and written without restraint and with complete freedom.

You--the voters of Maryland--have again witnessed and participated in democracy in action. It is your great American heritage to make the final decision in the selection of the man who will be the nominee of the Democratic Party for the high office of Governor of our FREE STATE OF MARYLAND.

It is now your privilege--indeed, your solemn obligation--to exercise your right to vote in the complete privacy of the voting booth in your precinct on September 18.

You and I stand for the same things--a drastic reduction in the present burdensome and ever-mounting taxes which are being levied against us, a business-like administration of the State's affairs without extravagance, waste and inefficiency, and without in any-wise impairing the growth and progress of our public school system, our public health and hospital service, the building and maintenance of adequate state roads, and with full financial aid to our counties and cities.

No country in the world guarantees to its citizens greater opportunity to determine the course of their own affairs. Every man, every woman--rich and poor alike, regardless of race, color or creed--shares equally the privilege to vote.

I urge you to use that privilege wisely.

September 18 is FOUR day!

Respectfully,
George P. Mahoney

The Bill Of Rights Is Not Destroyed

A week ago tonight the Mayor and Council of Cumberland after listening to the objections of avowed communists passed unanimously a new city ordinance requiring that all communists in Cumberland register with the Police Department.

With this action The Cumberland News was in hearty accord.

Today, elsewhere in The Cumberland News, appears an advertisement attacking the ordinance as virtually destroying the Bill of Rights.

If you take the time to read the advertisement, you must realize that the Bill of Rights is not being destroyed; nor is there any danger in believing in freedom of speech, press and assembly.

The advertisement, with which the Cumberland News is in complete disagreement, is just an attempt at confusing the average loyal American citizen.

That freedom of the press does exist is evident with publication of this advertisement, wherein the sponsoring authority is taking advantage of that freedom to spread its misdirected propaganda before the American people.

How much better their efforts would be if they used their abilities to work for freedoms of speech, press and assembly in those countries where the news today is under strict censorship, and where any citizen is afraid to speak his mind for fear the secret police will have him in jail almost before his words have been spoken.

There are some who would take away these freedoms from the United States.

It is that minority which must be combatted with all of our vigor and ability. And, it is that minority which makes communist registration ordinances mandatory.

The Great Earth-Split

Save for one fortuitous event millions of years ago, the United States might today be living on the same continent as Russia, with no ocean barriers to provide at least some illusion of security. That, at least, follows from the theory propounded by German geophysicist Alfred Wegener in 1920, which now appears to be accepted by as many scientists in the field as still reject it.

To the layman, the theory is at least superficially plausible. When he takes a globe and looks at the coastline on opposite sides of the Atlantic, he can see that the contours "fit" amazingly well. So it looks reasonable to him that they were once united, that a great top-heavy land mass once broke apart and drifted off on a sea of basalt until the parts finally settled down in their present locations.

But there is plenty of opposition to this theory. Embattled professors all but came to blows over it at a British Association meeting in Birmingham the other day. When it was all over, the issue was put to a vote, but the result was so close neither side could claim a victory.

The pro-Wegener faction said Antarctica contains non-arctic fossils; that beetles, rodents and primitive reptiles in Africa and South America are in many respects too similar to explain without assuming the two continents were joined at some time. The anti-Wegener cohorts say the 10,000-foot layer of sediment in the Atlantic could never have accumulated since the time postulated for the great split.

Furthermore, they argued, the process would have buckled the continental shelf on the Pacific side of the Americas, which just didn't happen. The whole notion, they said, was just a waste of time.

This is one subject, it seems, on which the layman can have an opinion of his own, with as good a chance of being right as if he were an expert.

Cheap Insurance

Congress should act promptly and favorably upon J. Edgar Hoover's request for an extra appropriation of $6,000,000 for the Federal Bureau of Investigation. A rider could be attached to the appropriation ordering that the money be used to ferret out communist sympathizers in government departments and atomic and other defense projects.

The communists, of course, will not like the idea because the money is to be used to put them in their place and keep them there. According to Mr. Hoover there are at large in this country an estimated 12,000 "dangerous" enemies of the United States. If Congress places any value at all upon internal security, it had better give the FBI not only the funds to watch over them but the authority to clap them in jail in case of extreme emergency.

This is no time to be tender-hearted in treatment of those who would destroy the nation. Mr. Hoover, in asking for 835 additional agents and 1,218 new clerical workers, cites the fact that the complaints which the FBI is called upon to investigate have tripled in number since President Truman ordered intervention in Korea. He also discloses that many of the most energetic communists have gone underground or in hiding on farms. To keep an eye on them and to thwart their activities has therefore become an increasingly difficult job.

A small additional appropriation for the FBI will be cheap insurance, if not all of the money is spent looking for communists in the woods. Surely they have not all deserted Washington.

Pentagon Siesta

If the Senate watchdog committee is right, one of the first jobs of the new overall chief of defense mobilization will be to attack what the committee calls the "siesta psychology" of certain departments of the government that are housed in the Pentagon. It is hard to believe that any federal agency is not fully awake to the demands of the emergency, but the report to the Senate admits of no other conclusion.

According to the committee, aircraft, radio equipment and other military items continue to be sold as "surplus" and only the intervention of the President has prevented the sale of a government-owned rubber plant and of other government property "having a wartime use or potential." The Munitions Board of the Department of Defense is further accused of having recently lowered the rate of acquisitions for the rubber stockpile.

The disclosure that the Pentagon is still operating on a business-as-usual basis offers shocking testimony to the lack of teamwork and understanding in the Department of Defense.

Scientific society is trying to ascertain what prompts men to become embezzlers. Being too close to the money is just a suggestion.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

More Cancer Of The Lung

CANCER of the lung is a much more common disease today than it was 25 years ago. There are many theories on the cause of the mounting incidence of the disease. Most of the fingers point to tobacco as the culprit but positive proof is lacking. Nevertheless, it is possible that in the future more than one irritant will be implicated.

Cigarets are blamed chiefly because the majority of individuals with lung cancer had been moderately heavy to chain smokers for many years. Some statistics reveal that 96.5 per cent of all victims fall into this category. Furthermore, a high percentage had indulged more than 20 years and the condition is much more common in men than women. Altho the number of women smokers is increasing, few have had the habit for two decades. If this contention is correct, and women continue to smoke as much as they do now, we can expect a rise in the number of cases of lung malignancies in the fair sex.

The inhalation of other irritants also may play a role. These substances include city gas and other fumes and industrial dusts such as those from chromium and iron oxide. Tarred roads, the X-ray, and motor exhaust fumes are possibilities. Since many of us are exposed to several of these contaminants, it is conceivable that chronic irritation—regardless of the source—is playing a major part in the production of lung cancer.

• — • — •

In 1933 this disease emerged from the "incurable" category. Surgery did the trick and an entire lung can now be removed safely. On the other hand, the earlier diagnosis is made, the less extensive the operation and herein lies the secret of success. As with other malignancies, the victim may wait too long before consulting a physician. Coughing is one of the earliest symptoms but because so many of these patients are addicted to cigarets they are likely to consider it "smoker's cough." Periodic X-rays and reporting to the physician whenever changes in the coughing pattern occur will help to uncover at an earlier date the true nature of the "hacking." Other sufferers develop pain or severe discomfort over the involved side. Blood-streaked sputum also should arouse suspicion.

The physician has better methods nowadays of detecting the malady in its beginning stages. Studying the sputum helps and, in suspicious cases, the bronchial passageways can be viewed directly with a bronchoscope. The latter is a long tube with an eye piece at one end and a light on the other. If a lesion is encountered in examination, a small piece of tissue can be removed for biopsy. The X-ray is indispensable, especially when combined with other precedures that tend to bring out lung detail.

• — • — •

X-rays and radium are used occasionally to relieve symptoms but the outcome with these remedies rarely is good. Surgical treatment is best because it offers the only hope of cure. So many improvements have been made in this field that the procedure carries a low mortality rate and the number of five year "cures" has mounted. Furthermore, the conditions is being detected earlier. At the present time, 10 months usually elapse between the onset of symptoms and the time when the patient presents himself for treatment. This period must be shortened if physicians are to save more lives.

TOMORROW: Treatment with sound waves—supersonic therapy.

PENICILLIN SENSITIVITY

H. J. writes: Will the administration of penicillin do any harm if it was not really needed?

REPLY

Only in that the use of the product might create sensitivity to it, which means that it could not be administered in the future should a serious illness arise.

NOSEBLEED

V. S. writes: What causes a sudden hemorrhage of the nose after drinking coffee? This has happened twice.

REPLY

A ruptured blood vessel is a likely possibility but examination will be needed to determine "why." Coffee drinking has nothing to do with it.

SMOKING PROHIBITED

Mrs. U. writes: Is smoking bad for Raynaud's syndrome?

REPLY

Yes, because nicotine has a tendency to constrict the blood vessels. In Raynaud's syndrome, the blood pathways are contracted to begin with and smoking adds insult to injury.

FOLIC ACID

G. T. writes: Does folic acid contain vitamin B-12?

REPLY

No. Both are constituents of the vitamin B complex. Preparations containing both are available, however.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

China Still Aloof From Korean War; Mystery Witness Grunewald Is Undercover Lobbyist; Schoeppel Continues To Be Errand Boy For Utilities

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—A top secret intelligence report on China's negotiations with Russia on the vital question of coming in or staying out of the Korean war has just been received in Washington.

Obviously it is impossible to know how accurate these reports are regarding such important figures as Molotov and Mao Tse-Tung. However, here is what they are supposed to have talked about in their recent Peiping meeting.

Molotov, who is Stalin's Far East manager, was unable to budge Mao, China's communist boss, on the Korean war. Mao is reported to have refused point-blank to intervene in the Korean war or to set a date for the invasion of Formosa, or to attack British Hong Kong or Portuguese Macao.

Finally, after much wrangling, a 5-point program was agreed to:

1. Russia will outfit 15 Chinese divisions, or a total of about 225,000 men.

2. Mao will send limited troops as "volunteers" to Korea north of the 38th Parallel. This, of course, would relieve North Korean troops to fight south of the 38th Parallel.

3. China will patrol the Manchurian-Korean border.

4. Molotov and Mao will meet again this month to reach an agreement on the invasion of Formosa. All summer the Russians have been demanding the communists make an amphibious attack on Formosa, but Mao has been putting them off week after week. This was one reason why President Truman cracked down on MacArthur when he shot off his uncleared statement on Formosa.

5. Mao's government will help reequip Viet Minh forces in Indo-China for a new, all-out offensive.

NOTE — The above intelligence report is chiefly based on British information, the British having much better sources than we do in the Orient.

Mystery Wire-Tap Witness

There is something awfully peculiar about the way the Justice Department claimed it couldn't locate the mysterious missing witness in the wire-tapping case, Henry Grunewald, then suddenly produced him in another case after the statute of limitations had run on Senator Brewster's wire-tappings.

Mr. Grunewald, who worked for Pan American World Airways at the time of the wire-tapping, and was intimate with chief wire-tapper Lieut. Joe Shimon, is a well-known person about town. But for some strange reason he evaporated into thin air.

Gunewald has a $75,000 home at Valharbour, Miami Beach; a $85,000 home at Spring Lake, N. J., and owns considerable property in the district of Columbia, including a five-acre tract in the fashionable suburbs. He owns three automobiles, including a limousine, which is frequently seen parked outside the Senate. Inside, he is chiefly in the offices of Senators Brewster of Maine and Bridges of New Hampshire.

He also has an apartment at the swank Westchester; has maintained an office in the Munsey Building and a suite in the Washington Hotel which he shares with the former Secretary of War and ex-Governor of Kansas Harry Woodring. Lieut. Shimon, the wire-tapping cop, also occupied this suite as a guest of Woodring's and Grunewald's; and the other night when a Senate investigator called, who should poke his bald head out of the suite but William Power Maloney, close friend of Senator Brewster's and attorney for Lieut. Shimon.

Grunewald has also been frequently seen in the company of War Assets Administrator Jesse Larson, and is so often in Senator Brewster's office that he is treated as if he were a member of the office force.

Senator Bridges also seems solicitous about Grunewald. When a representative of this column called at Grunewald's Munsel Building office, its occupants professed complete amazement that Grunewald had ever been in the office. Yet, in the next room, someone hastily and surreptitiously phoned Senator Bridges to warn: "They're trying to find Henry."

How Grunewald, an immigrant from Europe, made all his money, remains a mystery. But he is reported to be one of the most highly paid undercover lobbyists in Washington.

"Phonograph-Needle" Schoeppel

The backstage decision to have mousy Senator Schoeppel of Kansas sling communist mud at Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman was made at a meeting of Republican senators in the office of Senator Ken Wherry of Nebraska, who recently played into the hands of the racketeers by slicing the Senate crime probe appropriations by one-half.

Wherry remarked the Chapman was winning too many battles against the public utilities. So Frank Bow, former axeman for the GOP harness committee in the Republican 80th Congress and now aide to Schoeppel, worked up a mud-slinging attack for the Senator.

The fact that the speech was ghostwritten was why Schoeppel asked for a delay of Secretary Chapman's reply. For Bow, the ghost writer was out of town and the Senator himself knew no more about the facts in the case than a phonograph needle knows about the record it is playing.

Though Schoeppel didn't prepare the tirade against Chapman, he was delighted to spearhead the attack, because it dovetailed with the interests of his law firm and the big gas and oil company clients it serves.

Unlike conscientious Senator Brien McMahon of Connecticut, Schoeppel did not divorce himself from his law firm when he came to Washington. And the Martindale-Hubbell law directory lists Schoeppel as representing five oil companies, two gas companies and twenty insurance companies, including Republic Natural Gas, Colorado Interstate Gas, Texaco, Sinclair, Phillips Petroleum, Gulf, and Lion Oil.

No wonder Alf Landon once described Schoeppel as the "errand boy of the utilities." No wonder also that he was delighted to use the Senate floor to castigate the cabinet member who had opposed his law clients.

He was delighted that is until Secretary Chapman came back with his scathing reply. After that, the Senator decided that Congress and a Kansas farm are absolutely alike when it comes to sticking your finger in a buzz saw.

MATTER OF FACT

By JOSEPH ALSOP

How Much?

HOW much are we really going to spend for defense? For weeks now, the National Security Council has been wrestling with this life-and-death issue. Much of the spadework has been done by Ambassador-at-Large Philip Jssup and Air Force Secretary Thomas Finletter, who have been meeting almost daily with the other deputies of the N.S.C. And as every week has passed since the attack on Korea, the estimates of defense spending have increased.

At first it was thought that $18,000,000,000 to $20,000,000,000 would suffice. This was quickly upped to the $25,000,000,000 level incorporated in President Truman's request to Congress. From this level the estimates climbed to $27,000,000,000 then to $30,000,000,000. And it now appears likely that the total of defense spending for the next fiscal year may climb, in authorization requests, well over $40,000,000,000 and perhaps as high as $50,000,000,000.

What has happened, of course, is very simple. Gradually, the real facts of our situation have been faced—that general war in the near future has become, if not probable, exceedingly possible; and that for the first time in our history we could quite conceivably lose a war. And facing these facts has in turn forced the planners to think, not about what we can comfortably afford, but about what we really need.

There is now beginning to be fairly general agreement on what we really need. These needs may be itemized as follows:

Commitment Likely

ARMY: Eighteen to twenty divisions. It was at first intended to hold the Army to fourteen divisions. But as the weeks since the Korean attack have passed, the Europeans have been begging more and more urgently for a real American commitment on the Continent—at least six divisions — with an American supreme commander for the joint Atlantic pact forces. No official decision has been taken, but this commitment will in the end almost certainly be made, simply because otherwise the Atlantic alliance will disintegrate. This commitment will require a total American standing army of at least eighteen divisions, and perhaps twenty.

AIR FORCE: Ninety to 105 groups. Because of all the past emphasis on a seventy-group Air Force, it has been generally assumed that the sixty-nine-group Air Force currently authorized meets requirements. This is not the case. The fact is that the seventy-group program has been rendered obsolete by events.

For one thing, the Soviets have begun stockpiling atomic bombs much sooner than anticipated. For another thing, Soviet air defenses, crude when the Finletter report was written in 1947, are now certainly exceedingly formidable. It was to take care of just such unforseen developments that the report called for a thorough review of the whole air program in January, 1950. While "economy" ruled the day, such a review would have been futile. It has now been undertaken. The result has been a virtually unanimous agreement that minimum security demands at least a ninety-group Air Force, and perhaps an Air Force of over 100 groups.

Cost—$30,000,000,000

NAVY: About double the strength of the "economy" Navy. The new Navy would be built around ten, and perhaps twelve heavy aircraft carriers, a large number of light carriers, and with both the marines and the semi-submarine defenses decisively strengthened.

No final estimates have been made of what increases in this order would cost. But preliminary estimates are that this kind of American defense force could be maintained, once it was created, at a level of about $30,000,000,000 annually, at present prices. Roughly, the costs come to about $12,000,000,000 to maintain an eighteen-division Army, $10,500,000,000 to maintain an Air Force of just under 100 groups, and about $8,000,000,000 for the strengthened Navy.

The trouble is that these new forces must first be created—and created with almost frantic haste. If the orderly increase in strength advocated by James Forrestal had been undertaken, this could have been done without very great strain. But because of the deep cutbacks under the "economy" program, the process of creating new strength will be fantastically expensive. This is the basic reason why estimates of the initial costs have now soared up above $40,000,000,000.

To this huge figure must be added $5,000,000,000 to $6,000,000,000 for European rearmament, and $1,000,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 for a greatly expanded effort in the atomic and guided missiles field. Thus what is immediately in prospect is a defense effort virtually on a war-time scale, for two or three years.

Provided there is no general war, this would be followed by an indefinite period during which 10 to 15 per cent of the gross national product would be devoted to defense. This is not a pleasant prospect. But it is a great deal better than another world war. And it is a great, great deal better than losing such a war if it comes. And that is precisely where we were headed only ten weeks ago.

Appeasement Policy Laid To Bungling Of Defense

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11—Appeasement of communism in China and the utter senselessness of the war in Korea if appeasement is now ordered will be the prime issue in the coming congressional campaign.

The Midwest Democratic conference, by accusing certain Republicans of wanting war with communist China, has let the cat out of the bag. The recognition of communist China and its admission to a seat in the United Nations is evidently to be the crowning climax of the Democratic administration's effort to pin the responsibility for "war" on their political opponents and to take to themselves the credit for maintaining "peace."

The Republicans will not take that sort of charge lying down. They will ask why the administration went into Korea at all at a cost already of about 8,000 casualties if it was intended to give communist Russia, communist China and communist North Korea their way anyhow in the Far East.

Emphasizes Weakness

The administration's maneuvers are by no means sure-footed even from a political standpoint. The purport of the radio-broadcast interview given by Secretary of State Acheson over the Columbia Broadcasting System is that the position of the United States with respect to Formosa is one of military weakness and that the proposal to "neutralize" the island is based upon the fear that we cannot defend it. The communist world does not respect weakness, as has been admitted by the Secretary himself. Hence, it is difficult to understand the purpose he had in mind in emphasizing our military weakness. He said:

"When it was decided by the President that we would lend our support, and full support, to the United Nations in the Korean defense you can see how important it was that, having taken most of our troops out of Japan and brought up troops from Okinawa and brought our fleet up from the Philippines and placed it to the north, Formosa should be neutralized and should not be a point of danger upon the left flank of the whole United Nations position.

"And, therefore, the President neutralized it by saying that the Seventh Fleet would prevent any attack upon Formosa and Formosa should not make any attack upon the mainland. There was a fair proposition, and it was meant to work both ways—and it does work both ways. The President also pointed out that what he has said has nothing to do with foreclosing the political decisions on the future of Formosa. These should be made by peaceful means and he has stressed over and over again that our sole long-range desire about Formosa is that its future should be decided by peaceful negotiation and settlement, and not by force."

Many Questions Raised

Does this "fair proposition" mean a deal with communist China whereby, if she accepts the facts about our military weakness and doesn't attack Formosa, she is to be rewarded with admission to the U. N. and recognition as well as perhaps later the Island of Formosa itself? Was MacArthur right after all in warning against "appeasement" in the Far East? Is this the way to create "areas of strength" as Mr. Acheson phrases it so often? Who, to be sure, created the military weakness of the United States in the Far East and who abolished the "fleet in being" so far as the Pacific was concerned? Why is it necessary in 1950 to make a deal on Formosa because of a lack of adequate naval forces in commission to protect an island entirely surrounded by deep water when only five years ago the United States had the largest navy the world had ever known?

The Republicans cannot be prevented in the coming campaign from asking pertinent questions concerning the very military weakness which apparently is now dictating our appeasement policies. Chamberlain at Munich in 1938 appeased Hitler to gain time but war was not thereby avoided. America by appeasing Stalin with a Far Eastern Munich will gain time but lose the respect of Asiatic peoples to say nothing of the respect of the peoples of Europe and the rest of the world. It looks like a dangerous adventure born of military weakness and attributable to our bungling policies in failing to allocate wisely the $50,000,000,000 we spent for defense in the last five years. The new policy of appeasement is presumably designed to deter aggression. It could encourage and lead to further aggression by an arrogant communism.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

It Could Happen

A READER from Great Falls, Mont., writes me: "Now that the government has taken over the railroads to operate, would it not be well to set the salaries of trainmen and conductors, engineers, etc at soldiers wages, namely the pay that a buck sergeant, a technical sergeant, and a master sergeant would draw. If that was done, it seems to me, the rank and file of men would soon have the government get out of the railroad business."

This is the old argument heard in World War I and in World War II about war profiteers—owner-profiteers, management-profiteers, labor-profiteers, black-market-profiteers and the worst of all, politician profiteers.

For instance, I have for years been wondering about a figure like Robert Hannegan, who came to Washington from Missouri, became chairman of the Democratic National Committee and Postmaster General. These positions do not draw high pay, and, besides, Hannegan held them at a period of high income taxes. Yet, he died a comparatively rich man. How does a man manage to manipulate capital that way?

The last war and its immediate aftermath produced many rich men, obviously rich men. It also produced high wages and tremendously improved working conditions. It also produced a plethora of subsidies for many segments of the American population. It also reduced the value of the dollar and an inflation which is now getting worse.

Those who profiteer in wartime are often the fathers of sons who are dying in the same war. They profiteer and complain about taxes and fail to connect their personal conduct with inadequate supplies at the front because they cost too much

A so-called fifth round wage increase can only mean that every shot and shell, every airplane and submarine will cost that much more. And that can only mean that taxes must go up, the national debt must go up, the real value, the purchasing value of money must go down. Around Christmas-time, every American will discover, when he needs cash money most, that his dollar has lost considerable value.

Of course, Christmas comes in December and the Congressional elections come in November, and between the two dates something may be done to stem the inflation, if it is not, by then, too late. Inflation is an exceedingly poisonous operation, particularly in time of war, and most especially in a war that is not going so well.

Let us ignore the railroad strike and have a look, instead, at the electrical strike. In this situation there is a quarrel between two unions, the U. E. (United Electrical, Radio & Machine Workers of America), which is communist-controlled and pro-Stalin, and the I.U.E. (Intl. Union of Electrical, Radio & Machine Workers), which is a CIO outfit that is reputedly anti-communist. The U.E. was kicked out of the CIO in the housecleaning that occurred last year, although it had been in the CIO since its existence, with communist leadership of importance. The I.U.E. was organized by the CIO to combat the U.E. and to take over its contracts.

The hope of the I.U.E. was that the management of the electrical companies would rush headlong into its arms, coercing the workers to leave the U.E. and to join the I.U.E. For once, most management showed wisdom. They held that the workers themselves must determine what union they choose to accept as their agency for representation and collective bargaining.

The workers were of a divided mind. Some voted for the U.E.; some for the I.U.E. And there was the possibility always that in subsequent votes the workers would change their minds. The I.U.E. would like the whole business. But the workers would have to decide that, not management. Therefore, there is an organization strike designed to prove that the I.U.E. can do better than the U.E. Then the U.E. would have to try to do better for the unions it controls and we shall have a ring-around-rosie.

That is precisely the situation in wartime in an essential war industry—in fact, in the most essential war industry upon which depend the lives of our sons fighting not only in Korea but preparing to fight on other fronts.

Maybe some people hold the lives of their sons lightly. Maybe some of them have forgotten their own war experiences. Maybe some just don't think.

It Says Here

Ninety-four and still going strong.

Yes, sir, George Bernard Shaw, who recently celebrated his 94th birthday, has just finished another play.

You've all heard of George Bernard Shaw . . . That's Jolson with a Ph. D.

But the way the old master keeps going is amazing. In his lifetime Shaw has written more than forty million words. That's almost as many words as are used up in a week by radio commercials.

Shaw, who gets big royalties from his books and plays, is a vegetarian. In fact, he's very fond of both kinds of lettuce.

He is famous for his witty sayings, which are constantly quoted by writers, educators, and Milton Berle.

Though he is past 94 Shaw is still as bright, alert and witty as ever. In fact, he hopes to live to be as old as some of those movies on television.

Crop Prospects Continue Good

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—The nation's crops overcame effects of some unfavorable weather during August to maintain production prospects well in line with the average of World War II.

In a progress report, the Agriculture Department said today the harvest voume should be higher than in five of the last eight years and in any year prior to 1946. It forecast the volume at 125 per cent of the 1923-32 average.

August weather, on the whole, was less favorable than usual for growing crops and farm operations. Average tenperatures were below normal in many sections of the important midwestern corn belt. Likewise, rainfall was too heavy in some areas.

Nevertheless, production estimates for many cops were raised above Aug. 1 level in the department report.

Corn, the major grain and the principal fed for meat and dairy animals, rmained virtually unchanged at a bumper level despite the fact the weather was cooler than it should have been for best possible development of the crop.

The whet total climbed above the billion-buael mark to 1,012,000,000 bushels. This was an increase of about 15,00,000 bushels over the Aug. 1 estmate.

House Tax Bill Action Delayed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP) — House backers of an immediate excess profits tax forced a delay today in final action on the $4,508,000,000 tax-boosting bill.

But Speaker Rayburn (D-Texas) told them they were only wasting time and holding up funds that "the government needs desperately." Rayburn said from the floor that Senate and House rules won't permit the addition of an excess profits tax to the present bill.

The tax bill delay came when Rep. Young (D-Ohio) objected to a motion sending the measure to conference for ironing out differences between House and Senate versions.

This motion—made by Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the Ways and Means Committee—needed unanimous consent for immediate adoption, so that Young's objection was enough to block it.

Rayburn said the House will be asked next Thursday to send the bill to conference by a special rule which will require only a majority vote.

3 Men Drowned In State Floods

[By The Associated Press]

Three men drowned in the flash floods that paralyzed a wide strip of Central Maryland after Sunday night's heavy rain storm.

Their car tumbled off a bridge into swirling Gunpowder Falls where it crosses state Route 7 at the Harford County line northeast of Baltimore.

State police recovered their bodies and identified them as Jorden Brown, 18, Renick, W. Va.; Oscar Brown, about 22, also of Renick, and Vernon Brown, 31, Rock, Md.

Owen Brown, an 18-year-old brother of Vernon, managed to fight his way out of the flood-swollen stream. Still dazed, he was taken to a hospital at Havre de Grace and was unable to give police a coherent story of what had happened.

Apparently, an oncoming car splashed water over the windshield of the machine in which the Browns were riding and the driver lost control.

Dozens of rescues were reported. Doris Pugh, 17, tried to reach a barn at her home near White Marsh to lead five horses to safety. The rushing water of White Marsh Creek swept her off her feet. She grabbed a wheel barrow and hung on until two men reached her and pulled her out of the stream.

White Marsh, just northeast of Baltimore, was one of the hardest hit communities. Water cascaded through houses there.

Floods blocked and washed out many roads at low spots in a wide arc from east and west of Baltimore all the way to the Pennsylvania line.

Army Checks Combat Record Of Negro Unit

ON THE MASAN FRONT, Sept. 11 (AP) — The Army is checking into the combat performance of the 24th Infantry Regiment, oldest negro fighting unit in the American Army.

It is generally believed that the survey will result in a decision of integration of both negro and white troops in the regiment. Such integration is favored by both white and negro officers in the field.

While neither white nor colored officers like to discuss the matter on the record, privately it is conceded that the inspection was touched off because the North Korean breakthrough Sept. 1 on the 25th Division front was made through the 24th Regiment.

AMONG 200 delegates convening in Bellingham, Wash., to discuss affairs concerning America's 400,000 Indians, is Cleveland Kamiakin (above), 90-year-old son of the famous Yakima War Chief. He is a representative of the Indian Nations at the National Congress of American Indians. (International)

THE TREMENDOUS AMOUNT of ammunition needed to keep just one artillery piece barking is graphically illustrated in this U. S. Army photo from South Korea. The disordered pile of shell cases in the foreground probably is the result of an effort to break up a Communist attack. The cases will be gathered up and stacked, like those in the background, for salvage. (International Soundphoto)

54 Stranded American Students Flying Home

PARIS, Sept. 11 (AP) — Fifty-four American students and teachers stranded here for 11 days left for New York tonight aboard a chartered plane. Their return flight was paid on an I. O. U. basis.

They are part of a group of 240 which has been touring Europe for the past two months. They became stranded here when a student travel service ran into financial difficulty and couldn't find a plane to fly them home.

The Flying Tiger Line came to the rescue by offering to transport a group to the United States for promissory notes.

Cancer-Blinded Boy, 5, Enters Overlea School

WESTERNPORT—Glenn Norman DiCheria, 135 Main Street, the five year old boy whose eyes have been removed by operation because of cancer entered the Maryland School for the Blind, at Overlea, Md., Sunday.

Glenn's right eye was removed in 1947 when he was 22 months old and about a year later the left eye had to be removed.

A well developed child for his age, he plays with other children and never gets off of the pavement or near the curb.

His mother, Stella DiCheria, said she took him to visit a friend in Barton Thursday night and he went through the unfamiliar house without difficulty.

A year ago friends, recognizing the sad plight of the boy, became interested in trying to help. Mrs. Grant Warnick and Mrs. Russell Fitzgerald suggested the idea of getting the boy a "Seeing Eye Dog."

They consulted Edwin M. Horchler, a blind attorney of Cumberland, who stated the boy was too young for a seeing eye dog. He suggested some means be used to teach Glenn how to use his hands instead of his eyes until he is old enough to enter school.

Mrs. Warnick made arrangements for Burza Hanlin, chief of police, to receive contributions from those desiring to aid Glenn to get an education.

Contributions amounting to $802.29 have been placed in the Citizens National Bank by a committee composed of Mrs. Warnick, Burza Hanlin, and George W. Daddysman. Checks for $45.55 for necessary clothing required by the school for his entrance and $25 for his mother to take him to the school were received.

Many of the contributions were from out of town. The committee would appreciate donations from any persons or organizations.

Fort Ashby High School Offers Vets' Training

Night Classes Open In Commercial Course

FORT ASHBY, W. Va.—William Marker, commercial instructor of Fort Ashby High School, announces that veterans who have or have not completed high school and desire to enroll in typing I and Bookkeeping and Accounting I, may register for the second session at the Fort Ashby High School Tuesday, September 19, 8 p. m., (DST).

He also states that the school will be open for any non-veteran that may desire to enroll, including women.

Marker, states that the school will be conducted on a half-time basis which will require the veterans to attend school 12 hours a week in order for the veteran to receive subsistence allowance. The school will be conducted three nights a week from 6:30 to 10:30.

Any veteran who wants to enter training under provisions of the GI Bill must start before July 25, 1951. The law provides that a course of education or training shall be initiated before the termination of 4 years after the date of discharge or by July 25, 1951, whichever is the later, and that such education or training cannot be afforded beyond July 25, 1956, except for those veterans who enlisted under the Voluntary Recruitment Act of October 6, 1945. Therefore, a veteran otherwise eligible must have commenced and actually be pursuing his course of education or training on July 25, 1951, or the date four years after discharge, whichever is later, except where his attendance is interrupted because of the normal interruptions for summer vacations, or other reasons beyond the control of the veteran.

If the veteran has been in training once under the GI Bill, but now wishes to take a second course in a different field, Public Law 610, recently passed by Congress, gives him a new opportunity to make application for this change, even if he has once been denied a change.

For more information on this new change in the law, veterans should contact their nearest Veterans Administration office, or Marker at his home in Fort Ashby or phone 2761.

Marker urges all veterans who wishes to enroll to apply for a Certificate of Eligibility at the Veterans Administration and present it when enrolling.

Sniper Took Life Of Pfc. Bishop

A North Korean sniper's bullet took the life of Pfc. Donald Bishop, 19, one of the first area soldiers to be killed in Korea, according to a letter to his sister, Mrs. Catherine Williams, 114 Blaul Avenue, from Bishop's commanding officer.

First Lieut. Thomas F. Begley, commander of a company of the Eighth Cavalry Regiment, informed Mrs. Williams that "Up to the time he was killed, Donald had fought with his company through one battle and through an enemy roadblock."

"The day he was killed the company was in a position on a high hill. Across a small ravine was another hill. Early in the day we received sniper fire from an enemy 'burp' gun across the ravine, according to Lieut. Begley.

"After several hours of searching and shooting with our weapons and heavy mortars, the sniper was still not silenced.

"Donald was hit on the finger and at first it didn't seem serious, but further examination showed he suffered a body wound. In about two minutes time he passed away," the officer related.

The action took place near Kumchon on August 1.

"Donald was 'our buddy'—and we miss him," Lieut. Begley said.

"Perhaps there is one consolation—he will be spared the Hell of War that many of us have yet to face," the officer wrote.

Lieut. Begley said he met Pfc. Bishop in February while maneuvers were taking place at Mount Fuji in Japan.

"I knew him as a combat soldier and there was one thing in particular that made him stand out—that was his tenacity and strong heart," Lieut. Begley stated.

"He had a will power that carried him far beyond his normal physical capacitly. For example, he carried a heavy automatic rifle and many rounds of ammunition on rigorous marches when even larger men with lighter loads were unable to stand the strain," the officer pointed out.

Mrs. Williams was also informed that her brother has been posthumously awarded the Purple Heart Medal.

FREDERICK BAUER, 45, World War II veteran of the American and German armies, takes his wife and children aboard the Navy transport "General Blatchford" at New York for his return trip to Germany. Losing a five-year battle to remain in the United States, Bauer was ordered deported to Germany on grounds he lost his U. S. citizenship when he joined the German army in 1938. Mrs. Bauer remained with her husband during his stay on Ellis island, and their two youngsters were born there. Bauer's wife, Wilma, is an American citizen, a native of Rockville, Ind. (International Soundphoto)

Crippled Children's League Reports Polio Fund Exhausted

OUTSTANDING service to the community of Hamilton, Ohio, brings Joan Crawford, 13, the title of Queen of 1950 National Kids' Day. Selection was made by a panel of judges representing some 3,150 Kiwanis clubs. Joan's prize is a free trip to Hollywood. (Central Press)

EDITOR and general manager Claude Bellanger of the Parisien Libere, large French morning daily founded in 1944 by the French resistance group, soon will visit the United States. He will be one of the guests of the American Society of Newspaper Editors and American Press Institute which have invited newspapermen from throughout the world to visit the United States and meet American newspapermen. (International)

The Allegany County League for Crippled Children has exhausted its current funds, according to Mrs. H. Opie Annan, executive secretary, and may have to appeal to the national organization, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Meanwhile the national foundation has called upon chapters of local level to pledge their uncommitted funds to polio epidemic relief, the local chapter was informed.

Mrs. Annan said there are eight new cases being treated under the league program and one case is being treated in Children's Hospital in Baltimore.

An additional 50 cases have been under treatment for over one year, with some being under the care of the league for five years. This includes fitting of special braces and other costly procedures.

As an example of the cost of treating polio patients, Mrs. Annan said that hospital cases which are under care in Baltimore cost the county league approximately $300 monthly.

The national group issued its appeal through Basil O'Connor, president of the foundation.

To meet an "undeniably grave" financial situation caused by mounting polio incidence adding to the staggering load of last year's patients who still require care, the National Foundation president has asked the cooperation of all chapters of making another public appeal this year.

In a letter to all chapter chairmen, O'Connor said:

"Financally, our situation is this. There is, roughly, $1,100,000 available for epidemic aid at national headquarters, and we are advancing more than $1,000,000 a month to chapters whose treasuries have been exhausted by the heavy case loads they are carrying.

"Although we can't know to the exact dollar what our 1950 patient care bill will be, careful analysis indicates that our epidemic aid funds will be exhausted within the first ten days of November.

"On the other hand, there was enough money in the combined treasuries of our solvent chapters on August 1 to carry us through the year, if it were made available to national headquarters to be used only for epidemic relief. We believe that you, as well as those who contributed this money, would want these reserves used before we make another public appeal."

He also urged local units to start planning their organizational work for advance special gifts to the 1951 March of Dimes, and to forward the national 50 per cent share as collected, instead of holding the funds until after the January drive.

"Without question, the job we have set ourselves is difficult," he concluded. "But I am sure that all of us will make whatever secrifices are necessary to fulfill our obligations to those who are stricken by infantile paralysis . . . and I pray that there will not be many more of them."

New York Yanks Regain Lead; Sheetz Scores 10th Shutout

Senators Fall Before Slants Of Ford, Lopat

World Champions Win, 5-1, 6-2 And Now Top Tigers By Half-Game

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—The New York Yankees swept into first place in the seething American League pennant battle by capturing a doubleheader from the Washington Senators, 5-1 and 6-2, behind the nifty pitching of lefthanders Ed Ford and Ed Lopat.

The victories gave the World Champions a half-game edge over the idle Detroit Tigers. Boston's third-place Red Sox also didn't play.

Ford, the unbeaten 21-year-old rookie, hurled a three-hitter for his sixth straight victory in the opener. Lopat relieved starter Tommy Byrne in the fifth inning of the second game and blanked the Senators the rest of the way. It was his 16th triumph.

As a result of today's action, here's the way the American League scramble shapes up:

	W.	L.	Pct.	GB.	Left
NEW YORK	86	49	.637	—	19
DETROIT	85	49	.634	½	20
BOSTON	85	51	.625	1½	18

Jackie Jensen, the 23-year-old former football star from California, paced New York's 10-hit attack in the opener against loser Al Sima and Con Marrero. He clubbed three safeties, including his first big league homer.

After spotting Washington a 1-0 lead in the first inning, the Yanks scored twice in the fourth inning to give Ford all the margin he needed. A double by Jensen and a string of singles by Joe DiMaggio, Larry Berra and Hank Bauer shoved the tallies across.

Thre more runs in the eighth inning cemented the game.

In the second game, Lopat gave up only two hits in 4⅔ innings. A three-run blast off Canralio Consuegra in the second inning was all the advantage the New Yorkers needed.

DiMaggio ignited the rally with a double to center. Billy Johnson sent DiMaggio across with a single. After Jerry Coleman smacked another one-baser, Byrne doubled to left, scoring both runners.

The Yankees picked up another run in the third inning. The Senators got that one back in the fourth on singles by Mickey Vernon, Gil Coan and Mickey Grasso and when they put two runners on base with one out in the fifth, Lopat replaced Byrne.

The crafty southpaw got Vernon to hit into a force play. Yost, who was on third, scored. Sam Mele then grounded out to end the uprising. Box:

Bill Goodman's .361 Tops Junior League Hitters

Evers Jumps To Third With Average Of .340

CHICAGO, Sept. 11 (AP)—Boston's Bill Goodman still held a substantial lead in the American League batting race today with .361, but the surprise of last week was a 22-point surge by Detroit's Hoot Evers.

Bill Goodman

Evers, who amassed a sensational total of 20 hits in 29 AB's, climbed from .318 to a third-spot .340 during the week.

Goodman's five hits in 21 trips dropped him seven points from .368 last week, but he still was 16 points ahead of runner-up George Kell of Detroit, who slackened two points to .345.

New York's Hank Bauer took over fourth place with an unchanged .336 as Cleveland's Larry Doby slumped seven points to a fifth-spot .334. Other leaders through Sunday's games included Dom DiMaggio, Boston, .333; Walt Dropo and Al Zarilla, both of Boston, .331 each; Phil Rizzuto, New York, .327; and Hal Lehner, Philadelphia, .319.

Kell was a double leader in the specialized departments with 195 hits and 48 doubles as he collected six more two-baggers among his 10 hits for the week.

Three of Evers' 20 blows were triples, giving him the lead in that department with 11. Cleveland's Al Rosen continued as the home-run leader with 34, adding one, while Dropo banged across nine more runs to grab undisputed RBI leadership with 139.

Another double leader was Boston's DiMaggio with 123 runs and 15 stolen bases.

Forty Niners Give Releases To Celeri, Herman Wedemeyer

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11 (AP)—Bob Celeri, who quarterbacked the University of California into the Rose Bowl last season, was one of eight players released today by the San Francisco Forty Niners of the National Professional Football League. He had seen but little service in the five exhibition games played by the local pro club.

Also cut from the squad was Herman Wedemeyer, former St. Mary's halfback star who had played with the Los Angeles Dons and the Baltimore Colts in the defunct professional All-America Conference.

Murray Fans 13, Dodgers Win, 3-2

Wayne Murray struck out 13 batsmen as the Dodgers of Cumberland's Little Baseball League defeated the Keyser (W.Va.) All-Stars last night at Penn Avenue Field by the score of 3-2.

Only five hits were made in the game and one was a circuit blast by Billy Fair of the Dodgers in the third inning. Singles by Billy Buzzard and Dunbar produced what proved to be the winning marker in the 5th inning.

Bailey and Keedy, Keyser pitchers, fanned 11. Score:

KEYSER ALL-STARS ... 000 011—2 2 3
DODGERS ..... 011 01x—3 3 3

Bailey, Keedy (3) and Main. Murray and R. Fair.

Red Sox Installed Favorites In A.L.'s Hot Pennant Race

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—Broadway odds-makers have installed the Boston Red Sox as the favorites in the red hot American League pennant race. The prices quoted are 7½ or 8½ to 5.

Both the Detroit Tigers and New York Yankees, are bracketed at 2 to 1 with the skidding Cleveland Indians at 15 to 1.

The Red Sox, winners of 23 out of their last 26 games, are in third place by a full game with 18 left to play. Of these 12 will be played away from home and six in Fenway Park.

DaGrosa Blasts New York Boxing At NBA Meeting

Pennsy Commissioner Calls IBC "Monopoly"

By JACK HAND

DETROIT, Sept. 11 (AP) — Ray Robinson will get the next shot at the world middleweight title if the National Boxing Association has its way.

The NBA convention today notified champion Jake LaMotta and challenger Laurent Dauthuille of France that the winner of their Wednesday night championship bout at Detroit's Olympia must face Robinson within six months. They didn't say maybe. However no penalties were provided.

Both fighters were told they must "disregard any previous contracts" that might call for a return match. As such a contract is supposed to exist, there may be a hitch in the Robinson match.

LaMotta already has agreed to fight Sugar Ray at Chicago Stadium in the second week of February if he beats the Frenchman. However, Dauthuille is bound by a "verbal agreement" to give Jake a return go if he lifts the crown. It is not known what the NBA will do if Dauthuille's representative Max Waxman, refuses to go along with the convention's wishes.

The LaMotta-Robinson contract was brought before the convention in a surprise move by Truman Gibson of Chicago, secretary of the International Boxing Club. Jake would get 45 percent and Robinson 15 percent.

The vote requiring the LaMotta-Dauthuille winner to fight Robinson let the NBA out of a tight spot. Its executive committee had ordered LaMotta to meet Robinson before Oct. 12 or give up the title. Now he has more time. Also the money will go on a 1951 income tax return, not 1950.

An attempt to force staging of the Robinson bout in NBA territory was defeated by a 20-6 vote despite the violent objection of John (Ox) Da Grosa, Pennsylvania Boxing Commissioner. Da Grosa accused the IBC of being a "monopoly" and decried New York boxing as "The Black Hole of Calcutta." Da Grosa and the Pennsylvania commission already recognize Robinson as middleweight champ after his June win over Robert Villemain.

Pfc. Curt Simmons Arrives At Camp

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 11 (AP)—Army Pfc. Curt Simmons, ace lefthander for the Philadelphia Phillies this season and first major league ball player to be inducted into federal service because of the Korean emergency, arrived at nearby Camp Atterbury today with fellow members of the 28th Infantry Division, Pennsylvania National Guard.

Simmons left Philadelphia yesterday afternoon with some 1,000 others from the Philadelphia area. The 19-car special train carrying them was several hours ahead of the troop train that was wrecked at Coshocton, Ohio, killing more than 30 GI's.

Goss Returns To Ring • • • Sorrentino Is Tops

By C. V. BURNS

"Woody" Woodson's stellar pitching performances which brought Westvaco two wins in as many days over Midland's Indians on Saturday and Sunday (7-0 and 9-8) revived memories of 1948 when the same twirler "stole the show" by hurling the 4th place Queen City Brewers to victory over Westvaco in the Bi-State Baseball League's final playoff series.

Woody Woodson

In the league's playoff semi-final two years ago, the Brewers eliminated the Cumberland Amvets, three games to two. Woodson won the opener, 10-3, and lost the 4th game, a 14-inning thriller, 1-0. In the 5th and deciding game in which Holsinger bester Danny Drew, 7-1, Woodson batted in five of Queen City's runs.

To climax his brilliant 1948 performance, Woodson, who now coaches at Bruce High School, bagged four games in the title series with the Papermakers. He won the first, 1-0; fourth, 4-2; sixth, 9-4, and 7th, 7-6. Westvaco copped the second, third and fifth games, 13-7, 4-3 in 13 innings and 3-0.

"Woody" not only swept four straight in the final series but he fanned 10 batsmen and scored the winning run in the 8th inning of the grand finale at Memorial Park.

Performances such as those turned in by one W. E. Woodson, Jr., in 1948 are not easily forgotten.

When Bobby Goss steps through the ropes to fight Phil Christmas, Johnstown bantam, at Penn Avenue Field Thursday night in Matchmaker Green's amateur show, it will be his first appearance in a local ring since October 25, 1948. Bobby TKO'd Ray Harris of Pittsburgh in 1:06 of the third round on that date.

The long-time-no-see scrapper began fighting in 1946 and he's won 20 of 29 bouts.

One of Bobby's most prized wins was over Eddie Marsh, the good Johnstown lightweight who is now fighting pro. That was one of the few defeats on Eddie's record and was dealt by Goss October 28, 1946 at SS. Peter and Paul gym when the boys were flyweights.

Hayden Phillips pitched a five-hitter against the Park in yesterday's tilt while his mates nicked Ed Decker for nine, including two each by Hanna, McKenzie and Nelson. One of the latter's blows was a two-bagger. Jack Shaffer and Junior Hardy hit for the circuit for the Park.

Bell Figures Eight Wins Can Cop Title

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (INS)—National Football League Commissioner Bert Bell said in New York today the team that can win eight out of 12 games this season will be the NFL champion.

Citing the equality of competition and banner atendances for pre-season exhibition games, Bell also predicted that 1950 will be professional football's greatest year.

The season kicks off officially at Philadelphia Saturday night when the Philadelphia Eagles, champ of the old NFL, oppose the champion Cleveland Browns of the defunct All-American Conference, at Municipal Stadium.

Musial Leads Batting Race By Big Margin

Stan Coasting Along To Fourth Swat Title

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—With his most serious competition eliminated by an inter-league trade and an injury, Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals appears to be just coasting along into his fourth National League batting championship.

Stan Musial

Musial maintained his .359 hitting pace last week while Johnny Hopp, who had been running a weak second in the National League race, was shipped from the last-place Pittsburgh Pirates to the pennant-contending New York Yankees in the American League.

Hopp's departure gave the runner-up spot to Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson, who is out of action with a hand injury and who may not return before the end of the season, Oct. 1. Robinson's current average is .331. In third place up through Sunday's games, is Sid Gordon of the Boston Braves with .322.

In addition, Musial is approaching the magic marks of 200 hits and 100 runs. Leading the league in that department, Musial already has made 180 basehits and needs to average under one a game for the rest of the season to reach 200 for the fifth time in his major league career.

He needs to score only one more run to make it 100 or more for the seventh straight season. In scoring, he is behind Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner, with 103 and New York's Eddie Stanky, with 101, but Musial holds the lead in another department, doubles, with 41.

Kiner continues to set the home run pace with 43, ten more than Chicago's Andy Pafko, and his 110 runs batted in puts him second to Del Ennis of the Phillies, who has 115. Richie Ashburn of Philadelphia still leads in triples and Sam Jethroe of Boston is far ahead in base stealing with 32.

Other batters in the "Big Ten" include Pafko at .319; Ashburn, Duke Snider, Brooklyn; Ted Kluszewski, Cincinnati; Don Mueller, New York, and Walker Cooper, Boston, tied at .314 and Carl Furillo, Brooklyn, .311.

Sal Maglie of the New York Giants, who started as a relief specialist and worked up to a starting job, heads the pitching list with 15 games won and 3 lost. Jim Konstanty, the Phillies' reliable relief man, is second with 14-5 for .737.

Sam Snead Will Not Defend State Title

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 11 (AP) — Sammy Snead notified tournament officials formally tonight he would not defend his state open golf title here beginning Friday.

Snead was heading westward to seek new major honors while leaving the West Virginia title to a scramble among other state professionals and amateurs.

The nation's leading links money winner advised tournament director Jack Hoblitzell that he was sorry he could not play here because of "too much pressure" from a sporting goods company with which he has a contract.

Tigers Seek Title

The third game of the best-of-five series between "Sparky" Chisholm's Tigers and Bob Collins' Red Sox, for the championship of the Little Baseball League will be played today at 7:45 o'clock at Penn Avenue Field.

The Tigers won the first two games, 25-7 and 8-3 and can bag the title by winning tonight's game.

Eagles' Ace Masters Elks By 4-0 Score

Opens Title Series With 2-Hitter; DeLuca, Minnick Belt Homers

Allan Sheetz, whose specialty is whitewashing the opposition, pitched the Fraternal Order of Eagles to within one game of the championship of the County Softball League when he blanked the B. P. O. Elks by the score of 4-0 in the opener of the circuit's final best-of-three games Shaughnessy playoff series.

It was Sheetz's third straight shutout triumph in the playoffs and his 10th whitewashing job of the season. He put the Eagles in the finals by skunking the Loyal Order of Moose, 1-0 and 5-0. During the regular campaign Al blanked the Moose, Outdoor Club and Amvets each twice and the K. of C. once and posted an 11-2 record.

In yesterday's contest, Sheetz let the Elks down with two hits—Walter "Pooch" Orndorff's double in the 5th and Van Roby's single in the 7th—fanned seven and failed to issue a free ticket. The players that hit were the only Elks to get on base.

Sammy DeLuca belted a homer to give the Eagles their first tally in the opening frame. Jim Wilkinson issued three walks and these passes coupled with Walburn's error on Jim Rice's grounder netted the Eagles another marker in the second.

After Lamar Minnick belted a homer down the left field line in the 6th, Manager Jimmie Angellatta's outfit added another tally when Aman walked, raced to third on two passed balls, Weaver walked, and Aman pilfered home on a successful double steal.

"Bee" Orndorff's catch of Doyle George's long fly and Lamar Minnick's shoestring stab of a liner from "Tag" Reel's bat were the fielding highlights.

Minnick topped the hitters with a homer and single.

The second game of the series is set for 6 p. m. Wednesday at Penn Avenue Field. Box:

Louis, Charles Sign Contracts

Bomber Scales 218, Ezzard Weighs 185

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—Joe Louis and Ezzard Charles signed "the papers" today for their world heavyweight title fight Sept. 27 at Yankee Stadium.

The two fighters motored in from their respective training camps to appear before Chairman Eddie Eagan of the State Athletic Commission, apply their names to the contracts and undergo physical examinations.

Egan told them something they already knew—that the winner will be recognized as the heavyweight champion in New York State as well as the rest of the world.

This state, he explained, had held the title "in abeyance" since Louis announced his retirement 18 months ago.

The old champion looked good. The jowls he wore only a month ago had disappeared and he obviously had taken much weight off his mid-section. Although the two men were not required to weight in today, Louis was understood to be around 218 pounds to Charles' 185.

Ezzard, slender and wiry, kept a sober face through most of today's ceremony and had to be coaxed by the photographers to smile.

Cleveland Purchases Adams From Chicago

CLEVELAND, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians today purchased outfielder Herb Adams from the Chicago White Sox for the $10,000 waiver price and also bought two players from Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Adams, 22, from Oak Park, Ill., fields and bats left-handed. He hit .293 in 56 games with the White Sox during his first major league season, 1949. This season he has batted .203 in 22 games.

Second Baseman Doug Hansen and Pitcher Robert Chakales were obtained from the Tribe's farm club at Wilkes-Barre in the Class A Eastern League. They will report to the Indians' training camp at Tucson next spring.

CCC Women To Play

Bed O' Roses Cops Feature

Eric Guerin Rides Aqueduct Winner

AQUEDUCT, L. I., Sept. 11 (AP)—Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's Bed O'Roses, preparing for the Beldame Handicap to be run Saturday at Aqueduct Race Track, ran over a field of four rivals in the tangled, an allowance sprint of six furlongs, before 14,344 fans who defied an all-day rain to take in the day's sport.

Eric Guerin, the sit-still rider from the Bayou country of Louisiana, who had the mount made Bed O'Roses his third winner of the day. He had previously won with Orientation, also a Vanderbilt horse, and Queue, who races in the colors of James Cox Brady.

Bed O'Roses stepped the six furlongs in 1:12, good for the sloppy track. She scored by two lengths and a half over William Ziegler Jr.'s Leading Home. The latter was a neck to the good of P. A. Markey's Baby Comet.

Bed O'Roses was the queen of the 2-year-old fillies last year. In five starts this year, she has a record of two victories and three seconds and a total bankroll of $222,400.

Chicle 2nd Scores

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 11 (AP)—Palatine Stable's Chicle 2nd, a topnotch grass performer, found the main course to his liking this afternoon when he splashed to victory in the featured Harry Hackney Memorial Purse at Atlantic City.

The Argentine-bred, which was acquired by Frank Rosen of Philadelphia for $7,500 via the claiming ranks, galloped to an easy five lengths triumph in the mile and a sixteenth test. Frank A. Bonsal's Pilaster, a good stakes winner last year, came from last place in the field of five to garner second money of the $4,500 purse.

Pilaster was easily second best six lengths before Mrs. Samuel M. Pistorio's Golden Bull. Equinox 2nd and Stud Poker rounded out the field in that order.

Chicle 2nd with Joe Culmone registering his 44th win of the session, was favored at $5.60 and $2.80.

Mesmer Is Victor

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Sept. 11 (AP)—Honeywell Farm's Mesmer scored his third consecutive victory today by hustling to a length victory in Narragansett Park's featured Evergreen Purse.

Favorite of the 9,603 crowd Mesmer traveled the muddy mile and sixteenth course in 1:47 2-5 and paid $5.20, $3.80 and $3.20.

Fantsy Farm's Grand Entry paid $7.20 and $5.20. My Sole Mio Stable's Reich Jane was third and paid $9.40.

55,000 Tickets Sold For Pro Loop Opener

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—Asked if there was any reason for scheduling the Cleveland Browns, four year winners in the defunct All-America Conference, against the Philadelphia Eagles, twice winners in the old National Football League, as the opening game in 1950 Commissioner Bert Bell today said:

"Yes. Money."

The two teams open the NFL season at Philadelphia Saturday night. Bell said that already 55,000 tickets have been sold. Another 20,000 are expected to be sold.

Your Freedom Is At Stake!

★ THE BILL OF RIGHTS was virtually destroyed when the City Council passed the "anti-Communist" ordinance.

★ THE ORDINANCE is clearly unconstitutional.

★ YOU are the target of this ordinance.

★ IF YOU BELIEVE in the traditional American rights of free speech, press and assembly; if you fight for a decent living standard in the face of war-profiteering; if you advocate peace—you may be labelled a "Communist."

★ YOU ARE AT THE MERCY of any Cumberland McCarthy or paid informer or company stooge.

★ CUMBERLAND IS A CRITICAL AREA. The plight of its unemployed is of national concern. The ordinance is a smokescreen to conceal this and other real problems of the people.

★ SUPPRESSION OF ANY POLITICAL PARTY, including the Communist Party, is reminiscent of nazi Germany and fascist Italy where democratic government was completely destroyed.

★ THE ORDINANCE IS A SNEAK ATTEMPT to bypass widespread opposition to the Ober Law and its counterpart, the McCarran-Kilgore Bills.

★ ACT NOW! Write, phone, visit your City Councilman and the Mayor. Ask them to repeal this ordinance.

★ TUNE IN ON STATION WTBO TUESDAY EVENING SEPTEMBER 12th at 6:45 P. M. Hear Louis Shub, candidate for Governor, and Sam Fox, candidate for the U. S. Senate, on the Progressive Party ticket, speak on this ordinance.

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 11 (INS)—The old traveling show by caravan, without the medicine man, is Roy Rogers' amazing new plan. Traveling in a trailer and a chartered bus, Roy is starting a new trend in American entertainment by giving the people in 27 cities a western variety revue.

Roy Rogers

Roy, his wife, Dale Evans, his horse, Trigger, Bullet, his German shepherd dog, and an aggregation of western singers and dancers will put on two shows a day. The company leaves by train for Kansas City, opening November 27, and then completes the remainder of the tour in a luxurious trailer ending in Texas, Dale Evans' home state. She was born in Uvalde.

For the third time in little more than a year MGM has given Mario Lanza a salary boost, which tells how well they think of him. I hear the rushes of "Caruso" are sensationally good.

Both Mario and James Whitmore, MGM's two new male stars, have been doing very well separately. Now they will be teamed in "The Big Cast," an original musical comedy, for Joe Pasternak.

The picture has an amusing idea about a singer and his manager, who are devoted pals—except when they steal each other's girls. There will be six very "sexy" ladies to steal from each other.

Rosalind Russell writes that there doesn't seem to be the frantic worry in New York about the picture business that exists with certain producers here. Says Roz:

"Freddie (Brisson) worked like a demon, and the results are grand. We have complete financing for three pictures. He brought two completed scripts with him."

Another thing that happened to my friend, Miss Russell, which she didn't tell me, is an offer to do a fashion commentary on the radio. But Roz likes movies, and is too good an actress to even consider a job that would perhaps interfere with her screen career.

I returned to my desk to find "Summer Stock" bringing cheers for Judy Garland. But the rumors that she is well enough to go into "Showboat" are not true. Her doctor will not permit her to work yet, and "Showboat" gets going September 20.

Ava Gardner is Julie, Kathryn Grayson as Magnolia and Howard Keel as Ravenol, have already been announced. But the real surprise is that Joe E. Brown will play Captain Andy, the role that made Charlie Winninger famous.

What many people do not remember is that Magnolia, on the stage, is the big role. Norma Terris created it on the stage and Helen Morgan played Julie.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Jean Hagen is naming her baby Christine Patricia. The Patricia is for Pat Neal with whom she roomed at school.

The $100,000 Louis De Rochemont paid for "The Cardinal," will be doled out over a period of years. He'd like Spencer Tracy for the title role. What a fascinating story that is.

The Collier Young-Joan Fontaine romance seems to be thriving, and this, I must say, was a new one on me.

Anthony Dexter, who plays Valentino, has gone to Cleveland to meet his wife. They'll motor back in a new car. There's no truth in the rumor that they have separated.

Peter Lawford will be away from Hollywood for a long time when he goes to Australia to make "Kangaroo." From Australia he'll go to India, then to Italy, France and England. His girl friend, Sharman Douglas, has been visiting in Madrid with Elizabeth Firestone, who is scoring a picture there.

Deborah Kerr writes that her daughter, Melanie, will have to be taught English. She's picked up Italian and speaks it like a native.

Tony Martin gets the Dick Haymes radio spot.

Robert Helpman, who comes here with the Sadler's Wells ballet in October, will be the house guest of Laurence Olivier and Vivien Leigh.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

MIRROR OF YOUR MIND

By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist

Is it stupidity that makes people bores?

Answer: Not mainly. What makes someone bore you usually is his being so absorbed in himself that he makes no effort to include you in the conversation. The most brilliant person in the world becomes a bore when he talks about nothing but himself and his ideas and feelings. For, of course, to be bored means to have your own desire for self-expression thwarted. But self-centered people are apt to be stupid, anyhow, because it is by studying things and people other than ourselves that intelligence is mainly developed.

Do your actions show whether you are "normal"?

Answer: No, says Dr. Lawrence S. Kubie, noted psychoanalyst. "It is not what we do but why we do it, which in the ultimate analysis determines normality," and a person's success in adapting himself to what society expects of him is no sign that he's not doing so for neurotic reasons. Neurotics tend to be rigid and inflexible because they are governed by unconscious motives which they cannot control, while normal people can be flexible and realistic. Preventing neurosis means "extending the area of conscious motivation."

Are there people who can't stand a quiet life?

Answer: Yes. If you grew up feeling that "life is a battle," and dared to fight rather than admit you were licked, you have probably developed a degree of aggressiveness which cannot be wholly suppressed, even if you reach the point where you have nothing much to fight for. A criminal or delinquent who decides to "go straight" may find life intolerably dull—or may develop a neurosis—if he does not give his "fighting impulses" a healthy outlet by picking a job, or anyhow a hobby that involves an element of struggle.

Forcing Speeding Car Into Reverse Fatal

SELMA, Calif., Sept. 11 (AP)—A 62-year-old Ellensburg, Wash., man was killed three miles south of here today when he suddenly grabbed the gear shift of the car his wife was driving and forced it into reverse position, the State Highway Patrol reported.

Killed was Luther Harrel. His wife, Edith, 35, and son, Robert, 14, escaped serious injury.

Patrolman A. R. Miller said the 1950 model car skidded and rolled more than 500 feet before it came to rest upside down.

Miller said neither the wife nor son could explain Harrel's act.

Railroad Tragedy In Ohio Sobers Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Sept. 11 (AP)—A wartime tragedy—without a shot fired — sobered this Eastern Pennsylvania anthracite city today.

A week of mourning was proclaimed officially by Mayor Luther W. Kniffen.

Everywhere the people had only one topic of conversation, the Ohio train wreck where nearly 100 men from this area were killed or injured. The casualty list here seemed certain to be longer than from a World War Two battle.

Only yesterday, families and friends had gathered at railroad stations to say goodbye to the boys going off, again, to war. The citizen-soldiers of the 28th Division, Pennsylvania National Guard, were on active duty in the Korean emergency.

First word of the tragic wreck came today as the city and surrounding communities, many of them coal mining centers, started another business day. Almost instantly radio and newspaper telephones were flooded with calls from anxious relatives.

For long hours there was no information for the callers. Then news accounts and a steady stream of phone calls from Ohio began bringing the first reports. The Army delayed any public announcement until next of kin of the victims were notified.

People who talked by phone with their guardsmen in Ohio said they were told the boys were standing in long lines waiting to get calls through over the few circuits available.

10-Story Fall Just Breeze To Youngster

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—Four-year-oldKaren Weiler skipped down a hospital corridor to meet her mother today—nine days after she fell out of a ten-story window.

After the little girl plunged through a narrow entilating window in the Stuyvesant Town development and landed on a grassy plot, she was found to have no broken or serious nerve injuries but was kept at the hospital for observation.

Radio And Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Sixteenth Century Lunacy On Twentieth Century Kinescope

If you've never heard Ralph Edwards' "Truth Or Consequences," which seems inconceivable, you must at least have heard heard some nasty rumors about the granddaddy of giveaway shows, all of them true. The latest and nastiest rumar of all is that "Truth Or Consequences" has taken to television. I'm afraid the latest rumor is true, too. I got witnesses.

John Crosby

In girding his loins for this latest assault on my sinsibilities, Mr. Edwards declared: "From the time the show first went on the air over ten years ago, we knew we had a number one television show, but we also knew that it could not be simulcast. On the air for ten years we have aimed our stunts at a listening audience and thrown out stunt after stunt because it was too visual. These stunts are filed against the day of television."

• — • — •

Altogether, that's an extraordinary statement designed to show what an astute student of show business Mr. Edwards is, and the fact that there isn't a great deal of truth in the statement could only be cavilled at by people who go around cavilling at everything. Me, for instance. Mr. Edwards' device for aiming a stunt at a listening, as opposed to a visual, audience consisted generally of dunking some innocent into a tank of water (splash) throwing a pie in his face (squish) or making him kiss a cow under the illusion that it is a pretty girl (moo). As any fool can readily see, these are primarily auditory stunts, not conducive to a visual or television audience.

Well, I was right there, pencil in hand, to see how well Mr. Edwards had converted himself to visibility. On his first TV show a blindfolded man was persuaded to kiss a cow under the illusion that it was a pretty girl. No, no pies in the face yet. But then this is only the first show.

The main stunt of the evening consisted of dressing a lot of outlandish contestants in outlandish costumes and perpetrating them on an audience full of dance lovers in another auditorium as a serious dance group. This must have been one of the stunts that Edwards had lying around in his files waiting for television. Probably waiting since 1942, when Edwards pulled a similar stunt on a bunch of music lovers at Town Hall in New York, introducing a housewife from New Jersey who had never touched a violin as the "distinguished European concert violinist, "Yifnuff."

She scraped away at the violin while the Town Hall audience stared incredulously. Essentially, the same thing happened on the TV show. A collection of paunchy middle-aged men and women, who looked as if they had been swept out of a convention in Los Angeles, were dressed in ballet skirts, doublet and hose, and feathers and they inflicted what Mr. Edwards' referred to as "The Dance Of The Delirious Deer" on an audience of astonished dance lovers who were at first astonished and then embarrassed. Of course, a ballet is a little more visual than a violin, but otherwise it was the same eight-year-old stunt.

I'm afraid I can't agree that "Truth Or Consequences" is a natural for television. The radio version, which is still on the air, was the ultimate in silliness, but, at least, it was decently veiled. Its television counterpart is a monstrosity of vulgarity. It reminded me strongly of Bedlam, the first English lunatic asylum, whose inmates provided amusement to throngs of spectators.

The shrieks of laughter from the studio audience were enough to drive the children from the room, gibbering with fright. My children, of course, are well inured to bloodshed in all its most devilish forms. They're not yet accustomed to lunacy. The quality of this laughter—if that's the word for it—is quite different from that at even the dizziest comedy show. You'll find traces in it of embarrassment, of sadism and of drooling idocy. It's a frightening noise, and to be sure you can see it as well as hear it, the cameras are frequently turned on the audience while they are in labor.

The visible Mr. Edwards is a popeyed gentleman with a wolfish grin who acts and even looks a little like a maniacal Bob Hope. The participants are indescribable except to someone with the gifts and the space of Charles Dickens. Their appearances are not helped much by the fact that this horrible operation is on kinescope, which is murky enough to malign them and not quite dark enough to obscure them entirely.

Yesterday's Answer

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Auto And Radio-TV Issues Lead Stock Market Decline

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—Automobile and radio-television issues were singled out by selling forces in a generally lower market today.

Losses generally ranged to around $2 a share but most were under $1.

Two flurries of activity, one at the opening and other in late trading, helped to boost sales. Turnover of 1,860,000 shares compared with 1,960,000 Friday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped .3 of one point to 79.2. The industrial group was almost entirely responsible for the setback. Rails were unchanged and utilities up a trifle on average.

The market was the broadest in around three weeks with 1,52 individual issues changing hands. Of these 613 declined and 319 advanced.

New highs for 1950 were touched during the day by around 60 stocks while only two hit bottom for the year.

Canadian Pacific, most active stock, finished ⅛ ahead at 18¾. Gains were also posted for N. Y. Central at 14⅝, Baltimore & Ohio 12⅞, Pennsylvania R. R. 18¾, and Santa Fe 127 (up 2).

On the losing side were Southern Railway, Chesapeake & Ohio, Union Pacific and Nickel Plate.

General Motors, Chrysler and Studebaker each lost around a point at the worst but ended with fractional declines, GM at 90⅛, Chrysler 68¾ and Studebaker 30⅝.

Lower prices were paid for U. S. Steel, Sinclair Oil, Bethlehem Steel, Goodrich, General Bronze, Kennecott Copper, Dow Chemical, Eastman Kodak, American Woolen, and U. S. Gypsum.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

"The Authority on Authorities"

TWO PRINCIPLES JOINED

WITH many a crucial decision regarding a bid or play, you find two principles joined and working together, each recommending the same action. One of these is that, after you have done otherwise than support your partner's suit bid on your first chance to do so, your ensuing shift to it, or raise of it, does not guarantee him more than three cards of the suit. Another is that, after either partner has made any bid which guarantees strength for the side to reach a game, some less-than-game bid which gives information is nearly always sounder than any call of game, which might prevent the pair from reaching the best contract.

In the first sequence above, you find the sad bidding done on this big hand by a group in Milwaukee, Wis., which included Algat S. Lindberg, who sat in the East and reported it. He is completely right in his contention that West, over the 3-Hearts, should have bid 3-Spades—for two reasons. First, it was terrifically informative, showing the second round three-card fit. Second, it was less than game and insisted that the force continue at least once more or until there was a game contract. The bidding then should have proceeded as in the second sequence above, to a spade grand slam, via Blackwood to show West's two aces.

When East took out the 3-No Trumps to 4-Spades, it was the higher-ranking of the two bid majors, taking full responsibility for a five contract. After that, if West was sick he should have bid 5-Spades, or if well 6-Spades.

But East also erred. Over the 3-No Trumps, most good players would have been ready to slam without knowing of a fit and would have bid as in the third sequence, bulling into grand slam if they felt extra strong, otherwise small slam, which West would put into spades.

Meeting Fails To Break Garrett School Deadlock

Official Action May Be Taken

A meeting between the Garrett County Board of Education and a committee representing parents of Kitzmiller area students yesterday failed to break a deadlock which led to a strike at Kitzmiller School last Wednesday.

The conference, held at the Board of Education office in Oakland, was attended by a six-man Kitzmiller area committee including Dr. Ralph Calendrella, Carl Schell, Earl Shank, Charles McIntyre, Frank Daymon and Kenneth Bray.

Representing the Board of Education were its three members, Walter W. Dawson, president, Stuart F. Hamill, Oakland, and C. O. Bender, Grantsville; Asa T. Matthews, attorney, and R. Bowen Hardesty, superintendent of schools.

May Take Legal Steps

Officials of the school board promised full cooperation in meeting the problems of the Kitzmiller area but declined to grant the request for dropping plans for school consolidation. They also declared that if the condition did not clear up soon, they would take such action as was prescribed by law.

Dawson reported the board assured the committee it would do all in its power for Kitzmiller in the way of instruction and pointed out it had already made certain improvements, including an additional teacher and additional classrooms to take care of crowded conditions there.

He said the Kitzmiller committee appeared to be interested in nothing but a guarantee that would retain the high school there as set out in its petition.

Dawson reported the board advised the committee the disputed building program had been set up according to law, that the law had been tested and affirmed by the court and that the school board had been eliminated from responsibility for the building program by the act of 1947.

Impossible To Meet Demand

He said the board assured the committee everything possible will be done to make things pleasant and that every facility will be furnished to carry on a good program at Kitzmiller but that it was impossible to give the committee what it asked.

If the situation does not clear up, Dawson reported, the board will have to take the regular course prescribed by law.

An informed source said Chapter 21 of the school laws says: "Any person who induces or attempts to induce any child to absent himself unlawfully from school . . . . shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not more than $50."

Only 23 of the some 300 students who were slated to enroll at the Kitzmiller school reported for classes yesterday.

The committee has asked a guarantee that the school consolidation program for Garrett County will be cancelled as far as Kitzmiller is concerned and the present school enlarged.

Carl Schell, a member of the committee, said no decision was made at the meeting which he described as an amicable one.

Dr. Calendrella, reached early this morning, said "the strike will continue."

He termed the meeting with the school board "a waste of time" and said the school officials evaded the issue and that the committee "walked out" of the conference.

Bids opened last night were asked on rolled roofing. Mrs. Roeder previously announced that bids on built-up roofing will be accepted until noon next Monday, September 18. Action will be deferred until all bids are received.

The city received one bid of $500 last night from Margaret D. Cupler, acting for John A. Cupler, II of the National Jet Company, for the purchase and removal of a two-story brick building at 206 Riverview Place.

The building, known as the West Side Garage, was formerly owned by Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. McFerran.

Also opened last night were two bids for purchase and removal of a brick duplex dwelling at 113-115 Valley Street, formerly owned by Paul Williams.

George Ruhl, Sr., 544 North Mechanic Street, submitted a bid of $1,000 while Thomas Rennie, 527 North Centre Street, offered $200.

Bids Referred

The Cupler bid was referred to City Attorney W. Earle Cobey and Albert S. Paye, flood control liaison engineer, with power to act.

Bids on the Valley Street property were referred to Paye and Cobey for tabulation and report.

The council decided to sponsor a "stake class" in the Cumberland Horse Show, which is sponsored by the Cumberland Lions Club for the benefit of handicapped children.

Also ordered was a salary increase for Mrs. Helen M. Becker, secretary in the City Recreation Department, from $150 to $183.50 monthly, retroactive to July 1. Mayor Thomas S. Post cast the only dissenting vote.

Brant Is Called To Navy Duty

Curtis E. Brant, 817 Shriver Avenue, left recently for active duty in the Navy. He reported to Anacostia, near Washington, D. C., for assignment.

Brant is an employe of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company. His wife is assistant secretary in the office of the Associated Charities.

Road Specialist To Confer Here On Area Project

The State Roads Commission is sending its legal specialist to Cumberland — probably today — in an effort to speed up rights-of-way procedure for the Vale Summit Road improvement project.

The specialist, Joseph D. Buscher, special assistant to the Attorney General and administrative head of the roads commission's right-of-way division, visited Washington County yesterday.

Buscher is expected to arrive here today to confer with the Cumberland Contracting Company about the 2.2 miles widening, curve modification and resurfacing project running from Route 40 to Vale Summit.

The local firm was awarded a $571,775 contract last month for the Vale Summit job, but the roads commission has not been able to order it to proceed with the work because of rights-of-way troubles.

So far, the commission has obtained title to only 19 strips of property for the widening project with 22 more still needed.

In all, Buscher is aiming at working out problems now holding up four highway projects in Washington and Allegany counties. A commission spokesman said rights-of-way titles are the only thing holding up many of the projects.

Yesterday Buscher stopped in Hagerstown to see E. Stuart Bushong, Hagerstown attorney who will be the commission's legal representative in lining up the land for the highway improvements.

Aircraft Observers Named At Oldtown

Ross Shaw has been appointed chief aircraft observer in the Oldtown area by William Barger, chairman of the county's civilian defense program.

Shaw has selected George E. Deffinbaugh to assist him in instructing volunteer observers. Classes will get underway soon.

Water Shortage Hampers LaVale School Schedule

Classes Dismissed As Supply Fails

LaVale Elementary School, seriously hampered by a water shortage, faces the possibility of a "no classes today but come back tomorrow" schedule unless a solution to the problem is found quickly.

Dr. Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of schools, ordered the 335 students dismissed at 1 p. m. yesterday, when Principal Nellie R. Powell advised him "there isn't enough water for sanitary conditions."

"The school simply cannot operate without water," Dr. Kopp said later in the day. He added, "It's a critical situation."

The LaVale School, comprised of grades one to six, relies on the LaVale Water Company for its supply, but D. Clifford Goodfellow, secretary-treasurer, said last night "there's no telling when operations will be back to normal."

Last year during a similar situation Dr. Kopp said the school was able to secure water from a tower operated by the Buchanan Lumber Company, but a new agreement could not be worked out.

The school resumed fall classes last Thursday but operated only on a half day schedule then and Friday in accordance with the county school schedule. There was a limited supply at the time, teachers said.

Yesterday morning, according to Miss Powell, it was necessary to cart water from other areas for the cafeteria. Toilet facilities and drinking fountains were dry.

On the advice of Dr. Kopp, the students were dismissed at 1 p. m. after the cafeteria lunch was served, but they were advised to return today at 9 a. m. "to resume classes if water conditions permitted."

Last night, however, Goodfellow said the possibility of the school having water today is very remote, for he intends to turn off ducts leading to lower LaVale, where the school is located, in order to supply residents of the upper LaVale area.

Goodfellow explained that the current shortage is the result of an extremely dry summer. He said most of the LaVale area depends on the company for water.

For that reason it is necessary during periods of low supply to shut off the water in one area so that the other can be provided for. This is done on an alternating basis with the upper area scheduled to have water today.

Informed of the Goodfellow statement last night, Miss Powell said she expects to try and operate school for a half day and then dismiss the students again at 1 p. m.

Such a schedule would prove satisfactory only on a temporary basis, she explained, with the more serious threat always looming of no school at all because of the water shortage.

Goodfellow said he could see no immediate solution to the problem since it depends on a refill of the reservoir. "Once we get the supply back to normal," Goodfellow said, "it will likely hold for the winter months."

Dr. Kopp said a study of the situation is being made but a solution is not in sight.

Long Suggests Use Of Police Clerks Here

Recommends Civil Service Tests

Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long last night recommended to the Mayor and Council that police clerks be assigned to replace the present desk sergeants on all three platoons.

Long also recommended:

1. That the Mayor and Council abolish all present sergeants' positions.

2. That the Civil Service Commission be asked to hold an examination for Police Department members who wish to qualify for the position of police clerk.

3. That police clerks "co-ordinate toward the establishment of a departmental central records section."

4. That salary of police clerks be $2,820 yearly, or $235 per month.

In a statement to the council, Long also declared:

"Several weeks ago, Sgt. (John E.) Sherry personally requested that he be returned to the daylight platoon at rank of patrolman and this request was granted.

"In an attempt to fill his second platoon desk sergeant's position, we had a meeting with the four existing sergeants, namely, Messrs. (Curtis) Kime, (C. C.) Roby, (John H.) Newhouse and (Frank A.) Shober and asked them to work out satisfactorily among themselves as to who would replace Sgt. Sherry.

"All four sergeants refused the assignment. It was therefore necessary to train a probationary officer for this assignment, which was a temporary gesture."

Long cited the "extreme importance of this position to the public and the Police Department."

Pay of desk sergeants at present is $225 monthly.

The council voted to refer the matter back to Long for further discussion of salary provisions with the men.

Pair Admit Bond Theft

Two youths charged with the theft of $2,925 worth of Series "E" government bonds from a car parked at Big Savage Mountain Inn August 31 yesterday waived preliminary hearings and were held for grand jury action.

Trooper Glen Kolk said the pair, Quinten Murphy, 20, Washington, and Lloyd Hopkins, 19, Los Angeles, admitted the theft after they were returned to Garrett County from New Jersey.

The two men signed statements admitting that they looted the cars of Mrs. Irene G. Lillie, Silver Spring, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barnhart, Pittsburgh. The bonds were taken from the Lillie car.

Police said all of the bonds as well as clothing taken from the Barnhart car were recovered and will be returned to the owners. Charges against the pair will be presented to the Garrett County Grand Jury which is now in session.

Draft Calls Hit City Police Force

A fair-size percentage of Cumberland's policemen may soon be changing the color of their uniform from dark blue to olive green or khaki, Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn said yesterday.

Already two members of the force have been called to serve with the United States Army, Flynn said, and two more have passed physical examinations and are expecting active duty assignment shortly.

Flynn listed the two already called as Kenneth Morrissey and Robert Hammond. Ralph Busser and Leo Law have passed physicals and are awaiting calls. All four are members of the reserve corps.

After a quick check of the officer roster, Flynn said there are at least 12 more members of the department likely to be called in the near future.

All of the 12, Flynn said, apparently meet the present draft law requirements. Some he said are also members of reserve units.

West Side Residents Call Smoke Meeting

A meeting of West Side citizens interested in smoke and dirt elimination will be held tonight at 7:45 o'clock in the West Side School Building, Paca Street.

Residents of the area already have held meetings in private homes, and have mapped out tentative plans toward faster elimination of smoke, fly ash and dirt from the city, particularly the West Side areas.

The meeting tonight is open to all residents of that area interested in the subject, sponsors say.

Among the committee members working on the program are James Alfred Avirett, Joseph J. Reinhart, Jr., F. Allan Weatherholt, and a number of others.

Births Announced

Memorial Hospital announced the following births yesterday:

Mr. and Mrs. William Hymes, 214 Central Avenue, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lazarus, Jr., 310 Washington Street, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Barzensky, 186½ North Centre Street, a daughter.

Use Of Cresap Street Cited In Proposal

Planning Group To Recommend Suggestion

An alternate route to allow traffic to avoid the sharp curve at Thomas Street and Oldtown Road was approved yesterday at a meeting of the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission.

Use of Cresap Street, a 40-foot wide two-way street, from the intersection of Virginia and Maryland Avenues to Thomas Street was suggested.

The recommendation was made by the office of City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer after a survey was made at the request of the Commission.

Chairman James Alfred Avirett pointed out that the alternate route has no bad grades and is much wider than Oldtown Road, which is 14 feet wide.

Narrowest point on Cresap Street is 35 feet, Avirett said.

In addition, the street enters Thomas Street at an open point where the view is unobstructed, Avirett said.

The Engineering Department pointed out that the alternate would solve the problem of avoiding the hazardous curve and would not involve costly property acquisition.

Avirett said the proposal will be recommended to the Mayor and Council. He suggested that Street Commissioner Lucile W. Roeder be asked to study the matter relative to possible improvements to Cresap Street, which has already been oiled.

William H. Marean of the City Engineering Department prepared surveys in connection with the proposal.

Also recommended yesterday by the department was continuation of the present one-way traffic setup on Wineow Street, which was started in connection with the flood control project.

Under the proposal, Wineow would be a one-way for southbound traffic while northbound vehicles would use Orchard Street.

This would eliminate the hazardous curve at the A. and P. Supermarket, Avirett explained.

Optimist Club Plans Fourth Anniversary

The Cumberland Optimist Club will observe its fourth anniversary with a banquet at Ali Ghan Shrine Club Saturday, September 30, according to Harold E. Naughton, president.

C. Lease Buzzard, Frederick, governor of the 16th Optimist District, will be a guest speaker and Optimists from Hagerstown, Frederick and a number of other district clubs are expected.

The local club was organized here September 27, 1946, and has carried on an active program of civic endeavor, especially in the field of boys' work. The club sponsors the Junior Optimists and the Opti-Mrs., both of which have large active memberships, Naughton noted.

Among some of the activities sponsored here by the club in the past four years are co-sponsorship of a large air show; co-sponsorship of a soap box derby; and sponsorship of a mammoth fireworks display last July 4 at Fairgo. The club plans to make this event an annual local attraction.

Byron Kight is chairman of the anniversary party committee and is assisted by Wayne George, Howard Douglas and Norman Ward. Kight and George are past presidents of the club. Kight said last night a program of entertainment is being arranged for the affair and will be announced later.

Boy, 14, Missing

Richard Gilpin, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gilpin, 100 East First Street, was reported missing last night and his parents told police he has not been seen since he left for school at 9 a. m.

The boy was described as tall for his age, dark brown hair and wearing brown pants and light shirt.

Auxiliary To Meet

American Legion Auxiliary Unit 209, Cresaptown, will meet Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Rose Fulkner, McMullen Highway.

Bird Club Will Hear Noted Ornithologist

A meeting of adult members of the Allegany County Bird Club is scheduled Friday evening at 8 o'clock at City Hall auditorium.

Chandler S. Robbins, noted ornithologist at the Patuxent Research Refuge, Laurel, Md., will be guest speaker.

His topic will be "Economic Value of Hawks, Migration Habits and Identification."

An open forum will be held after the lecture to provide a question and answer period.

Junior members of the Bird Club are invited, as well as all other interested persons.

Resolution To Acquire Flood Land Approved

Speedmeter Bids Will Be Asked

By a 4 to 1 vote, the Mayor and Council last night adopted a resolution authorizing federal condemnation proceedings on behalf of the city to obtain two properties needed in flood control work.

The resolution is the second of its kind passed in recent weeks.

Water Commissioner George H. Tederick voted against the resolution as well as the accompanying order authorizing City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson to issue a check for $11,700 to the government to cover costs.

Involved are the J. Alfred Reid property between Beall and Paca Streets, and property on the west side of Riverview Place owned by Irvin M. and Mabel W. Zimmerman.

City Attorney W. Earle Cobey explained that negotiations are continuing with the Zimmermans and that a settlement may be reached without resorting to condemnation proceedings.

The $11,700 figure includes not only appraised value but 20 per cent leeway for deficiency in any award given in condemnation proceedings, plus 10 per cent for acquisition costs.

To Ask Bids

Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long was authorized to ask bids for an electra-matic speedmeter, designed to curb speeding on city streets.

Council approved a request from Francis A. Kenney, chairman of the Allegany County Industrial Promotion Committee, for payment of $750 as the city's share in the $1,500 monthly payment due Richardson Wood, New York consultant, for his economic development services here.

A committee will be named to plan suitable observance of United Nations Day here on October 24, at the request of Gov. William Preston Lane, Jr.

The council voted to take a $100 full-page ad in the anniversary program of the Police and Fire Welfare Association. That amount is the same as last year.

Refered to Finance Commissioner William H. Buchholtz was an offer of $225 by Carl A. Robison, 26 Oak Street, for two city-owned lots at 200-201 Yale Street.

An invitation from the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin to attend its ninth annual meeting at Oakland September 22 and 23 was accepted.

Renews Request

A renewed request from George W. Keller, 208 Park Street, for a traffic light at Park and Harrison Streets was referred to Long with power to act.

Referred to Street Commissioner Lucile W. Roeder with power to act was a letter from Walter W. Seel, 721 Montgomery Avenue, stating that trees in front of his property are damaging the pavement and curb.

Richard Porter, 34 Greene Street, asked if the city plans to widen the extension of Frederick Street. Mrs. Roeder informed him that State Roads Commission specifications must be followed, and Buchholtz commented that the street is 34 feet wide.

In answer to a question by Mrs. Porter Boyer, 452 Waverly Terrace, Mrs. Roeder said that street improvements are planned in that area.

Water consumption was reported to be over 2,000,000 gallons higher during last week than in the same period in 1949, with 87,900,000 gallons consumed as against 85,670,000. Water in Lake Gordon is one foot below the crest and in Lake Koon it is 9 feet five inches below.

Filed was a letter from Cumberland Lodge No. 63, B. P. O. Elks, thanking the city for its co-operation during their August convention.

Fire Utility Work Policy Need Is Cited

Long Reports On Union Protest

Some policy must be decided upon in the matter of retaining disabled firemen in the Fire Department at full pay to do utility work, Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long said last night.

Long made that statement in a report to the Mayor and Council following a protest last week from Painters Union Local No. 947, AFL.

The union protested the use of two Fire Department maintenance men to paint engine houses. The practice takes employment from another experienced worker, the union said, adding that the work is a city project and should be put out on bids to contractors.

Cites Two Cases

Long said that two certified firemen, Walter Jenkins and Edgar L. Bucy, are unable to assume responsibilities of a fireman because of physical disability.

In a policy set by a previous administration, Long said, Jenkins was permitted to remain in the department at full pay, $220 monthly, doing utility work.

Bucy was later assigned to utility work after being injured, so that he could return to work, Long said.

"The majority of outside painting and maintenance work is done in the summer months," Long said in his report to the council.

"It is sound business for the taxpayer to keep our buildings and equipment in first class condition, and for the same reason we were attempting to utilize Mr. Jenkins' and Mr. Bucy's services, not only to rehabilitate them but to get the most for the taxpayer's dollar."

If all Police and Fire maintenance work is placed on contract bids, Long said, "we will not be able to keep Mr. Jenkins and Mr. Bucy occupied on the job. This is necessary to keep up the morale of our other firemen."

The other alternative, Long said, would be to have a State Accident compensation ruling on percentage of both disabilities, pay the men the amount set, and retire them on pension.

The council decided to study the matter further and no action was taken.

Request Rejected

Rejected because of the possibility of setting "a bad precedent" was the request of Fireman George D. Hoblitzell for a year's leave to accept employment as a B. and O. machinist. Hoblitzell cited need of machinists for the war effort.

Karl W. Frankfort was ordered placed on the Police Department force to replace Kenneth Morrissey, who obtained leave to enter the service.

In anothr service replacement, William R. Keating was ordered named to the Police Department as a probationary member, replacing Robert Hammann.

Donald L. Dreyer and Warren G. Brehm were confirmed as regular members of the Police Department.

In its monthly report, the Health Department said 31 clinics were held in August, while 357 nursing visits were made. Three polio cases were among the 14 communicable disease cases listed.

The department also handled 498 age verifications for Little League baseball players.

Church Will Show Movie Tonight

A new motion picture, "Second Chance," will be shown at Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church, 405-7 North Mechanic Street, tonight. The service will begin at 8 p. m.

"Second Chance" is a 75-minute, black and white sound film produced by the Protestant Film Commission for the Evangelical and Reformed Church, the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America and the Congregational Christian Churches.

The film provides an analysis of and a solution for the spiritual apathy that characterizes many Christians in America. It portrays the slow, gradual deterioration that sets in as the principals become preoccupied with the details of living and "getting ahead."

Many religious leaders consider this the best church film yet produced.

The public is invited, along with members of the congregation, to attend this service.

GOP Rally Planned At Zihlman Friday

A Republican rally will be held in the Zihlman Community Center Friday at 8 p. m.

All party candidates and the general public are invited to attend and State Senator Robert B. Kimble, unopposed for re-election, will be the principal speaker.

Famous Roadsters Entered In Fourth Annual Horse Show

Three new entries in the fourth annual horse show to be held at Fairgo Saturday and Sunday were announced yesterday by William R. Carscaden, show secretary for the Cumberland Lions Club, sponsors.

These entries, all coming as surprises, Carscaden said, include champion horses and some of the most valuable animals of their class. All three are roadsters.

Among them is "Midnight Amber Angel" owned by A. R. DeBurgh, of Seattle, Wash. The horse has been shown at several eastern shows this season and was trained by J. Marlin Burkholder, of Marlburk Farms, Chambersburg, Pa.

"The Country Doctor," champion roadster at the famous Harrisburg, Pa., show, also from the Marlburk Farms, also will be shown.

"The Black Widow," a three-year-old roadster, is also to be shown here, Carscaden said. Burkholder, famed as a horse trainer, told Carscaden that this particular horse should develop into an outstanding roadster of its day.

The roadster class has always been a popular class with patrons of local horse shows and Carscaden said the Lions Club is pleased that these three animals are to be added to the list of entries.

The horses of this class are typical of America, representing the nation's driving horse. The animal is standard bred and is often a race horse. Manners in the class are quite essential and the horse to be a top roadster must have good conformation, finish and must show extreme speed in harness to a two or four-wheeled vehicle.

Carscaden said two shows are scheduled for Saturday and one for Sunday. Box seats and general admission tickets are available from all Lions and at the Cumberland Music Shop and National Shirt Shop.

Drum Corps To Attend Playground Fete

Henry Hart Post No. 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars Drum and Bugle Corps, will participate tonight in a program at Thomas S. Post Playground, South Cumberland. The corps will asemble at the post home at 7 p. m. and the program starts of 7:30.

The drum corps also accepted an invitation last night to appear in the annual Halloween Parade here October 31.

News In Brief

The General Committee of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America (CIO), will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. at the union hall.

New Homes To Total $25,500

Home building apparently is on the upswing here, as three permits were granted yesterday in the city engineer's office for new residences estimated to total $25,500.

That amount is the largest single day's permit total for new homes in recent months.

Joseph W. and Della B. Pratt, 418 Broadway, obtained a permit to build a $10,000 home at 513 Greenway Avenue. The two-story structure will be built of brick. Clyde Slider is the contractor.

A permit was issued to Merle Barnes, 508 Fectig Avenue, to build a one-story brick house on Lots 230, 229 and half of Lot 228, Frederick Street. Cost is estimated at $9,000 and work will be done by Quentin L. Griffey.

Mrs. J. F. Zimmerman, 520 Holland Street, obtained a permit to build a one and one-half story residence at 518 Holland Street. The brick structure is estimated to cost $6,500 and work will be done by Carl W. Abe, Fort Ashby, W. Va.

Four-Day Cooking School To Open Here This Morning

Final plans were completed last night for the four-day "Magic Meals Cooking School" which will open today at 9:15 a. m. at the Strand Theater. Doors of the theater will open at 8:30 a. m.

The school, presented as a public service by the Times-News papers, will feature up-to-the-minute ideas in meal planning.

Miss Edalene Stohr, nationally known home economist of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, will be in charge of the school. She will be assisted by Miss Nancy Carter.

The opening sessions of the school will be centered on "budget favorites," dollar savings recipes for foods such as pork shoulder roast, drumsticks, vegetable soup and smoked tongue.

A "Magic Meals" recipe book will be available without charge for all who attend the sessions.

Homemakers of the area are urged to attend each session since a different program will be presented each day.

The Weather

Unless you looked at the calendar, you would have thought that yesterday was a midsummer day. The temperature climbed to 82 degrees and those who wore heavier clothing to work were regretting it by noon. The overnight reading was 67. Today will be somewhat cloudy with a few scattered showers in the afternoon, as well as rather warm and somewhat humid.
